

L.

- LAC DES MILLE LACS described, 118.
 Lake of the Woods described, green colour of the water caused by a profusion of conferva, 162.
 Land reserved to extinguish the claims of the half-breeds, an impediment to emigration, 211; Appendix C., 256.
 Land Tenure at Red River, 4, 5; jealousy of the Chippewa Indians of their rights, 146.
 "Land Transport Service," its organization, difficulty of the work, 27; Mr. Dawson's road from Thunder Bay to Shebandowan, 48, 51, 71; horses and harness, 60, 90; inefficiency of drivers, 65.
 Lépine, "adjutant-general" to the insurgents, condemns Scott to death, 17; his flight on the arrival of the expedition, 200.
 Lestane, Father, his complicity with the insurrection, 214.
 Lindsay, Lieut.-Gen. the Hon. James, Commander-in-Chief in Canada, organizes the expedition, 23; his arrangements for transport across Lakes Huron and Superior, 30; visits Prince Arthur's Landing, inspects Mr. Dawson's road, descends the Kaministiquia river, 85; order of the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief on the success of the expedition, 205.
 Locusts (see Grasshoppers).

M.

- MACDONALD, Sir John A., the Canadian Premier, 35, 36.
 McDougall, Hon. Wm., appointed Lieut.-Governor of the N.W. Territories, sent to Fort Garry, 3; his entry opposed by French settlers, 5, 6; ordered to leave, and forcibly expelled, 7; takes formal possession of the territory, his proclamations, 8; returns to Canada, 12.
 McKenzie, Mr., the officer of the Hudson's Bay Company at Fort Frances, 138; his assistance to the expedition, 140.
 McLean, Archdeacon, his mediation with the insurgents, 17, 234.
 McNeill, Lieut.-Col., military secretary, serves with the expedition, 60; his inspection of Mr. Dawson's road, 72, 75; bay on Lake Sheban-

- dowan named after him, 97; his exertions during the expedition, 96, 101; rejoins head-quarters, 173; his return to Canada, 204.
 Macpherson, Mr., officer of the Hudson's Bay Company at Rat Portage, 170.
 Macrae, Dr., Protestant Bishop at Red River, his loyalty during the insurrection, 151, 231.
 McTavish, Mr., of the Hudson's Bay Company, his conduct between the Government and the insurgents, 7, 8, 11.
 Manitoba, province of, including Red River Settlement, constituted by the Canadian Parliament (see Red River Settlement).
 Matawan river and bridge, 51; depot of supplies, 70; river flooded from rain, 87; Col. Wolsley's headquarters at, 91.
 Mellish, Mr., superintends unloading vessels at Thunder Bay, 55.
 Michel, an old Iroquois voyageur, 177.
 Mines (see Copper and Silver Mines.)
 Moukman, Mr., his danger from the insurgents, flight to Canada, joins Col. Wolsley, 154.
 Mosquitoes, 82, 83, 119.
 "Muskegs," or swamps, 163, 201.

O.

- O'Donoghue, his flight on the arrival of the expedition, 200; his share in the insurrection, 216.
 Oskandagee river, 52.

P.

- PEMBINA, Riel's flight there from Fort Garry, 139.
 Poisons, vegetable, known to the Indians, 135, 150.
 "Portages," places where boats were carried over-land, difficulty of the work, 69; explanation of the word, mode of carrying boats and stores, 74, 75, 104-107, 110; cutting out portage roads, skill of the Indians in felling trees, 129; great number of portages, 69, 183, 246.
 Prairie, at Red River Settlement, 224, 230.
 "Prince Arthur's Landing," Lake Superior, so-named by Col. Wolsley, 45; operations there described, 49-67.