These soda flends probably do themselves no harm at all, in so far as the effects of the soda or the magnesia or whatever alkali may be concerned. The only objection to the habit is that it tends to keep the victim from seeking intelligent treatment which offers at least a three to one chance of givins permanent relief or cure.

I do not advise anyone to take soda or other alkalis in any dose for any condition. I merely say that the use of such alkalis is probably harmless in itself. I do advise anyone not to fall into the habit of relying upon even a comparatively harmless medicine or days for any purpose whatever.

PLEADS HER POVERTY ON $10,000 A YEAR

Wife of Major Julian Smith Says She Was "Dreadfully Poor and Couldn't Entertain."

New York, Feb. 3 .- The household accounts of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Smith proved too much for a jury in the Queens County Supreme Court yesterday. She submitted them in support year. This dire poverty, she said, prevented her from offering her friends even the simplest private entertainthe simplest private entertainment. Her exposition of her financial ondition was interposed as a defence the suit of her husband, Major Julian. Smith, who wants her to account or moneys he left with her or sent to is wife while he was in the A. E. F.

Attorneys for both sides suggested that jury be dismissed and the court himself decide the case. Justice Faber consented. At the close of the testimony he took under advisement the suit. Mrs. Smith's counterclaim and a second suit brought by Major Smith to recover possession of three life insurance policies for $5,000 each now held by the wife as surety for the premiums she paid.

by the wife as surety for the preliminals she paid.

The only bone of contention between the Smiths not now before the court'is the coolness which has resulted in a separation. This grew out of the discovery by Mrs. Smith of letters written by her husband after his return to this country by one "Jane," an affectionate Frenchwoman. It has been left to the attorneys to decide whether these letters are to be made the basis of divorce proceedings.

Among the items which Mrs. Smithcharged to her husband's account were $352 for trips she made to St. Louis to see about an inheritance: $80 for dues
in the Douglaston Association; sums for personal gifts to her church, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the cost of gift photographs and clothes and cigarettes for her son Donald, who is "self-supporting." The cigarette item was justified on the ground that
Mr. Smith told the wife to buy a present for the boy.

Excerpts of the letters designed to prove that Smith approved of his wife's expenditures were read into the record.

expenditures were read into the record. One of them said:

I was prepared to read a lot from you about finances or lack of finances and was not disappointed. Am awfully sorry that I had to leave same in such a bad shape, but it was impossible to help it. You know, I left New York, practically without a cent and living here is horribly expensive. The insurance premiums, about $79 must be paid every three months. Then there is another insurance premium, payable once a year, due some time in June, about $150. The taxes should be paid as they fall due. So don't worry over money matters as long as you have a few hundred dollars in any bank. It is not worth while making any remarks about the list of bills, etc., that you write of. I have been so used to bills that they have ceased to worry me, and over here it is a pleasure to forget them altogether (or try to).

The evidence showed that $3,000 of firs. Smith's income was her own and 12.000 came from her husband. Justice beer reserved decision and allowed he attorneys until February 15 to subnit hriefs.
