On their return, they found a strawberry patch near the creek at the Cove, and the youngster all tumbled down in the grass to get the berries. Arbuckle remained standing, holding the rifle in his hand. One of the boys in dropping down, hit the firearm, and it discharged. The bullet hit Fillmore behind the right ear. He lived but a few moments.

Inquest Not Necessary.

The boys ran for help, and some residents in the neighborhood called Dr. R. Ferguson. When he arrived the boy had been dead for some time. He questioned all the party, and they agreed on the cause of the accident.

He decided that an inquest was not necessary. Fillmore is a son of Thomas Fillmore, a baker at Parnell's.

SAID TO BE LOOKING FOR GRAFT.

Chairman Silverwood, of the committee, stated that as a great deal of publicity had been given the affair it was the duty of the committee to go thoroughly into the matter.

He reviewed what had transpired at the last meeting of the committee, when "That warning of the washout was given before the trolley car with its 50 odd passengers and crew plunged into Architect Nutter was looking for graft.

odd passengers and crew plunged into the edge of the whirlpool rapids is now admitted. W. J. Creighton, an inspector for the Great Gorge Route, told the district attorney today that a telephone call giving the warning was received by William Piper, assistant superintendent of the line. A car was called immediate the line of the line. A car was called immediate the contractor Putherbough had mentioned this also, and Mr. Silverwood authorized him to lay a trap for Mr. Nutter, and get the evidence. Mr. Nutter asked for 5 per cent commission on a retaining wall. Mr. Silverwood told Mr. Putherbough to pay over the money, and report to the committee. Two tenders were a contracted to the line of the received for the work, Mr. Putherbough being low. Mr. Putherbough sent a check for the amount, $40, and the check was cashed by Mr. Nutter. CLAIMED IT WAS FOR PRIVATE WORK.

> "I felt that we had to get Nutter off the job, and we tried to do so," said Mr Silverwood. "At first he denied point blank that he had received any money, bu finally admitted that he had received the check. His explanation was that it was for private work done for Mr. Putherbough. No immunity was promised Mr. Nutter, but the committee did not feel like hounding him to death. The members wanted to give him as much protection to his family as possible." "Could this be construed as an extra, for which he might argue that he was paid by the contractor?" asked Thomas Treleaven.

CONTRACTORS SAID HE HAD TO BE "GREASED." 'No, not at all," answered Mr. Silverwood. "This was an extra, of course, but he would get a percentage from the board of education, not from the contractor. He was engaged by us, not by Mr. Putherbough. When his bill for this work was presented to us we would have passed it. I have found that there are many contractors in this city who refused to tender for work, and who said that they would not tender for any work in the future, with which Mr. Nutter was connected, as he had to be greased. The contractors have told me that, and I determined to get rid of Mr. Nutter. He could not remain as architect with me

CONTRACTOR TELLS ABOUT 5 PER CENT.

Contractor Putherbough reviewed the situation and explained the matter. He had been asked by Mr. Nutter to tender for the retaining wall. When he asked Mr. Nutter for the plans he went to his office, and Mr. Nutter asked him o add 5 per cent for the architect. He stated that he had not received enough from the building, and he thought he should get more. On consultation with Mr People That This Thriving District Boasts Of-Contest Silverwood he decided to send a check for the amount $40. His stenographer, in sending the check, had written a letter in which she said that the money was the amount agreed upon, "in the deal regarding the technical school." There were some other deals that he had heard about, in which Inter-Provincial Brick Company paid Mr. Nutter some money, but he had no proof of that. DEAL WITH OTHER MATTERS ON PROOFS.
