

One Skirt and Many Blouses

Given one plaited skirt of silk—a simple thing, but what a gold mine of resource in the summer wardrobe—and plenty of blouses, and you are well fortified for the summer travels. If you are traveling "light" such a skirt worn with a tailored blouse forms the daytime costume, which can be made more festive by simply changing the blouse to suit the occasion. When one is limited to a few clothes such a skirt can perform nothing short of wonders.

We are showing a number of ultra-smart New York Skirts, in Pussy Willow, Dew Kist and Fancy Poplins. White and colors.

$26.50 and $27.50

Brick & Dundas
LIMITED
188 DUNDAS STREET.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MACDONALD COLLEGE.

THE KITCHEN FLOOR.

What sort of finish shall the kitchen floor have? Shall it be oiled, waxed, varnished or covered with linoleum? Before deciding, think of the various needs it must meet. It should be easy to stand upon, not slippery, not uneven, not without a certain give to the feet, for a woman walks miles in her kitchen, and stands hours in it. It should be easy to clean, for a kitchen floor should be swept at least once daily and washed twice weekly. It should look well; someone has to live in the kitchen a part of every day in the year, and her life is affected by the look of the things around her. Hard wood makes a good kitchen flooring. Finished with oil or wax, it is fairly easy to clean, but not with soap and water. Spots should be removed with turpentine, and dust with an oil mop or cloth. If hard wood is not oiled or waxed, it may be scrubbed with soap and water, but water should be used sparingly. Water soaking into a good hard wood ruins it in a very short time. The ideal kitchen floor is a good linoleum, in quiet colors, entirely covering the floor, and very well put down. It is a good plan to have it turned up over the baseboard in a curve so that dust cannot gather under the edges. Linoleum is comfortable to stand on, walk upon, easy to clean and good to look at. A good quality, of heavy weight, may cost more in the beginning, but pays well in the end. (Copyright, 1920, by the Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

"She's got all cluttered up with bad habits, not having any family of her own to take care of." "She wouldn't jump and screech every time the door slams if she'd been used to noises as Ma is." Nellie L. McClung.

Wants Cure for Gout.
Dear Miss Grey—I am coming again, this time for some help. Some time ago I saw in the M. B. that some one had a remedy for gout. A friend of mine would like to have it, and I would like to have that person's address.

About two months ago, I think, when the M. B. was full of the brim with letters, two or three, wrote for old magazines. I sent a self-stamped envelope for their addresses and I never got them. I expect it got lost.

I hope I am not a trouble, as it is the first time I have come for help. QUEEN BESS.

Ans.—I hope whoever has this cure will send it promptly for you. Queen Bess, as you are always sending in help for others, I have searched my scrapbook in vain for any such recipe, but if someone has a tried cure I am sure they will be glad to send it.

Wants Joyce Kilmer's Poems.
Dear Miss Grey,—As I have found your Mail Box very interesting and helpful, I am coming to you for assistance.

I wonder if you or any of the Boxites could tell me where I could procure a collection of Joyce Kilmer's poems in book form, as I have been unable to get it around here.

Could you kindly print, too, a menu for a supper about ten persons? Are rubber or leather soled shoes most fashionable for summer wear? What, too, would be a suitable gift for a bride?

I must thank you, Miss Grey, for all the trouble this will be for you. I will try to help some of the members in the future, and although I am not an Indian my name will be COINA.

Ans.—1. The complete works of Joyce Kilmer are in two volumes and are sold by the set at $5.00. These are procurable in the London bookstores. 2. For the supper, Cold meat, salad, pickles, olives, five kinds of cake, fruit in season and cream or ice-cream, iced tea or coffee. Do these things appeal to you? 3. Either shoes are worn. 4. A fine piece of linen, silverware or china.

Captain Charles On Weather and Poultry.
Dear Miss Grey,—Will you allow me to drop in for a few minutes to have a little chat? There are so many recipes about such good things to eat that it makes a fellow hungry. I suppose you are enjoying this dandy weather.

Honest tea is the best policy

LIPTON'S

Largest sale in the world. Your Grocer sells it.

Home of Lipton
TEA COFFEE AND COCOA PLANTER
CEYLON.

Canadian Chief Offices
24 Front St. West, Toronto

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

TELL IT TO THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

Miss Gweno Williams is visiting her brother in Halifax.

Miss Sophie Brand of Detroit is visiting her parents, Clarence street.

Mr. Herbert Hanlon of Centralia left on Sunday for a trip to New York.

Mr. Sam Leiter of Detroit is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Brand, Clarence street.

Miss Kathleen White is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Hamilton Lally, Hamilton, Ont.

Mrs. Dan, who has been a visitor in the city for some time, will spend the summer in Comox, Quebec.

Mrs. A. D. Yokon of Detroit, with her small son, Bobbie, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simpson, King street.

Miss Marie Silverman of New York is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Silverman, Craig street.

Mrs. H. T. Schriber and daughter Madeline, of Cambridge street, have left on a motor trip for Detroit and western points.

Miss Ethel Slobasky of New York and Miss Gertrude Cubitt of Montreal are visiting Miss Minnie Slobasky, 111 Clarence street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wheable are in Kingston where Mr. Wheable is taking a special course in Queen's University during the summer.

Mrs. G. Bletcher and her two children, Bob and Dorothy, of Leithbridge, Alta., are visiting the former's brother, Mr. A. Kennedy, Piccadilly street.

Miss Emma Procter and Mrs. Thos. Nopper left on Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. M. E. Nopper, the late Richard Godwin, an uncle of Mrs. Nopper.

A very happy event took place at St. Paul's Manse, Norwich, Ont., on Sunday evening, July 3, when the people of St. Paul's and St. James' Churches gathered together with friends from the city of Hamilton and the surrounding vicinity, and presented the pastor, Rev. R. M. Gale, and family, with a handsome automobile.

Mrs. R. M. Graham has returned from the National Council of Women meeting in St. John, N. B., greatly impressed with the big problems which the women of Canada are tackling. "Never have I attended such a splendid women's council meeting," she declares.

Mrs. Graham with some of the other delegates enjoyed an interesting trip across the Bay of Fundy to Digby on the last day of their stay at St. John.

CORPE-HEALEY.
Rev. J. F. Corpe of Beloit, Wis., formerly of this city, and son of Mr. A. T. Corpe, was married to Miss Doris Healey of Racine, Wis., on Wednesday, June 30, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Summers, of Burlington.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe de chine with satin and pearl trimming and wearing the groom's gift, a gold necklace set with pearls. Her traveling suit was of navy blue with cream georgette blouse and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Down left on the 3 o'clock train amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a happy honeymoon in Northern Ontario.

WYSE-GUYMER.
The home of Mr. G. A. Guymer, 513 Elias street, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday, June 30, when his sister, Elsie Evelyn, became the bride of Mr. John Wyse of this city. The ceremony being performed by the Rev. H. B. Ashby. Miss Lottie Cheesman, in blue georgette with miller hat and bouquet of roses, attended the bride, who looked lovely in a gown of silk crepe de chine, embroidered in silk with conventional veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of opelia roses. Two small nieces also attended the bride as flower girls, and Mr. H. Wyse of Hamilton was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, after which Mr. and Mrs. Wyse left for Toronto, the bride traveling in a suit of navy serge and big transparent hat.

MARLATT-HALL.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hall, Vanessa, was the scene of a pretty June wedding on Wednesday, June 23, when their niece, Myrtle, was united in marriage to Mr. Clark Osborne Marlatt of Scotland, the Rev. George Morley of Teeterville officiated. At high noon to the strains of "The Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin, the bride took her place under an arch of orange blossoms. She looked charming in a gown of cream embroidered georgette over satin and carried roses and carnations. Miss Eva Crane of Brantford, gowned in taupe silk, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Clarence Marlatt, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. Little Miss Eva Crane made a dainty flower girl, dressed in a white organdie frock trimmed with pink satin ribbon, and carrying a basket of pink sweet peas.

After a reception, the happy couple left on a honeymoon to St. Thomas and Jackson, Mich., the bride traveling in a suit of Belgian blue with hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Marlatt will reside on the groom's farm, near Scotland.

ELLIS-TODD.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Todd, Simcoe, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday afternoon, June 28, at 1 o'clock, when their eldest daughter, Lillian May, became the wife of Mr. Gordon Ellis of New York City, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis of Toronto.

Roses and peonies of different shades, sweet peas and lilies of the valley decorated the drawing-room, in which the event took place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. B. Farney, under an arch artistically arranged for the occasion.

The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She wore a gown of delicate pink georgette, corsage of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Vera Ellis, of Toronto, sister of the groom, was dressed in white crepe de chine, corsage of pink roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. Lawrence Todd of Grimsby, the bride's youngest brother.

After the ceremony the guests, to the number of about thirty, sat down to a wedding dinner.

The bride and groom left for Atlantic City. The bride traveling in a costume of navy blue tulle, with black picture hat. On the return from their honeymoon trip they will take up residence in New York City.

Once there, you have the whole camp before you to explore, that is, after you have made sure that the boat is well grounded on the shore. It has been known to drift out to midstream and then a return trip is impossible.

A woody path leads up through the trees to the scene of the camp build-

OLD PUNT POINTS WAY TO CHILDREN'S W. C. T. U. CAMP

Twenty Kiddies Spending a Happy Two Weeks At Springbank.

If you just pause as you alight from the Springbank car at the pump-house these days, and direct your gaze across the river, if you are lucky, you may see the most fascinating sight in the world—a group of small children playing at the water's edge, splashing with small arms and legs about as if their bodies fretted at the scanty clothing which covered them. They are the little guests of the W. C. T. U. fresh air camp, and above them, half concealed by small trees, are the camp cottages themselves in all the glory of their new white paint and fresh green trimmings.

If you are still further curious and are "in the know" as to the means of transportation, you will shortly find your way down to the river's edge, where the most delightful of ferries ready awaits you. And by the time you have propelled yourself across, using your own brawny arms for power, you will begin to wonder whether you are in 1920 or somewhere back in the primitive days, when bridges were luxuries and gasoline still gurgled underfoot. For the boat is nothing less than the queerest of old flat-bottomed punts, above which is extended a strong wire cable, stretching across the river and kept in contact with the boat by means of two stout chains and rollers. Locomotion is gained by working the hands along the wire. Or in other words, you simply pull yourself across the river.

Then there is the evening to follow with delightful walks out on the little pier. The camp supervisors manage so that each group has a chance to visit the amusement park once and go once up the hill to see where London gets her water. Then at the very end of the visit, the little guests must entertain the older members of camp by giving an entertainment of their own invention. Never could jollier camp life be imagined, and surely not any was ever more appreciated.

Western Ontario Women's Activities
Address News For This Column to the Editor of Woman's Page.

EXETER W. I.
Great preparation is being made by the Exeter Woman's Institute for the four-day Chautauqua which is to be held on the campus of the high school, from July 12 to 15. Excellent talent has been provided, and two entertainments will be given each day at 3 and 8 p.m.

HARRISTVILLE W. I.
On Monday, June 14, the institute held their annual picnic at the home of Mrs. W. V. Kerr, with about eighty ladies present. After the regular business meeting, a short program was given by local talent, and a nursing demonstration by Nurses Cade and Ewins. After lunch, which was served on the lawn, sports were indulged in. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Ewin on Thursday, July 8, at 2:30.

THEODOR W. I.
The Theodora Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday in the rest room, the chief business being to arrange for a social on Monday, July 12, to be held on the school grounds, to come up to their objective of $50 for the Sick Children's War Memorial Hospital to be erected in London.

PROVIDENCE W. I.
The Providence Women's Institute, in conjunction with five other branches in West Lambton have just completed a most successful nursing class lasting ten weeks, held under the direction of Miss Campbell of Ottawa, sent out by the Ontario department of agriculture, on request of these institute branches. Miss Campbell's wide experience as a nurse makes her very efficient in this line of work, and her clear, concise rendering of each subject taken was interesting as well as instructive, and much valuable knowledge was acquired by some forty pupils at this branch, both in prevention and first aid. The bandaging lessons were particularly helpful.

The Providence women and girls, wishing to express their appreciation, at the close of the last meeting presented her with a pretty brooch and address, for which pleasant surprise, showing the keen interest of the members, she again assured them she would always remember kindly her work in this district.

This institute has been organized only since the close of the war, being a by-product of a most successful patriotic society, and it promises to be equally wide awake in the uplift of the community, having organized and held a splendid school fair last year. It has also been instrumental, with a few other branches, in securing a visiting doctor and nurse for West Lambton schools, and hopes to secure such officers permanently.

The opportunity was also taken at this meeting to present to Mrs. Chas. Black, prior to her leaving to reside in Petrolia, a piece of china and an address, expressing the members' regret at losing one from their midst, who as president of the patriotic society, had been an inspiration to the others.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears the Signature of Chas. H. Hitchcock

Newest Arrivals
OF SUITS, COATS AND DRESSES.
In the season's latest styles and shades, at reasonable prices. Your inspection is invited.

Justrite Ladies' Wear
1251 Dundas Street. zxy Phone 2514.

ADDS ZEST TO THE MEAL.
UPTON'S
PURE
ORANGE-MARMALADE
Ask Your Grocer For UPTON'S-IN GLASS JARS OR GOLD LINED TINS

Safe Milk for Summer

MILK will NOT keep sweet and pure exposed to summer air.

And pure milk is so essential—especially where there are babes or growing children.

You simply have to be sure that it is PURE.

You can be sure of Milk with the Carnation label.

This pure rich milk is gathered in the heart of Canada's best dairy lands.

It is tested rigidly for purity and for richness. A part of the water is taken from it by evaporation. Then it goes fresh into bright, new containers.

AND IS SEALED THEN STERILIZED

Open a can as you need it. The milk is still fresh and sweet.

Owing to the evaporation it has just the creamy consistency you will enjoy in coffee or tea, or for cereals or fruit.

Add water to Carnation Milk—an equal part and you have Milk of natural consistency.

Not separated or skimmed Milk—but rich, "whole" milk, such as you could get only fresh from the cow.

It is not artificially sweetened. You can use Carnation Milk for every purpose—on the table, for the children's drink, for cooking, for baby's bottle.

This plan of milk distribution relieves you of bother and anxiety about the family milk supply.

It is safe—absolutely.

Phone your Grocer. He is the Carnation Milkman.

INFANT FEEDING
A noted Specialist's formula for baby's bottle will be found in the Carnation Condensed Milk. This pure milk is absolutely safe for infant feeding. Consult your family physician.

Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited
Aylmer, Ont.
Condenseries at Aylmer and Springfield, Ont.

100 Tested Recipes
A rich "whole" milk like Carnation Milk imparts a fine flavor to pudding, custards, or any dish requiring milk.

Use it in any recipe calling for milk. The Carnation Recipe Book will add many a delicacy to your menus. Sent FREE on request.

stream of water then. With a joyful bark he announced that he had spied one, and then he was off like a streak of lightning, and with a splash, dived into the cool stream. Herbie and Freddie tried to follow his lead, but when they came to the bank of the stream they tried the water to see how warm it was. It was not warm at all, and Freddie started to shiver right there. Herbie didn't shiver, but he sneezed.

"The water was never better," called Sammy. "It's just cold enough." It was cold enough—cold enough to keep them from going in, thought Freddie and Herbie, and although Sammy called and coaxed, he could not prevail upon them to join him. So it was that Sammy swam down midstream and Freddie and Herbie trotted along the bank to keep pace with him.

Suddenly Herbie and Freddie heard a shout. They looked up just in time to see a little boy fall off a bridge and plunge into the water. The two dogs on the bank were so taken by surprise at the accident they just stood there. But Sammy had not stayed still. He had not been far from the bridge, and now he pushed with all his might, and was there when the little boy's head came up. Sammy was not a very big dog, neither was the little boy a very big boy, so the spaniel was able to hang onto the boy when he caught hold of the fellow's jacket.

Sammy quickly paddled to shore. What a joyful reception was waiting him there. The little boy's mother ran to meet them, and when she discovered her little boy was not hurt at all, she patted Sammy and called him a hero dog. And what surprised Freddie and Herbie most, Sammy seemed to like being patted and made a fuss over. What a strange way for a tramp dog, who didn't like having friends, to act.

[To Be Continued.]
(Rights reserved by the Vincent G. Perry Canadian Syndicate.)

PART TEN.
Sammy, the spaniel, loved the water. Indeed all spaniels love water. So naturally, Sammy tried of traveling by land and suggested a water trip. At first Herbie, the hound, and Freddie, the foxterrier, would not listen to it. Herbie said water was all right to hunt ducks in, but when it came to traveling he preferred the high and dry roads. Freddie agreed with Herbie. He liked water to chase sticks in, but swimming always tired him, he said.

It looked very much as if the dogs would part. Sammy was so firm in his plan to take a long swim that at last the other two dogs agreed to give it a trial. How quickly Sammy hunted up a stream of water then. With a joyful bark he announced that he had spied one, and then he was off like a streak of lightning, and with a splash, dived into the cool stream. Herbie and Freddie tried to follow his lead, but when they came to the bank of the stream they tried the water to see how warm it was. It was not warm at all, and Freddie started to shiver right there. Herbie didn't shiver, but he sneezed.

"The water was never better," called Sammy. "It's just cold enough." It was cold enough—cold enough to keep them from going in, thought Freddie and Herbie, and although Sammy called and coaxed, he could not prevail upon them to join him. So it was that Sammy swam down midstream and Freddie and Herbie trotted along the bank to keep pace with him.

Suddenly Herbie and Freddie heard a shout. They looked up just in time to see a little boy fall off a bridge and plunge into the water. The two dogs on the bank were so taken by surprise at the accident they just stood there. But Sammy had not stayed still. He had not been far from the bridge, and now he pushed with all his might, and was there when the little boy's head came up. Sammy was not a very big dog, neither was the little boy a very big boy, so the spaniel was able to hang onto the boy when he caught hold of the fellow's jacket.

Sammy quickly paddled to shore. What a joyful reception was waiting him there. The little boy's mother ran to meet them, and when she discovered her little boy was not hurt at all, she patted Sammy and called him a hero dog. And what surprised Freddie and Herbie most, Sammy seemed to like being patted and made a fuss over. What a strange way for a tramp dog, who didn't like having friends, to act.

[To Be Continued.]
(Rights reserved by the Vincent G. Perry Canadian Syndicate.)

Milk

The label is red and white