

CONTENTS PREFACE

This book is a collection of the most interesting and valuable papers read at the meetings of the American Society for the Advancement of Science, held at the University of California, Berkeley, California, in the month of June, 1892. The papers are arranged in the order in which they were read, and are divided into two parts, the first part containing the papers read at the morning sessions, and the second part containing the papers read at the afternoon sessions. The papers are written by some of the most distinguished scientists of the world, and are of great interest and value to all who are interested in the progress of science.
