You mean to charm him ?" She shrugs her pretty shoulders and pouts. Vaya! It is not easy for one to confess the truth. I shall try the power of music and my blandishments, but I fear me they will fall. He is the man to keep an engagement. On my part I, too, have made a vow. Doctor Jack must not leave this house at eight. He is in the spider's web-to escape now may mean ruin."

The is intensely agitated, but the man does not seem to share her alarm. He is not in love with Doctor Jack. and that makes all the difference in the world.

" Bravely said, child. I admire your pluck, but, caramba, we must not let him see our hand yet. If he insists upon going we cannot forcibly detain he muses

"You forget-the cigars! As a last resort, if he insists upon going after music and dinner have failed in turn, you have the drugged cigar. It will niake him sleepy and-well, he will disappoint the American girl at eight sharp," with a thrill of triumph in her voice as she pictures the hour passing with Avis waiting in vain.

"A bright idea, girl. I have that cigar up in my room, and will get "Be careful," she whispers as he moves away. "Of what ?" "That you do not make a mess of t and smoke the wrong cigar." "Have no fear of me." While this side play has been going on in the music-room, Doctor Jack and the senora have chatted in the Spanish drawing-room over a number of things, for he manages to temporarily tear his mind away from Avis, and laugh with the good dame, who is genial company for any one, and an uses Jack with her broken English By and by they speak of curiosities, and she tells him of a relic which has been handed down for centuries in her family. She has it in her room along with her peads and crucifix, and will get it. So she goes, and Jack is left temporarily alone for the first time since he was intruded upon by Don Carlos while at his morning ablutions. It is an opportunity he has been ooking for these two hours back. Half dozen times he has remembered the raper thrust into his hand by some one unknown as he pushed through the crowd just outside the pavilion in the Plaza del Toros. Of course it will not amount to anything, he is sure of that, but as curiosity is not confined to the gentler sex alone, he has a desire to see what it is, and in order to have a minute alone, has encouraged the senora in the laudable ambition to show him her wonderful legacy. Hardly is her form lost to view than the American fishes in his pocket for the paper. It is not to be found where he expected. Then he suddenly remembers that it was in a vest pocket he thrust it, and the fishing goes on

Ah! victory! here it is, and now for some stilly gush from a young damsel's heart. With a smile Doctor Jack smoothes out the crumpled sheet and arts his eyes upon it.

The characters are in Spanish, written with a lead pencil, and evidently in a hurry, as if time pressed with the scribe. In spite of these defects there s something even in the chirography that tells Jack the writer is a woman. Holding it to the light of the window

"The American senor is in terrible ganger from an unseen source. More dare not say. Trust no one save your countrymen, and leave Spain as soon as possible."

There is no signature. Whoever this friend may be, she has not dared acknowledge her identity. You see, Doctor Jack still insists that the writer is of the feminine Lex. A singular idea strikes him. He has just been looking at an elegant volvme of Cervantes' work with the senora, and noticed an inscription

Don Quixote up, and opens the book to where he reads: "To my Uncle Don Carlos, With much love " Mercedes.

written in the front of it. He picks

Now he has what he wants, and laying the note beside the inscription, he compares the two with calm de-ilberation, makes allowance for the studied work on one and the hurry visible with the other, and then de-cides positively that the same hand perned both.

This stirs up the waters of the Siloam pool again, and renders the situation more muddy and complicated than before. He has believed that if there is a deep and mysterious game being played Mercedes is in it—his Barcelona adventures tell his so hence how comes it that she sends him warning? Can it be that after witnessing his feat in the arena she has compassion on him, and desires to undo her share in the conspiracy? The note must have been written on the sly while the last bull was engaged. Doctor Jack remembers that she seemed to be doing something-he thought searching in her Spanish reticule for bon-bons.

Another thought comes to him, and causes a smile, This note was written before Mercedes set eyes on the bright American girl, and perhaps she would not carry the same project out now. Circumstances alter cases, you know. and imagined half a dozen different theories, when the rustle of a dress catches his ear. Is it the senora returned? He looks up, and finds Mersedes herself standing in the door

The expression on her face tells him that she has been standing there for a full minute, and hence understands his action; but ever cool, he is in no hurry, deliberately folding the note, and replacing it in his pocket.

It is on Jack's tongue to speak, to ask for an explanation of the strange warning, but he gets no further, for a bustling sound comes, and the senora enters the room, proudly holding in her hand the relic of antiquity that has been handed down from generation to generation in her family bese hundreds of years.

MATTERS ARE CRITICAL.

Good Beal of Anxiety as Regards War Between the Fulted States and Spain

New York, Feb. 25.-A despatch to The Herald from Havana, via Key West, says: The situation here is cretical. Every soldier and every scampin Havana knows of the threatened breaking off of relations between the United States and Spain, and they are preparing for it. The work upon defences is being pushed on with great energy, and it is rumored every ave minutes of the day that Gen. Lee has received his passports and that war is declared.

Americans are flocking in from the country, and if one half the Americans who want to leave for the United States on the Mascotte to day board her she will gink.

The position of our citizens is most critical. The rumor, whether true or false, has gone abroad that the Ameri-

raise, has gone abroad that the American Government would not intervene, that Americans can be murdered with perfect impunity so long as the trade interests of the country are not interfered with. Unless something firm and decided and strongly American is done by our Government in Washington, Americans are in great danger of their lives.

The amusement and the great hilarity which were to be observed at the palace yesterday have changed today. Minister De Lome, always accurate as a news-gatherer, has cabled the Cptain General that Lee will not be recalled that his resignation in rot

Gen. Navarro, head of the navy, has ordered all available war vessels to concentrate in Havana harbor. The Reina Mercedes was already here. The Legazpi arrived this morning. The slight repairs to the Infanta Isabel, the Nueva Espana and the Nunez Finzon are being pushed day and night with the greatest urgency. The Conde Vendanito and the Alfonso XII. are cruising and patrolling the north coast. They have been communicated with and will be in Havana within two days. The gunboats Reina Christina and Vasco Nunez Balboa are also expected.
The Captain-General has cabled to Spain Ready to Punish Madrid, Feb. 25.—The Epoca, in an article discussing the Cuban situation as affecting the relations of Spain with the United States, alludes to the killing of Ricarde Ruiz, an American citizen, in a Spanish prison in Cuba, and adds: "The Ruiz affair cannot assume the proportions of international importance. Spain is ready to punish any person who shall be proved to have ill-treated Ruiz, and the friendly rela-tions between Spain and the Govern-ment at Washington preclude any diplomatic strain over the matter."

TWO MONTHS TO LIVE

THAT WAS WHAT A DOCTOR TOLD MR. DAVID MOORE.

The Remarkable Experience of One Who Was An Invalid For Years-Six Doctors Treated Him Without Benefit He Owes His Renewed Health to following a Friend's Ad-

From the Ottawa Journal. Mr. David Moore is a well known and much esteemed farmer living in the county of Carleton, some six miles from the village of Richmond, Mr. Moore has been an invalid for some years, and physicians failed to agree as to his ailment. Not only this, but their treatment failed to restore him to health. Mr. Moore gives the follow-ing account of his illness and eventual restoration to health. He says:—"My first sickness came on me when I was 69 years of age. Prior to that I had always been a strong healthy man. I had a bad cough and was growing weak and in bad health generally. I went to North Gower to consult a d Committee on Foreign Relations held a special meeting this morning for the Mr. Moore, I am very sorry to tell you that your case is very serious, so much so that I doubt if you can live two months.' He said my trouble was a combination of asthma and bronchitis, and he gave me some medicine and serves leaves to smoke he said tis, and he gave me some medicine and some leaves to smoke, which he said might relieve me. I took neither, because I felt sure I had neither trouble he said, and that he did not understand my case. Two days later I went to Ottawa and consulted one of the most prominent physicians there. He to Ottawa and consulted one of the most prominent physicians there. He gave a thorough examination and pronounced my ailment heart trouble, and said I was liable in my present condition to drop dead at any moment. I decided to remain in the city for some time and undergo his treatment. He wrote a few lines on a piece of paper giving my name and place of residence and trouble, to carry in my pocket in case I should die suddenly. I did not seem to be getting any better under the treatment and finally left the city determined to consult a doctor nearer determined to consult a doctor nearer home. I was again examined and the idea that I had heart disease was scouted the doctor saying there was many a man following the plow whose many a man following the plow whose heart was in a worse shape than mine. I remained under the treatment of this doctor for a long time, but got no better. Then my case was made worse by an attack of la grippe, which left behind it a terrible pain in my neck and shoulders. This became so severe that I could not raise my head from my pillow without putting my hand to it and lifting it up. I doctored on until I was trying my sixth doctor, and instead of getting better doctor, and instead of getting better was getting worse. I went on to Richmond, but instead of going to the doctor's, I bought some Pink Pills and returned home and began using them. Before I had finished my second box there was no room to doubt that they were helping me. I kept on taking the Pink Pills, and my malady, which the doctors had failed to successfully diagnose, was rapidly leaving me. The pain also left my neck and shoulders, and after a couple of months treatment I became strong and healthy. I am now in my 77th year and thank God that I am able to go about with a feeling of good health. I still continue taking the pills occasionally, feeling sure that for a person of my age they are an excellent tonic. What one of the greatest Artists of the world Says about the Bell Piano ...

Tecumseh House, London, April 2s, 1886.

THE RELL PLANO CO., LWD., Guelph. Out. DRAR SIRS.—It gives me pleasure before leaving Canada to testify to the very excellent planes of your manufacture which I have met with and used in ton-nection with my song recitals in this country. The Upright Concert Grand which was placed at my disposal by your manager in London, I unhesitatingly pronounce as one of the most elegant instruments that have ever seen anywhere, and whilst its singing qualities were all that an artist could desire, it possessed in addition that broad, rich, massive tone which is absolutely indispensable for solo purposes. I heartily-congratulate you on your latest achievements in plane construction, and believe that so long as the presenting standard of your instruments is maintained, your company can have nothing possibly to fear from foreign competition.

I am faithfully yours
