

CHOIR CONCERT
AND RECITALProgram of Music at Bridge St.
Last Evening.

The organ recital and concert at Bridge Street Methodist Church last evening pleased a good sized audience. The program comprised works by the great masters of music for the organ, violin and voice, and all were executed with a finish which brought the greatest praise from the music lovers present. Mr. V. P. Hunt, organist, had the heavy part of the program. His numbers called into requisition all resources of the great organ and all the interpretative and technical skill of the musician. The opening selection was "Suite Gothique" by Boellman in four movements—introduction, chorale, menuet gothique, and a Notre Dame—and toccata. The skill with which these movements were played proved Prof. Hunt's mastery of the organ. Four short numbers—"Vesper Belli"—"Spring Song"—"Lemore"—and "Gavotte in B Flat" (Hamel), gave scope for the organist to demonstrate his ability as an interpreter of music approaching the lyric, Clegg's "Sunrise and Sunset on the Alps," representing a day in the mountains (with choruses of peasants, Alpine horns, carolling of birds, alpe music and hymns) was rendered with a great deal of skill. Gounod's "Marche Militaire," a heavy number received an excellent rendition by Prof. Hunt.

Miss Helen B. Hunt, played her way into the hearts of her audience with the violin. Her numbers "Legende" by Wieniawski and "Liebeslied" (Kreisler) were both encored. The young artist has a perfect mastery of the instrument. She handled the most exacting numbers. Her ability in interpretation and execution is unquestioned.

Mr. R. J. F. Staples sang Mrs. Knapp's "Open the Gates of the Temple" in excellent form and Mrs. Chabridge in Gounod's "Entr'acte No. 1" (Song of Ruth) drew great applause. Misses Price and Stork and Messrs. Staples and LeVoe rendered "The Twilight Shadows Fall" (Dr. Wood) without accompaniment. These numbers were very skilfully rendered.

The choral work was deservedly applauded. The choir sang two numbers "In this hour of softened splendor" (Pinsuti) and "Now Tramp o'er Moss and Fell" (Bishop) with soprano solo by Miss Stork. There was perfect balance in the parts and the ensembles left nothing to be desired. Mrs. Lewis was accompanist and Mr. Hunt directed the choir's singing.

At the Sunday services Prof. Graves, of Adolphustown, preached to large congregations, the church being filled almost to capacity at the evening service. On Monday night, at the concert given in connection with the town supper, a crowd overflowed into the entry. Prof. Bard with the assistance of his orchestra and talent from Napanee gave a delightful musical program which was enjoyed and remarked upon by everyone. Miss Tuttle, reader, of Belleville, also pleased her audience greatly. The proceeds reached $201.—The Star.

HAROLD DUESBERRY WRITES.

Cheerful Letter From Belleville Boy in the Trenches.

The following letter has been received from Corporal Harold Duesberry now at the front,—

France, B.E.F., Oct. 28th, 1916.

Dear Friend—Just a few lines to let you know that I am quite well as it leaves me at present, and sincerely hope you are the same.

I am exceedingly sorry that I have not written you for some time. I had the good fortune to come out of the big battle alright and I am in a good quiet place now, but we do not know for how long.

I hope that Joe. Connolly and all the boys are in the best of health, and remember me to them all.

I suppose that things are pretty quiet in town now that the booze is cut out, and all the boys are away.

There are a few Belleville boys in this battalion. I have one of your old friends, "Hank" Downs. I have seen Pat Boland and "China" LaPalm. I am sorry to hear that Bill Post is dead. I suppose that old "M. C." is still kicking around. I suppose that he still has a reserve seat on the park.

This is a quiet part of the line and things are pretty good. At present we are staying at a house, that is, what we call a house, but we have things pretty nice. We have tables and chairs, also a good fire-place—what is left of it—and also spring beds—plenty of bed but very little spring—and oh, those Irish lace curtains. You should see them. Pretty nice, although they are only sand bags, they answer the purpose. The water-works here are convenient—it comes through the roof. I am putting my address in the centre of this letter as that is the rule of the army. Corp. J. H. Dewsbury, 135688, B.E.F., D. Co. 15th Platoon, 19th Battalion, France.

The sport out here is good, all that a man could wish for. They give you food and clothes, also a rifle and tell you to go and shoot all you like, for you can shoot all you like if they don't shoot you. We never get hungry in the morning for Fritz throws over sausage shells for breakfast and a few rum jars, but little rum in them. Although we like the rum we don't like the shells. The weather is very wet and cold and the mud is knee deep for this is an awful place when it rains, for the least little rain makes lots of mud. We do not mind that when the rum comes around, which we look forward to every night. But having all jokes aside, this is some game, if it is played right, but they do not try to play it right, for they try to kill a man. There is not much to tell you so I will draw to a close for now. So good-bye, Old Pal, and good luck to you.

Corp. Harold Dewsbury.

ESTABLISHED A RECORD

Saved Two Bottles Since the 16th, and Then Had a Bath

Stick a new record in the book. For a long time it was the general opinion that camels were the original nine days' wonder, but James Devine, who appeared in the Kingston police court yesterday morning, charged with being drunk, in explaining where he got his supply said that he had had two bottles in his cellar since September 16th. Despite the presence of the double case he had refrained from being tempted until yesterday, which made a record of 32 days without a nip, an awful smacking to the figures hung up by the bump brigade.

"So you kept it that long?" inquired the magistrate.

"I did sir, but the supply is gone now."

"Well, then, you won't have the same excuse next time," said the magistrate, as he tacked on a fine of $10 and $3 costs.

James left the court room sullenly whistling the birdlike strains of Eddie Foy's famous hit, "Who wants to be a camel?"

WHERE DUTY LEADS.

Captain H. B. MacConnell has just published a fine volume of patriotic poems, under the above title, artistically bound in red, white and blue and dedicated to Lady Eaton and Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. The talented author is the son of Mr. T. C. MacConnell of Rawdon, who himself, with his other sons, is serving overseas. Captain MacConnell is now on recruiting duty in the London district. The following extracts give but a limited idea of the stirring contents of the poems:—

"When God made Heaven, sea and earth And moulded hill and plain,
He made a land both great and fair,
And fashioned it with wondrous care;
And this, to us, our heritage,
Our birthright has been given,
God bless this land—our Canada."

The Empire.

Fabric of Dreams, but made of stern of stuff,
The bone and brawn and blood of fearless men,
Built on the truth, of human faith and love;
Bowed at the shrine of Freedom and of God.

In abstract and concrete intangible;
Made not of cities, nor mountains,
nor plains,
But drawn to a grand and wonderful plan,
Plan of the Infinite.

All across thy plains
Under the stars at night
Humble wooden crosses
Made by loving hands,
Stand, silent sentinels—Guarding lonely graves.

tradictory sentiment of Ps. 48: 9 and 10, and in the evening on the Book of Philomen, the shortest Book a letter from his son, Norman, who has been taking part in the Somme Offensive at the front. He is back of the lines resting up for a few days after having been in action for some time. He says that unless one is absolutely "all in", it is impossible to sleep at the front, even when not on active duty, the noise of the guns being so great. The fighting is very severe, but the infantry are doing good work and we are having the best of the argument.

on Tuesday afternoon to O'Hara's cemetery.

Mr. Chas. O'Hara has just celebrated his 84th birthday. He retains his health and youthful appearance to such a degree that he might easily pass for 20 years younger. Mr. O'Hara is a living example of the benefits of leading a regular, methodical and temperate life. He has obtained from all use of tobacco and spirituous liquors during his whole life. The Review congratulates Mr. O'Hara on his 84th birthday and hopes that he will live to enjoy many more.

About 8 p.m. Monday the citizens were startled by the ringing of the fire bell. The assembled people were informed that the object of the ringing of the fire-bell was to bring the citizens together for the purpose of doing honor to Harry Breakell, who had unexpectedly reached home.

About a year and a half ago Harry enlisted in the Mounted Rifles but on reaching England, finding that the cavalry was not to be used, he enlisted in the Infantry, and after ten months at the front he has been invalided home. The citizens marched in procession to the home of Mrs.
Breakell, called Harry to the door and after expressing their appreciation of his course in the great sacrifice he had made for his country, emphasised it by singing "He's a jolly good fellow," giving three cheers and wishing him speedy and complete recovery to health. In his reply Harry modestly disclaimed that he had done anything more than a good and loyal Canadian ought to do, asserting that he had simply done his "bit" for his country and that the boys over at the front were just as happy as the citizens of Madoc.—The Review.

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own that other oils cannot pretend to, though there are many pretenders.
All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

THIRD LINE THURLOW.

We are having a snowfall, the ground frozen and plowing is stopped for the present.

Some patrons are still drawing milk to the factory. Cheese at 23 1-2 cents per pound is quite an inducement to put in every pound of milk possible.

last Wednesday that her daughter, Mrs. Herman McKibbin, of Cherry Valley, was very ill with appendicitis.

day to nurse her daughter.

from the hospital feeling some better.

times will be found a healthy medi-
