To the Weary Dyspeptic.
 We Ask this Question:
Why don't you remove that weight at the pit of the Stomach?

Why don't you regulate that variable appetite, and condition the digestive organs so that it will not be necessary to starve the stomach to avoid distress after eating.
 The first step is to regulate the bowels.

For this purpose
Burdock Blood Bitters has no Equal.
 It acts promptly and effectually and permanently cures all derangements of digestion. It cures Dyspepsia and the primary causes leading to it.

"JESUS, IT'S ME."
 At a religious meeting in the south of London, says a contemporary, a timid little girl wanted to be prayed for; she wanted to come to Jesus, and said to the gentleman conducting the meeting: "Will you pray for me in the meeting, please?—but do not mention my name." In the meeting which followed, when every head was bowed and there was perfect silence, the gentleman prayed for the little girl who wanted to come to Jesus, and he said: "O Lord, there is a little girl who does not want her name known, but Thou dost know her; save her precious soul!" There was a perfect silence, and away in the back of the meeting a little girl rose, and a little voice said: "Please it's me, Jesus, it's me." She did not want to have a doubt. She meant it. She wanted to be saved, and she was not ashamed to rise in that meeting, little girl as she was, and say "Jesus, it's me."—Hx.

A CORNISH MINER
 The uses which even past crimes may fulfil in God's world are shown in an anecdote told of the work of John Wesley among the Cornish miners. One of his converts, an old man whose life had been exceptionally base and vicious, after a year of sober, honest effort, came to Wesley, and said in the broad dialect of the coast:
 "I'd like to help my neighbors as I've been helped; but I can't do it."
 "Why not?"
 "I can't read or write."
 "You know the story of Christ; you can tell it to them."
 "I don't speak English, only Cornish."
 "So do they."

The miner hesitated, then took a step nearer.
 "Sir, I've been a drunkard and a thief in my time."
 Wesley was silent.
 The old man's voice failed for a moment. Then he said hoarsely: "There's blood on my hands. I killed a man once."
 "Why, you are just the man I want!" exclaimed the preacher. "You know better than any of us how great is God's forbearance and mercy. You have been deeper in the pit than your comrades, and you can show them how to escape from it. Go and do it."
 The miner worked humbly and faithfully among his fellows and became an earnest helper of the Methodist preachers on the coast.

Among the heathen superstitions which yet linger in Cornwall is the belief that if a man once perjures himself God's sun refuses to shine upon him again. The summer day may be warm and bright, but he does not see the light nor feel the heat. He walks in the cold and twilight for the rest of his life—but the Christian faith teaches us that even the man who has blackened his soul in gross sin may by repentance and an upright life find hope in God's love and mercy.—Hx.

AN ACCURSED BUSINESS
 BY REV. ALBERT H. PLUMB, D. D.
 "The man who bringeth wicked devices to pass" is the man who runs a saloon,
 or stocks a saloon,
 or gives bonds for a saloon,
 or lets a saloon,
 or votes to license a saloon,
 or patronizes a saloon,
 or advocates an army canteen saloon,
 or fills the newspapers with contradicted lies claiming that it is harmful to abolish the canteen saloon.
 One day no saloon keeper can be found on earth. "Yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be; yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, a day he shall not be."
 A little while in God's calendar seems a great while in man's.
 "Come, Lord, and tarry not,
 Bring the long looked for day;
 Oh, why these years of waiting here,
 These ages of delay?"

"For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil." Selling intoxicating beverages is a work of the devil. What is finished if not the persistent effort, by decorating saloons and by giving thristic free lunches, to fasten on a young man an appetite which the saloon-keepers must know may ruin him and which they can't know, in any case, will not ruin his body and soul?—Christian Endeavor World.
