Many Startling Stunts Shown in "Fighting For

Tom Mix is appearing at the Patricia Theatre for the last time today in "Fighting For Gold." Manager Stewart declares he would have liked to keep this picture longer because of the lively satisfaction it gave his patrons, but his schedule would not permit him to do so. Those who wish to be sure of seeing Mix in his latest startling stunts should go this afternoon, because the big crowds that have been turning out at night indicate a crush tonight for the last showing.

An L. Ko. special court of the last in some time.

The play, "One of Us," was written by Jack Lait, the well-known dramatist, and had its premiere at the Morosco Theatre in Los Angeles some months ago. The screen version is "The Love Burglar."

In the stage production, the chief role was played by a feminine star, but for the purposes of the screen, the leading male role was made the most important. It appeared to the producers also that the male lead was by far the most important of the two parts. The picture with this change is said to be one of the best vehicles which has been furnished Mr. Reid in some time. An L. Ko. special comedy, "Brown Eyes and Bank Notes," and a universal screen magazine completes the picture program.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GUELPH, Aug. 5.—In opening a meeting held tonight in Griffin's Opera House President Tom MacPherson of the trades and labor council stated that the sole reason that the council had invited Sir Adam Beck was that it appeared that neither the city council nor the Guelph Chamber of Commerce had asked or intended to ask the "hydro knight" to explain the hydro commission's case in the controversy that had arisen over the proposed agreement beknight" to explain the hydro commission's case in the controversy that had arisen over the proposed agreement between the city of Guelph and the Grand River Railway.

He claimed that the trades and labor council had been unfairly treated by the city council in regard to obtaining the city hall for this public meeting, having first promised the hall and then, after finding out the reason it was wanted for, refused the city hall for such a meeting.

Bouquets for Beck.

Tom Hall, secretary of the trades and labor council, spoke in favor of public ownership in general, threw a few bouquets at Sir Adam Beck and his commission, made a few slams at the supporters of the bylaw, and concluded by saying that as a member of the board of directors of the Guelph Radial Railway, he maintained that this "white elephant" was not so bad after all. "This," he said, "was the thin edge of the wedge; next to it will be your waterworks, gas works and so on, till you own nothing and the corporations own all.

Controller Hancock of Hamilton next spoke at length, also favoring hydro "I have no hesitation in saying to you tonight that we should stand behind Sir Adam Beck and his hydro scheme in its entirety."

He referred to Sir Adam Beck as "the greatest man in the Dominion of Canada," and proceeded to elaborate on the multitude of the activities that the hydro commission had been forced into to prevent exploitation by private and corporative interests. "We are foolish if we allow any corporation to demand the haul they have got in the past."

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 5.—
Investigation is being made today at Mount Riga, near Millerton, of the finding of a wrecked airplane in a deep gully on the mountainside. The plane was discovered by a man who was picking berries. It is thought possible that the plane may be that of Capt. Mansell R. James, the Canadian, of Watford, Ont., who was lost more than a month ago while flying from Pittsfield, Mass., to Atlantic City.

Had Read Agreement.

The speaker claimed he had read the agreement carefully, that he had heard the opinions of some of the greatest legal lights, that it was one of the very worst agreements the lawyers had ever seen. He unequivocally condemned the agreement. About this stage there were some interruptions as the audience seemed to be getting a little tired of the Hamilton controller's rather wandering remarks, and there were cries from the audience, "Give us another speaker," "Give us Sir Adam, let's hear Beck."

After the chairman had quieted the After the chairman had quieted the audience the speaker from the "Ambitious City" continued to talk and even told stories till the audience again got rectiles.

He concluded with the threat of what will happen to Gueiph, if it turns down the hydro agreement.

Another labor representative from Hamilton spoke briefly along the same lines. In rising Sir Adam thanked the Gueiph Trades and Labor Council for giving him the opportunity to explain the commission's policy and schemes. It would be quite impossible to proceed with the obtaining of an order-inwith the obtaining of an order-in-council to proceed with the building of roads east and west.

Hydro Agreement Legal.
The speaker maintained that the hydro agreement is already legal, but it is only the resolution which should be signed. Hydro-electric power commissioners are but the trustees of the municipalities, and he said it was unfair to state that the hydro commission could or did "dictate" to the

The speaker said he failed to see anything in the agreement which showed The speaker said he failed to see anything in the agreement which showed that experts had been consulted. Without legal expert advice and without expert professional engineering advice, the commission had never acted so, he considered that Guelph proceedure had been a little peculiar. "The agreement is a most flagrant breach of faith, and a violation of the franchise act, and it is illegal in every respect. He even indorsed the statement of a member of the audience that ment of a member of the audience that the agreement was 'rotten.'

Kept Mayor from Speaking.

Mayor Carter said he only asked as fair a hearing as had been accorded Sir Adam. At this hour having been talked out of the other speakers till near midnight, he would rather let the people get home tonight. He asked the same people to come to a meeting in the city hall on Friday, when he would show the falsity of Sir Adam's statements and uphold his own end of the argument in an hour, and not have to speak two and a half hours as Sir Adam had done or import outsiders who knew nothing of local conditions. The mayor's request for a fair show was received with cheers and the meeting then adjourned.

Sir Adam appeared very much affected by the mayor's remarks and tried more than once to interrupt him, but without success, for as Mayor Carter put it, "I have listened to you tonight do nothing but point a finger of scorn at me and everybody connected with the corporation of Guelph, and I will not allow you to interrupt me now."

The meeting adjourned at about 11:30: were willing to accept that wage. In his recommendation he was supported by the majority. Ald. F. R. Watkinson seconded by Ald. G. B. Drake, moved that the men be given 95 cents. A vote was taken on the 90-cent rate, and the council was split 5 to 5. The mayor cast his vote in favor of the 90 casts, and so brake the tie. and so broke the tie.

Nothing was done regarding the early closing of shoe stores, the council laying the matter over indefinitely. Several amendments were made to a bylaw to regulate traffic in the city As it now stands the measure provide that a vehicle on reaching the corne of Dundas and Richmond streets mus
