FELL FROM CAR.

Harry Evans of Lippincott street fell off the back of a moving Queen street car Saturday evening, and was conveyed to the Western Hospital with several body bruises. His condition is not critical.

All Are Not Saints

Who Beg for Alms

An ill reward for generosity was that shown by Joseph Gill, no home, to Mrs. Ida MacDonald of 7 Sultan avenue. Gill, formerly a street cleaner, was on Wednesday last, being out of work and with no money, called and asked for half a dollar with which to buy food. Mrs. MacDonald had no change, but gave him a $10 bill to get changed, out of which she intended giving him some money. Gill never returned.

Saturday evening Gill was pointed out to officer 268 as the man who had stolen the $10 bill and after a long chase was caught and placed in the cells.

He had only $1.10 of the money left. He said he had got drunk on the rest.

OPERA STAR TO SING

TORONTO MAN'S SONG

"The Whole Way Long" Was Published in Aid of R. E. Institute.

A song entitled, "The Whole Way Long," dedicated by gracious permission to H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught and published in aid of the open-air school for tuberculous children conducted by the Royal Edward Institute, Montreal, will be sung for the first time in public on Tuesday evening, Jan. 20, by Mme. Maria Claessens at a concert to be given by the artists of the Montreal Opera Company at the Monument National, Montreal.

The words, both English and French, are by Lily E. Barry of Montreal. The music is by Mr. P. Douglas Knowles, the new manager of the Quebec Bank, Toronto, who is the author of a number of musical compositions of a distinctly original and pleasing character.

The sudden death of Thomas O. Pardoe occurred Saturday afternoon at 2.15, at the home of his parents, 42 Irving avenue. He was taken ill one week ago and gradually grew worse until his death, which was quite unexpected.

Mr. Pardoe was in his 39th year and was born of English parents at Parkgate, England, 1875. Leaving England when he was 8 years old with his parents, he settled in Ingersoll, Ont., where they resided for a number of years, and where he received his education. In 1892 the family removed to Toronto, where they have lived ever since.

The late Mr. Pardoe was a great favorite. During his life time he was a friend of everyone, and always willing to assist a friend at any time when in his power. He was a staunch mason, being a member of Harmony Lodge, A. F. A. M., who will conduct the funeral, Occident Chapter, Geoffrey do St. Aldemar, Preceptory and Rameau's Shrine. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the above address.

Those who survive are his mother, father and two brothers, Alan of London, and Charles Little of Shaw street, city.

SMALL ATTENDANCE

OF POSTAL CLERKS

Sunday Conference for Election of Officers Was Attended by Nineteen.

WANT BIGGER RAISES

Hon. George E. Foster Will Be Interviewed—Weekly Half Holiday in Sight.

Only nineteen members of the Association of Civil Service Clerks attended the meeting of the association in the central postoffice building yesterday afternoon, despite the fact that it had been announced that the election of officers would take place, and that the report of the delegates to the recent convention at Ottawa would be submitted.

For some time past the clerks in the postoffice throughout the Dominion have been advocating various reforms in the department, especially an increase in salary. The delegates to Ottawa interviewed the various officers of the government who have charge of the matter in question, and they learned that if they would drop some of their requests for minor reforms, and confine themselves to the agitation for an increase in salary and a half-day off each week, they would probably be successful. This advice was followed.

Will See Foster.

One of the delegates stated to the meeting that he had received information from a source which he could not divulge that if the men hoped to have a voice in the matter, they should go to the agitation for an increase in salary and a half-day off each week, they would probably be successful. This advice was followed.

As regards a half-day off in each week, it was shown that the government had been considering that for some time and that in all probability it would soon be granted.

Question of Stools.

The meeting also discussed several matters of local interest, including the recent abolition of stools for the mail sorters. The members were indignant that, because a few of the employees abused the privilege of using the stools, the remaining 200-odd clerks should have to suffer. On both of these questions the local officials will be interviewed.

Owing to the small attendance at the meeting, ways and means of bringing the local officials to heel were discussed, and it is probable that a banquet or smoker will be held in the near future.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mr. Crate of Station A.

First vice-president—Mr. Shider.

Second vice-president—Mr. Christie.

Secretary—Mr. Murphy.

Executive committee—Messrs. Davies, Graham, Hinds, Naylor, Ward and O'Connor.

DEATH OF THOMAS O. PARDOE.

Popular Mason and Well-Known Resident Passed Away.

Adeline Patti.

The Queen of Singers.

There was a time, and it is not entirely passed, when to mention prima donnas would instantly think of Adeline Patti. She was born in Madrid, Spain, and her parents were operatic singers of Italian ancestry.

She first sang at an early age in New York, but her fame was secure after her first appearance in London, and from that time she held high rank as one of the first singers of the day.

The rich bell-like quality of her voice and her remarkable evenness of tone had a range as a high soprano never surpassed, and her cadences and trills were the delight of her admirers. Equally at home in tragic tenderness of grand opera, or vivacity of comedy, or stateliness of oratorio, Adeline Patti will owe much of her fame to the way and manner in which she sang "Comin' Thru' the Rye," also her greatest success was "Marguerite" in Gounod's "Faust." Year after year she continued to make farewell tours in America, and year after year she sang the sweet Scotch ballads with all the fervor of Latin blood. She lived in a castle in Wales in the mature years, where she delighted to sing for friends, and on special occasions for charity. The divine Patti never underestimated the value of the songs that touched the heart. "The Last Rose of Summer" is a song that will always be identified with Patti.

"Comin' Thru' the Rye" and "When to Thy Vision," from Gounod's "Faust," both are to be found in "Heart Songs," the book now being offered to the readers of this paper at cost of distribution and six coupons.
