

the faculties to know something of the way in which the work of the Bureau is looked upon by some of the graduates with whom we have been in communication, we attach extracts from some letters which have been received recently. We think the general opinion is that the operation of the Bureau has been of service to the graduates.

A. H. Duwellau

Secretary.