EARL GREY'S SCHEME.

Mcnument to Buy Up Liquor Saloo in interests of Temperance.

In an interview, Earl Grey said:
"No modern temperance advocate, willing to take a practical view of the liquor problem, any longer believes in prohibition. It has proved a failure in the United States as well as in Great Britain. Regulation is the only weapon with which we, here in Engiand at least, fight a trade entrenched behind £20,000,000 ($100,000,000) of an mual net profits. We figure that so long as the people will and must drink their spendings should come back to them instead of merely still further fattening the gluttonous private monopoly. We hope to promote temperance, first, by revolutionizing the entire saloon atmosphere, and secondly by pushing forward the sale of nonintoxicants. The third means is by giving tea and coffee and food prominence over beer, whiskey and spirits.
We shall operate in the beginning in rural districts, invading cities by degrees."

Among Earl Grey's associates in the new project are the Duke of North-imberland, Viscount Ridley, late home secretary; Sir Edward Grey, M. P., and others.

LADY SOMERSET'S VIEW.

Lady Henry Somerset, president of World's W. C. T. U., asked her opinion on the scheme, wired: "I know Earl Grey to be a most enthusiastic and devoted philanthropist, but if his methods are to succeed he ought to have begun them a hundred years ago. It is impossible now for art or beauty to change the hereditary tendencies acquired by the Anglo-Saxon race. Alcohol has too long possessed the race's brain for it to kill those tendencies is any other way than by total abstinence of several generations."

PLAINS OF ABRAHAM.

The Government May Purchase for $80,000—Mr. Dobell Opposed to the Transaction for Unstated Reasons.

Transaction for Unstated Reasons.

QUEBEC, April 8.—Some time ago there was considerable excitement throughout Canada at large and Quebec in particular because of the rumor that the Plains of Abraham were about to be cut up into building lots. The Ursuline nuns, who own the property, leased it to the government years ago, and as this lease is about to run out the property reverts to the original owners. Considerable pressure was brought to bear on the dominion government to induce it to purchase this property outright, so that it could be converted into a park as a permanent memorfal of that most important event in Canadian history, the victory of General Wolfe in 1759. The government looked with favor on the reprein Canadian history, the victory of General Wolfe in 1753. The government looked with favor on the representations made, and linquiries were instituted as to the probable cost. But there was a difficulty. The nuns did not desire to sell, and only after considerable argument they submitted a proposition. The only arrangement they will agree to is that the government transfer the Marchmont property to them in exchange for the Plains, together with $30,000 to boot. The valuation of the Marchmont property is $50,000, so that the total expenditure required would be $89,000. The proposition was submitted to the government, and in order to see whether the amount required was a fair price, a valuator was sent down to estimate what the Plains are really worth. He reported that $157,000 would not be an excessive price. It would represent 10 cents per square foot. The fact reexcessive price. It would represent to cents per square foot. The fact re-mains, therefore, that, first the gov-ernment has an opportunity of secur-ing the property at a most reasonable price, and, second, that Canadian pub-lic opinion is in favor of the purchase. price, and, second, that Canadian public opinion is in favor of the purchase. Considering this, there has been much surprise that the deal has not been closed, and interested parties here begar to make inquiries. Hon. Mr. Parent was one of those who interested himself, in the matter, and a day or two ago he stated that he had it from Sir Wilfrid Laurier and several of his colleagues that the deal would have been closed before this except for the fact that Hon. Mr. Dobell was not in favor of it. All the other members of the government were fully in favor of the purchase. Mr. Parent gave his permission to use his name in regard to this statement, and he suggested that a deputation of citizens should meet Mr. Dobell and find, if possible, the reasons for his objection. Several of the officers of the Quebec Literary and Historical Boolety took the matter up, and accordingly Hon. Mr. Dobell was waited upon by the following gentlement—Sir. James. Lamoine: Capt. Wood, president of the society: Rodolphs Audette. Hon. Richard Turner, Victor Chateauvert. Thomas Davidson, John Hamilton, William Price, H. M. Price, D. Watson, Rev. A. J. Balfour, Rev. Dr. Griffith, and Rev. T. T. Love. Hon. Mr. Dobell said to the delegates that it was not the purchase of the Plains that he objected to, but there was a certain part of the transaction that he could not say without first, consulting with his colleagues in the government.

The Sudanese matives easerly buy clothes, cotton goods, sugar, perfumes, tes, nalls, chains, wire, leather, false jewellery and iron tringets. Great Britain furnishes the cotton goods: but Germany, Austria, and Italy have almost the monopoly of the other articles. Germany does a large trade in perfumes. A single caravin started off recently with 20,000 francs worth of German scents for the natives.

SOLDIERS, USE YOUR EYES.

the service have failed to use their eyes. Buckets are hanging up all round a room, and the N. C. O. in charge, at a moment when they were required, has never observed that they were there?

A policeman is asked why he is allowing some irregularity, and replies, with evident candor, "I beg your pardon, sir, I did not see!"

The variety of similar incidents that occur constantly, the order goes on, is so great, and represents a blindness so universal and affarming, that the G. O. C. feels it necessary to impress upon every officer in the garrison the fact that by the wording of his commission, and by the custom of the service, it is his duty to train men under him in whatsoever is necessary to their efficiency in war.

For this purpose they are always on duty. Scarcely any incident in daily life may not be made to contribute either to blindness or seeing. If a man were physically blind he would be discharged the service as useless to it. A man who has two good eyes but does not see with them is a much more dangerous soldier than a blind man. Having driven this point a little further home, the general officer commanding gives some pertinent instructions. He says he requires that all cammonding officers shall direct the attention of all the officers under them to this most important point, and that the subalterns in their lectures to the men will select illustrations from war showing its importance. "They will find plenty in the last year, even if they are not as familiar as they ought to make themselves with the past history of war, which is full of them."

It will be interesting to know which operations in South Africa are selected for illustration of soldiers' blindness, and how the subalterns point the moral to the men.

The general officer commanding has

The general officer commanding has more to say in the same strain, and opines that, if an effort is not made to destroy that "habit of not marking." It may some fine day involve the officers in disaster and the country in dis-

Englishmen Look on the Boer War a National Institution. The New York Herald's London let

The New York Herald's London letter says:

A great deal of nonsense is talked about the war, one report being that the king called Mr. Baffour and Mr. Chamberlain, and solemniny notified them that the war must cease.

On the contrary, however, the king is quite as much of a jingo as anyone going.

Everyone knows how constantly Lord Roberts is with him, and also Mr. Brodrick, both of whom are keen advocates of unconditional surrender.

The truth is that all the representative English today have set their teeth. It does not matter how long the war lasts, England can stand it easily, and it is nonsense to say otherwise.

Really, to come to the point, the English will not know themselves when the war is over. It is just as much a fixture as ham and eggs on the Britisher's breakfast table.

The rapidity of delivery of letters recently even resulted in the saving of a human life. A gird determined to commit suicide, wrote to her parents of her intention and posted the letter, which was delivered within an hour of being posted. This enabled the father to hurry off in a cab to the spot in the Thiergarten which his daughter had mentioned as that where her body would be found, to catch her alive, box her ears and take her home.

A colonel of a British regiment in South Africa who was repairing a railroad after one of General Dewet's many breakages discovered a fine empty house, which he proceeded to occupy as his headquarters.

When the news of the colonel's comfortable quarters reached Bloemfontein he received a telegram which read:

"G. T. M. wants house."

The colonel was unable to make out what "G. T. M." meant, and inquired of officers, who translated it, "General Traffic Manager."

"All right," said the colonel, "If he can use hieroglyphics so can I."
So he wired back:

"G. T. M. can G. T. H."

Two days later he received a despatch from Bloemfontein ordering him to attend a board of inquiry. On appearing in due course he was asked what he meant by sending such an insulting message to a superfor officer.

"Insulting," repeated the colonel innocently; "it was nothing of the kind."

"But what do you mean," demanded his superfor by telling me I can 'G. T. H. It was simply an abbreviation," replied the colonel. "G. T. M. (General traffic manager) can 'G. T. H. (get the house)."—New York Tribume.

PLANS OF CARDINAL GIBBONS.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 5.—It is announced that Cardinal Gibbons will saif for Europe soon after May 5. He will go to Rome, where he will pay an official visit to the sovereign pontiff.

The cardinal will then visit Berlin and parts of Holland. On the way home he will stop to see Cardinal Vaughan in England. It is understood that the cardinal will have another conference with President McKinley, and the state department officials, concerning church matters in Cuba, Porto Rico and more particularly the Philippines before he goes to Rome. He will convey the results of this and previous conferences to the pontiff, and give suggestions as to the reorganization of the Catholic church under the new conditions of the new American possessions.

POETRY KNOWS NOT RANK. PLANS OF CARDINAL GIBBONS.

There is nothing so remarkable in the fact that a German poetess, Greta Baldauf, recently earned her living as a waitress in a restaurant. We know of an English poet, who has published a book of lyrics that obtained favorable notice from the critics, whose position in life was that of a gentleman's servant. We are not sure whether he has bettered himself financially by changing his avocation.
