(Continued From Page 1.) lows the principle that parliamen s entitled to as much consideration at his hands as is the press.

Laurier's Pertinent Queries. "I wish to ask the honorable genleman regarding a statement attributed to him in The Citizen. The article refers to the new Canadian can, and in the last paragraph of the cle it is said that the minister of mance said there was no truth whatever in the rumor current here that the government had in view an issue on for the purpose of making a can to a railway corporation, and hat no application for assistance by way of loan had been or was expect d to be received by the government mem any railway or other company. refer to this especially in view of the statement published in another Mackenzie, to the effect that there rnment, if I correctly apprehend ement, because he concludes: He could not give out anything as o what the government would do; he hed simply laid the case before them, and it was now in their hands. He seemed to be as confident as ever as to the work he had in hand.'

"Can the minister of finance give any information to parliament on this matter?"

Mr. White: "I can give an explanadon as to the statement which I made to the press, but as to the tatement of Sir William Mackenzie remarks that may be attributed to him, of course, I cannot speak. My what I stated to the press, namely, that no application had been received for assistance by way of loan to any railway company, nor was any ted to be received. So far as I of $1,677,094, or an addition to the tax am aware, that is a correct statement receipts of $5784.
