Wants to Do for Dramatic Art in England What Has Been Done in Germany—Reproaches His Own Country.

Mr. Gordon Craig (Ellen Terry's son) makes a vigorous answer to the Nation's question as to why he does not put into being the ideas set out in his book, "Towards a New Theatre."

Paralyzed to Spend Money
"If you will tell me why you have not a circulation equal to that of the Daily Mail," he says, "if you will tell me how it is that a certain actress called Miss Ellen Terry has no theatre of her own in England to-day; if you will tell me why it is that the whole of Liverpool, which I believe is our own third largest city, in all its grandeur and pride can find only eight thousand pounds wherewith inadequately to rig up an old-fashioned building as its new Repertory Theatre, and then can hardly find enough to pay the poorest of salaries to its workers, while a town like Lubbeck, in Germany, with 130,000 inhabitants, can find £150,000 to build an entirely new theatre, and plenty of money afterwards to support it; if you can tell me why Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Birmingham, Bristol and other great centres in England are unable to find sufficient cash (or credit) each to have had a sumptuous theatre of its own during the last five years, while the same type of cities in Germany—Dresden, Munich, Stuttgart, Darmstadt, Dortmund, Bremen and others—are able to have the most sumptuous theatres possible; and all in the last five years; and if you can tell me why it is that the

SORT OF "CAT AND MONKEY TIME"

Wife of Well-Known M. P. Shouted Down at Cardiff

Fierce recriminations marked Monday's meeting in support of the taxation of land values at Cardiff. At the outset the following telegram was read from Mr. Lloyd George:

"Success to your meetings. The future of this country depends on breaking up the land monopoly. If, withers, the land, depresses wages, destroys independence, and drives millions into unhealthy dwellings which poison their strength. God speed to every effort to put an end to this oppression."

Supporting a motion in favor of a national tax on the site value of all land, the Rev. Towyn Jones, M.P., said:

"They have tried to hound Lloyd George out of public life, but David Crispich is still in the van with his sling in his hand."

Mrs. Josiah Wedgwood, wife of the member for Newcastle-under-Lyne, proceeded to attack the Government.

"Lloyd George," she remarked, "has not said one word that the Liberal party will in any way keep its pledge to our reform. (Dissent.) There is nothing in the Liberal party except their name. Their legislation has made the most deadly attacks on social and individual freedom, and they have made the most insidious attack on personal liberty by their 'Cat and Mouse Act.'"

"They have sanctioned the shooting of men on strike in the Rand. In Dublin they have brought out the soldier."

Here Mrs. Wedgwood's voice was drowned in a chorus of protests and she was called to order for irrelevance. She finished her speech amidst great confusion, by declaring that the Liberal party were losing the confidence of the country.

Mr. Neilson, M.P.: If Mr. Wedgwood shares the views of his wife there will soon be an election at Newcastle-under-Lyne. Keep within the Liberal party and work for your principles inside it.

Councillor Hamilton, (Glasgow), left the hall declaring that he was not there to listen to party speeches.

Mr. Josiah Wedgwood, M.P.: I think Mr. Neilson might have known better than to make a personal attack upon me through my wife. I am not in the habit of skulking behind petticoats. (Cheers and hisses). I daresay a good many will agree with me that there is no practical definite programme in the Chancellor's speech. Perhaps we may have the proposals later put on a clearer basis.

Mr. Joseph Fels: I don't know why a number of otherwise peaceable and angelic people should be scratching out each other's eyes. (Laughter). It is a sort of "cat and monkey time," as we call it in America. (Laughter). If one fellow is going to strike another fellow on the nose it is so worrying, because you cannot get into the scrap yourself. (Loud laughter).

JIMMIE M'AVOY, EX-BERLIN CATCHER, IS WELL LIKED BY CONNIE MACK

The Rochester Post has the following interesting article on Jimmy McAvoy, who caught for the Berlin team this season:

Jimmy McAvoy, $300 richer for his short term in the primary department of the world's championship school of Cornelius McGilchrist, has returned to town. James will be with us all winter. His schedule meanwhile does not call for any more sport than an occasional game of pool. This isn't to be taken as an insinuation that he is an inveterate pool player. Far from it, though he plans to play at least two games before the winter is over; one to get in practice for the second, when he expects to have a heart to heart talk with John Ganzel, manager of the Hustlers.

Thanks Ganzel.
"I just gotta thank Ganzel for releasing me when he did," Jimmy told his manager a semi-private day. "Cornelius Buonomo. 'If he hadn't a done it, I'd never seen Philadelphia and I just want him to know I appreciate it. An' the best way for me to tell it to him will be to kind a work my way into a pool game with him an' then just slip it to him in a nice way. What do you think?"

Other than to get into form for this combination pool and conversation game, McAvoy has but one matter to give attention to this winter. He must take care of himself.

A Meeting With Mack.
"On Sunday morning Jimmy and I were strolling along Broadway when we met Mr. and Mrs. Mack. I guess they were going to church." Buonomo told the writer yesterday. Buonomo and McAvoy, by the way, had just returned from the world series.

"Now I had never met Mr. Mack and when I saw him coming along, I had no idea he would stop and talk to us simply because he knew Jimmy and had given him a trial. But he did, Jimmy introduced me, and then Mr. Mack introduced me to Mrs. Mack. I never expected to live to see the day when I would be able to shake hands with the leader of the Athletics, and I told him so. I told him all I'd read about him and how tickled I was to shake his hand. He just said, 'Nothing' to it. You shouldn't feel that way, and then began to talk about Jimmy. He really believes Jimmy is going to be a good catcher. Even Mrs. Mack seemed to know all about him, cause she said I should do all I could to make Jimmy take care of himself this winter."

It's Up to Jimmy.
"Right before me Mr. Mack told Jimmy: 'Kid, it's up to you, now. Take care of yourself this winter, and I'll be able to use you next summer.' It must be that Jimmy will be all right along with Schang and the rest of them next year, doesn't it look that way?"

Buonomo is more than proud of McAvoy. McAvoy, in 1912, was the catcher for the Maltons, which Buonomo has managed ever since there have been Maltons in baseball, and even before that when almost the same set of players were known by other names. That's why he talked so much about Jimmy yesterday.

Murphy Tells Him How to Bat.
"Jimmy tells me he has changed his style of batting since he went to Philadelphia. The first day I went to the plate he said to me: I went up just as I used to. You remember Slick, with the old crouch. But I didn't crouch long. Danny Murphy was up to me in a minute. He said there'd be none of the crouch business any more, that from then on I'd take a healthy swing. You see that's Danny's business now. He tells you when you're doing the wrong thing and puts you right. I guess if we could see Jimmy work now we wouldn't know him."

Mack Likes McAvoy
"That Mr. Mack thought a lot of the kid shown by the way he treated him. The few weeks he had him he paid all his expenses from Rochester and back home again, even to the kid's board and laundry. Besides he gave him $300. That's pretty good."

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Agent, George Bowles.

when you think if Ganzel hadn't released him he might not have caught in a ball game all season. Say, wouldn't it be great if Jimmy got a chance in a world's series next year. "You know, one thing I couldn't quite figure out after my talk with Mr. and Mrs. Mack, was how she happened to know so much about Jimmy. Yes, sir, she said the same thing as he did, that all Jimmy's got to do to be a real one is to take care of himself."

Played Four Games With Mackmen

McAvoy took part in four games for the Athletics. In that time nine opponents tried to steal bases, and all but one he threw out. That one was Maisei, of the New York Americans. After he was released by Rochester, McAvoy went to Berlin in the Canadian League, where he proved a sensation. It was on the recommendation of Jack White, an old Eastern Leaguer, that Philadelphia drafted the local boy.

NO DRINKING MAN NEED DESPAIR

The Neal Cure—Greatest of All Modern Discoveries—Offers a Means of Escape from the Curse of Drink. A cure of the Drink Habit is Guaranteed in Three Days no Matter Whether the Patient is a Hard and Constant Drinker, Social Tippler or Goes on Occasional Sprees.

There was wandering in the streets of Toronto lately a homeless man, who at one time held a splendid position, but drink was his downfall. To-day his wife, a cultured woman, works out by the day, endeavoring to support herself and little family. Think of it, you wives and mothers, who have homes of comfort and all that makes life worth living, what it would be to you to be deprived of these and forced to face the wash tub for an existence, as this poor wife has to do to-day?

But this home which was made a hell on earth through strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been made, as a result of the Neal Treatment. Three days only—the wonder of it—to effect a cure and make the victim of strong drink a new man, physically, morally and mentally.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter whether the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional sprees. Are you interested in a poor fellow going down, down, through the curse of drink? Then bring your influence to bear on him and bring him to the Neal Institute for treatment, drunk or sober, and we will undertake to remove the awful appetite for strong drink and deliver him to you a new man.

Here is an opportunity for REFORMATION SOCIETIES for INEBRIATES or any institution for the reformation of the drunkard, to test our ability to change the hard drinker into a new man, physically and mentally, in THREE DAYS' treatment.

We invite these Societies or any institution interested in the poor drunkard and the problem of dealing with him, to send us for treatment any victim of the drink habit, it makes no difference how much enslaved, and we guarantee to effect a cure in each and every case. Can you spend your money to better advantage or in a way that will bring in greater returns than in redeeming these victims of strong drink and giving back to their families kind fathers, brothers, husbands, and to the country most desirable citizens?

How Uls

Settled by English Scotch Under J Persecution of the Parliament.

A very interesting account of Ulster Plantation is given by G. Bradley in Chambers. Mr. Bradley says: "The great Ulster Plantation of Tyrone and Tyrone, which long defied the English, and ultimately subdued and their domains, roughly extending to the six counties, Derry, Armagh, Fermanagh, and Tyrone, were escheated to the king (James the first) the opportunity was seized, them with an English an population.

London's Irish Estate Elizabethan adventurers, who had developed into the early colonizers, and the fever height, Virginia, the New England, and the West were being seriously, and Ireland offered a hand, rough, but perhaps more opening of much the same.

The county of Derry was on the various London companies to develop as seem good to them, with restrictions. The other five, or, to be precise, all the five, in them, were surveyed in mostly of one thousand, and five hundred, and two acres, virtually regardless of Irish occupants. The business, to be sure, had by that of graziers, and things of slight value; but pushed out into the bogs and mountains, with the exception of the better sort, who shifted, were allotted fields of smaller size upon the the colonists.
