

May the year that has dawned bring to Jesus
Many hearts that will keep Him enshrined,
Many worshippers that will comfort Him
And joy in His Presence will find.

May the children whose hearts He will enter,
Keep Him with them evermore.
And may their white souls ne'er be sullied,
Nor chilled by sin's blast flowing o'er.

These few are the Sentinel's wishes
To its Readers both distant and near,
May the Christ-Child e'er bless and protect you,
With a peaceful and bright happy Year.
