That is why we do not want the committee to sit while the house is sitting and this, all the more so, because a most important supply motion is coming up today, which was not expected two or three days ago. We therefore object to committee sittings for the next two days, during the regular sittings of the house.

[English]

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. Unfortunately the hon. member for Hochelaga cannot speak now without the unanimous consent of the house, because this is not a substantive motion. Therefore he does not have the right of reply, nor does he have the right to close the debate on the motion. The only thing I can do now is to put the motion to the house.

Mr. Knowles: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. In view of the fact that the hon. member for Hochelaga did not avail himself of the opportunity to speak when he moved the motion, I wonder if the house would not let him make his speech now.

Mr. Speaker: Is it agreed?

Some hon. Members: Agreed.

[Translation]

Mr. Pelletier: Mr. Speaker, a brief remark to say that, unlike what was just advanced by the hon. member who spoke before me, it has always been implicit in the proceedings of the committee that it did not seek to settle any particular dispute, namely that submitted to mediation as a result of the good offices of the government, but rather to explore the much larger and much more important situation of which this particular dispute was only symptomatic.

[English]

Mr. Speaker: Is the house ready for the question? Is it the wish of the house to adopt the said motion?

Some hon. Members: Carried.

Some hon. Members: No.

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. All those in favour of the motion will please say yea.

Some hon. Members: Yea.

Mr. Speaker: All those opposed will please say nay.

Some hon. Members: Nay.

Mr. Speaker: In my opinion the yeas have it.

And more than five members having risen:

Mr. Speaker: Call in the members.

• (3:00 p.m.)

The house divided on the motion (Mr. Pelletier) which was agreed to on the following division:
