

THE QUEEN AND THE MINISTRY.

(From the Times.)
The new organ brings with it a dissolution of Parliament. A dissolution of Parliament is an appeal to the people—an appeal to the people of England—by whom I or any other man is elected to rule. The Queen of England has on her own part nothing to ask for. She has full security in the affection of her subjects that her civil and all matters connected with her personal comfort and dignity will be provided for with that dutiful care and foresight which have been at all times the mark of her royal proficiencies. She has indeed revolutionary schemes to guard against, hatched for the overthrow of the crown which she wears—for the ruin of the monarch which she is—and for the ruin of the monarch which she is—and for the ruin of the monarch which she is...

cur at certain morning paper, the manual of assemblies, and the honours of the nation, to which, in the two last numbers has been alternately whining and snoring at the Times, and in the issue of the 11th, the paper has been attacking the personal character of the Queen. Now, if we had attacked the personal character of the Queen, we should have been guilty of a crime which would have cost us our lives. We should have been guilty of a crime which would have cost us our lives. We should have been guilty of a crime which would have cost us our lives.

WATERLOO DINNER AT AUSTLEY HOUSE.
The Grace of the Duke of Wellington's annual banquet, in commemoration of the battle of Waterloo, was held at Austley House, near Epsom, on Monday evening last. The Duke, accompanied by the Duchess, and a large number of the nobility and gentry were present. The Duke, accompanied by the Duchess, and a large number of the nobility and gentry were present. The Duke, accompanied by the Duchess, and a large number of the nobility and gentry were present.

COMMUNICATIONS.
[FOR THE CHRONICLE.]
Mr. Editor.—I have sent my last communication, I am not aware of the fact, but it is the fifth of the year, and I have not received any answer from you. I have not received any answer from you. I have not received any answer from you.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.
Fall of the Scaffold, St. John's Bridge. From six to eight lives lost.—It falls to our lot to-day, to announce, in a very brief and imperfect manner, one of the most dreadful calamities which has ever happened in this City or Province, viz: The fall of the Scaffold, and part of the Bridge, erected between Portland and Carleton, (which was supported by chains and Abutments) by which from six to eight of the workmen were killed, and several others severely or mortally wounded. The accident occurred a few minutes after nine o'clock this morning, just as the men were about resuming their work after breakfast; we learn that from twenty to twenty-five men were upon it when it first began to give way, of whom about ten were fortunate enough to effect their escape before it fell.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

GENERAL ELECTION.
The message from the crown of which Lord John Russell gave notice yesterday in the House of Commons, is a matter of great importance to the legislature this day, it is the ordinary message of a new reign, imparting the wishes of the Sovereign that the necessary public business of the crown should be carried on, and that the House of Commons should be called together for the purpose of electing a new Parliament.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.

PROCLAIMING THE QUEEN.
His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having received official information on Saturday last, of the demise of his late Majesty King WILLIAM the Fourth, and the accession of Her present Majesty Queen VICTORIA to the Throne, directed the proclamation of the Queen, which ceremony took place at Fredericton on that day.

REMOVAL.
The Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. MILLAN, and immediately over the Office of J. W. Boyd, Esq., Barrister at Law. Of all kinds of printing executed at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.