Here is a Program that Will Make Every Discontented Wife Contented

J. P. McGOWAN "Discontented Wives"

A drama of the East and the West, "Discontented Wives" contrasts the culture and luxury of civilization with the ruggedness and barrenness of primitive life in the gold regions of California's hills. It also presents an interesting character study—the wife grown discontented under the strain of continual hardships and sacrifices; the husband blind to everything but his eternal struggle for gold; the other man, gaining his ends by fair means or foul.
