Engineer Morris Tells Commissioner Cassels of Excessive

ST. JOHN. N.B., Nov. 27 .- (Special) Justice Cassels this morning con ed the marine investigation and left for Halifax to open court to-morrow. Malcolm A. Morris, the engineer on the steamer Curlew, testified that in some cases he thought excessive prices were paid for supplies for the steam-ers. He said the department was an easy buyer. Witness said he had re-ceived presents of money from Mc-Donald of the St. John Iron Works totaling up to fifty dollars, but these totaling up to fifty dollars, but these had nothing to do with government

Some cotton waste, bought at ten cents, was not as good as other which cost nine. Admiral Kingsmill, to whose attention this was drawn, said it was the buyer's fault. Witness had noticed differences in charges for repairs done by different concerns, but had never called Harding's attention to this, as the prices did not concern him, but he had spoken to the captain about excessive charges. ## The H. Corby Labels, —what they stand for Every bottle of Corby's Canadian Whisky bears FOUR labels.

The government label guarantees the age. It reads "Certified manufactured in the year ........., and bottled in bond under excise supervision" and is signed by the Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue.

The cork cannot be extracted from the bottle without destroying the government label.

Another label sets forth that the whisky is "Matured" as whisky should be."

A third indicates the contents of the bottle 'to be "Special Selected."

The fourth label brings out the fact that

For over 49 years, the Corby Label has stood for good whisky.

In some parts of Canada, people have gotten into the habit of thinking that any whisky with a Scotch name must be good. Why! half the map of Scotland has been ransacked for fancy names, which in many cases are used to label the rawest of the new Scotch whiskies which are endeavoring to trade upon old Scotch reputations.

The H. Corby label is never found on a bottle of new whisky, and it is scarcely overstating the case to say that you have not tasted Canadian Rye Whisky at its best until you have tried Corby's "Special Selected."
