ACTIONS IN THE PUBLIC-PRIVATE SPHERE: PARTNER AND INNOVATE

The Commission believes that all stakeholders need to make concerted efforts in finance, skills and public-private partnerships for the delivery of basic services.

Facilitate access to broader financing options. We envision continuing development of domestic financial markets coupled with skill-building for regulators and private financial institutions.

Assist skill and knowledge development. Skill-building activities could range from programs for top public and private leadership to training microentrepreneurs to joint efforts with public authorities and unions to improve workforce skills.

Make possible sustainable delivery of basic services, particularly energy and water. The Commission sees the need to develop innovative models for partnerships of governmental service providers, multinational companies and local companies.

ACTIONS IN THE PRIVATE SPHERE: MOBILIZE CAPABILITIES AND RESOURCES

The Commission believes that the private sector, particularly large local companies and multinational corporations, must realize that it can contribute to accelerated economic development and to poverty alleviation.

For the private sector Channel private initiative into development efforts. We believe that the private sector has tremendous potential to contribute to development through its knowledge, expertise, resources and relationships.

Develop linkages with multinational and large domestic companies to nurture smaller companies. Linkages between different types of firms in developing countries provide an effective channel for local companies to gain access to markets, financing, skills and know-how.

Pursue business opportunities in bottom-of-pyramid markets. Recognizing the needs of bottom-of-the-pyramid markets (the 4 billion people who are earning less than $1,500 a year) and creating innovative solutions to meet these needs are other vital actions required from the private sector, both domestic and international.

Set standards. The private sector needs to make a genuine commitment to sustainable development—with a sharp focus on corporate governance and transparency.

For civil society and labour organizations

The Commission believes that civil society and labour organizations have to continue as critical observers of the development agenda—and as facilitators and supporters of innovative approaches for meeting the Millennium Development Goals and improving the quality of life for poor people.

Increase accountability in the system. This is a core part of the work of civil society organizations, as is their leadership in pushing forward the concept of sustainable development. This work should be strengthened.

Develop new partnerships and relationships to achieve common objectives. Civil society organizations are closest to the base of the pyramid. They also are often proxies for experimenting with new technologies for solving problems.

LOOKING FORWARD

To promote progress, the Commission recommends that the United Nations sponsor the tracking of private sector development. An annual progress report would maintain the prominence of the Commission's overall recommendations and ensure the commitment to addressing the many issues identified here.

The Commission is assembling a first set of actionable initiatives to facilitate transformations in individual countries and to provide the tools for governments and the private sector to supplement available resources and begin rapidly implementing a programme of change. These first actions are intended to stimulate a collaborative response from potential partners who read this report. Our message to all of you is: join us.
