FRENCH ATTACK ENEMY IN THE VOSGES

ENEMY'S POSITIONS BETWEEN LA FONTENELLE HEIGHTS AND TAUNAIS STORMED BY FRENCH

Powerful Defensive Works Attacked Saturday Night—Southern Part of Taunais Taken by French Who Captured 700 Prisoners — Berlin Reports Germans Have Crossed the Narew River — Total Number of Russians Captured by Teutonic Armies Since War Began Estimated at a Million and a Half by German Military Officials.

Paris, July 25.—French troops last night stormed several powerful German defensive works between LaFontelle heights and the village of Taunais, in the Ban-De-Sapt region of the Vosges mountains, according to an official communication issued this afternoon by the French war department. The southern part of Taunais, the statement adds, was occupied by the French and 700 unwounded Germans were taken prisoners. On the remainder of the front only artillery duels took place.

Berlin Figures.

Berlin, July 25. (via Sayville).—The total number of Russian prisoners of war in the hands of Germany and Austria-Hungary since the beginning of the war, including the figures reported by the general staff yesterday, surpasses 1,500,000 officers and men.

Germans Cross the Narew.

Berlin, via London, July 25.—The Germans have crossed the Narew river on a front from a point south of Ostroleka. Southeast of the Pul-tusk fortress the Teutonic forces are approaching the Bug river.

These two advances of the German troops in Russian Poland are announced in today's official statement issued by the German army headquarters staff. The movement indicates that the Germans are making for the Warsaw-Petrograd railway which runs parallel with the Bug river, 12 miles to the southeast.

More Fighting in Southern Arabia.

London, July 24.—There has been further fighting in Southern Arabia, where British and Turkish forces have skirmished for some time, according to a British official statement issued today, claiming a success. The statement follows:

"Sheikh Othman, which in the withdrawal of our troops to Aden had been temporarily abandoned, was reoccupied on Wednesday. The Turks were easily expelled and were pursued for a distance of five miles. Sheikh Othman is now securely held and the evil population is fast returning. The Turks are still near Lahaj, but are said to be suffering from sickness. Our total casualties in the affair of Wednesday amounted to about 25 of all ranks."

French Report.

Paris, July 25. (10:25 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"In Artois and between the Oise and the Aisne there have been continual artillery actions."

"On the north bank of the Aisne in the region of Troyon, as well as in Champagne, on the Perthes-Beaurevoir front, the mining operations have continued to our advantage."

"In Southern Weverre the cannonading has been intermittent. In the Vosges our troops, notwithstanding the bombardment, have organized the positions conquered yesterday at Ban-De-Sapt."

"The number of German prisoners has increased to eleven officers and 825 men, of whom only seventy were wounded. A number of bodies were found in the trenches."

"On our side only two battalions of one regiment of the regular infantry were engaged. Six machine guns have already been recovered from the conquered trenches."

A LITTLE BOOK SAVED THE LIFE OF SERGT. ELLIS

Rev. Ralph J. Haughton draws forceful lesson from a Testament and a German bullet.

In the Congregational church last evening Rev. Ralph J. Haughton took as the subject for his address "The little book that saved the life of Sergeant Ellis, and the story it has to tell." This book was a small leather-bound New Testament presented to Sergeant Ellis by the speaker on the departure of several English reserves on August 17 last for service at the front. It has been returned to Rev. Mr. Haughton with a letter, an extract from which follows:

"Dear Mr. Haughton: Before I left St. John you were kind enough to give me a little testament. Little did either of us think that that little book would one day save my life, but such is the case. Last Thursday night we were engaged on an intricate job—I am not allowed to tell you the nature of the job—the enemy had been busy with his big guns, but as his range was rather long his shells went screaming over our heads. I was quite pleased to see all those little shells going to waste, in fact I was shaking hands with myself, but my little bit of pleasure did not last long, for a moment I thought I was in the air service, and was taking my first flight. They opened my coat and shirt, but with the exception of an ugly-looking bruise and a little stiffness I was quite right again. I looked around to find out what had struck me but could find nothing. Taking my note book about half an hour later I found the little thing that had caused the commotion, a soft-nosed bullet. It had struck the little book first and lodged itself in my note book. I am sending you both books. You will see for yourself what a close call I had."

Yours very sincerely,

A. ELLIS.

Rev. Mr. Haughton said in part: "Trusting I prize it very highly, as you can easily imagine. The bullet struck the little book, piercing the leather cover, and breaking away an entire section of the little volume. Apart from the fact that it was this book that saved his life in the providence of God, there is another singular coincidence, namely, the fact that the bullet flattened directly over the words that I have chosen for our text this evening—Rom. 8:34—What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us."

"I think that we may well consider these words, and look upon them as the wonderful story that this book has to tell to us all this evening. It is a source of gratitude to us who know Sgt. Ellis, that this little volume was used as a means of defense and protection—and that his life was spared. The text which the German bullet has made so prominent in this little Testament, is the declaration of a mighty truth. It is a truth we shall do well to consider. It is a truth we shall do well to reverently acknowledge. It is a truth that this war is going to magnify and enhance in value and importance in the minds of men and women as this war progresses. The world is going to believe more fully in the existence of God because of this war. And already there are many signs and indications that men and women are even now more ready to admit the fact of a Divine Providence governing the affairs of nations and individuals. The thing that will more deeply impress itself upon the minds and hearts of men as this war progresses —and even more so when it is over—will be the truth of the absolute sovereignty of Almighty God—the mighty fact that God reigns. This world is under moral government."

"When Germany started out in this war to terrorize Europe, and the world by her policy of deliberate destruction and frightfulness, it seemed for awhile as if nothing could withstand her material power and force. But the Kaiser has committed the identical blunder that Napoleon committed in trusting to his big armies and his military skill and his immoral theory of the right of might. The world is waking up already to a realization of a great, supreme spiritual fact, that there are in operation in God's universe, great, mighty, moral and spiritual forces, that are mightier than men, and the artillery of men."

A new vision of God is coming to men and to nations because of this war. Men may sneer at God, and the spiritual forces in operation in God's world as they may—I want to give expression to my own positive conviction this evening, which is this, that more men are going to believe in God and the superintending providence of God because of this war, and as they see the calculations of German brutality and insolence and material force overthrown and discounted by the operations of a Divine Providence ruling in the history of nations and individuals."

"This little book has a message for us all—a real permanent message—and the message is just this, that God watches over His people. The many failures of German diplomacy and military science mean nothing less than that a Father's eyes are watching us, and a Father's hand is guiding us, and a Father's love encircles us. If God be for us, who can be against us?"

"That is the message. It is the message that this world is under moral government, and its destinies are under the superintendence and control of an all-wise and almighty God. Slowly but surely this war is waking up the whole world to realize what Emerson said—'There is a God.'"

COUNSEL IN BECKER CASE ARE BUSY

Jack Rose Visits District Attorney—Gov. Whitman Doubts Story of Frame-up Against Becker.

Albany, N. Y., July 24.—After a two hours conference with convict Joseph Murphy of Sing Sing, Governor Whitman announced today that the story Murphy told of overhearing Rose, Webber and Vallon planning to frame up former Police Lieut. Chas. Becker, was to his mind untrue. Murphy admitted, the governor said, that he had talked with Becker in the death house at Sing Sing prison on the evening of June 20 and that on the following day Murphy had written to Bourke Cockran information of the alleged "frame up." The guards who had permitted Murphy to enter the death cell would be dismissed Monday, the governor said.

After verifying the fact that Murphy had talked with Becker by communicating with Warden Osborne of Sing Sing, Murphy gained admittance to the death cell, by telling the guards he was a member of the Mutual Welfare League and offering to sing for condemned men, the governor said.

Jack Rose Visits Dist. Atty. Perkins. New York, July 24.—Another evidence of the activity in the case of former Police Lieut. Becker was a visit to the district attorney's office this afternoon of Jack Rose. He was accompanied by his lawyer, Bernard Sandier, and the pair immediately went into conference with District Attorney Perkins.

ROBERT EDISON SEEN AT THE LYRIC TODAY

In a five part Mutual masterpiece. On The Night Stage"

Not since the opening of Berryman's hall as a motion picture and vaudeville theatre has a more elaborate programme been arranged than that listed for presentation the first three days of this week, beginning with a special matinee this afternoon at three o'clock. Aside from the fact that special care has been taken of the vaudeville element of the bill the management is offering the latest picture success from the markets of the Mutual master pictures, called, "On the Night Stage." Robert Edison, now a name to conjure with on both the legitimate and motion picture stages is the star of the production and is supported by Wm. S. Hart and Miss Rhea Mitchell. On the Night Stage is in five acts, has a theme that is truly wonderful and produced on a scale of grandeur not often seen on the screen. There are over three hundred persons in the cast. The vaudeville will be supplied by

DENY TURKEY WILL SUE FOR PEACE

Peace rumors continue in Geneva, however—Turkish officials and Khedive of Egypt have arrived.

Geneva, via Paris, July 25.—Nedjemkden Effendi, the Turkish minister of justice, and Fassun Effendi, arrived Friday at Lausanne from Berlin. The former is ill and has entered a hospital.

The Turkish consul here today stated that the story published here and also in London to the effect that Nedjemkden Effendi and Fassun Effendi came to Switzerland as representatives of their government, with the object of opening pourparlers for a separate peace with the Triple Entente, is untrue.

"Even if she wished to Turkey cannot make a separate peace," declared the consul. However, the peace rumors continue. By a curious coincidence Abbas Hilmi, former Khedive of Egypt, also has arrived at Lausanne from Vienna. He is travelling incognito.

In the hands of Mary Ann Rumley, was improving. It now looks as if Hanley will recover. The woman who assaulted Hanley is being tried in the police court on the charge of attempted murder.
