Organized Ball Moguls
Look on Bethlehem Steel
League as a Real Menace

Players are Told That if They Join the New Organization They Stand a Fine Chance of Keeping Out of the Army

New York, May 17.—A new "Federal" league has arisen to harass the poor, down-trodden baseball magnates by either coaxing players away or getting them boosts in salaries for not being coaxed away. It is called the Bethlehem Steel League, and it began operations last Saturday with six teams, representing as many shipyards operated by the Bethlehem company.

Not a few major league players have joined or are dickering with clubs in this league, which is a "Federal" organization, inasmuch as the Bethlehem company is engaged in important war work at its big shipbuilding yards. Joe Jackson has announced that he would join the team at the Wilmington, Del., plant.

Enticing Major Leaguers
Agents of the Bethlehem League have been flitting with organized baseball's players for the last six weeks. The salaries offered do not equal what experienced big leaguers can earn, but there are other considerations that make the proposition attractive.

While, perhaps, no definite promises have been made, word has been spread through both big leagues that any "vow" athlete eligible to the draft can not only make a good salary playing ball one or two days a week and working in the shipyard the rest of the time, but he will be practically eliminated from the draft—or at least be put in a deferred class—on the representation that he is engaged in important war work.

Organized baseball has given its young men freely to Uncle Sam. There have not been any cases of big league clubs attempting to hold valuable players by subterfuge, and those who have enlisted in the army and navy have been speeded on

Battled With Jersey Skeeters Until Nearly Train Time

Jersey City, May 17.—After battling through eleven of the hardest contested innings rounded out on the local diamond, Toronto was forced to accept a dead heat with Jersey City yesterday, the score standing 6 to 6.

Pierman called the game to enable the visitors to make train connections for home so as to prepare for their opening line-up at that end with Binghamton to-day. After seeing through the first eight periods, in which there were lively doings at bat, both pitchers tightened up in the additional rounds and neither side was able to penetrate the defence with the all needful tally.

Hershe had a lively struggle with Labate on the hurling hill, the honors resting easy. Hershe holding Jersey City to eight hits, while Labate was touched up by the Maple Leafs for nine. Toronto excelled in the fielding, the Toronto veteran hurler being accorded excellent support by his associates. Jersey City was charged with four blunders, and two of these counted runs for the opposition.

Binghamton, N.Y., May 17.—Binghamton won its eighth straight game here yesterday by defeating the Syracuse team by the score of 2 to 0. Barnhardt pitched good ball for the losers, allowing the Binos but two hits, but one error behind him ended in a run and one of the hits was disastrous. The game was called at the end of the eighth to enable Syracuse to catch a train.

Rochester was fortunate yesterday in that Baltimore made wild throws, wild pitches and all sorts of poor plays behind the visitors' hits. The result was that the Orioles were hopelessly beaten, 8 to 1. The score: Rochester . . . 013001120—8 12 4
Baltimore . . . 010000000—1 8 3
Batteries: Brogan and E. Smith;

Herbert and Egan.
AT NEWARK
Woodward's witness gave Buffalo an easy victory over Newark yesterday 8 to 1. Woodward is thought to have accounted for a new record in fourth inning he hit four batsmen. These with a pass, two errors and McCabe's single, gave the Bisons five runs. Cooper also was wild, but kept the hits scattered. The score: Buffalo . . . 400050012—8 5 2
Newark . . . 000000010—1 7 3
Batteries: Cooper and Meyers; Woodward and Madden.

Tesreau Loses
His First Game

Former Leaf's Victory Held up When the Reds Blanked Giants

CINCINNATI, May 17.—Tesreau, the New York pitcher, suffered his first defeat of the season yesterday, when the locals hit him hard in two innings, scoring three earned runs off his delivery. Toney pitched masterly ball and was given sensational support, especially by Groh and Neale. The hitting by Roush and S. Magee was heavy and timely. The score: New York . . . 000000000—0 7 0
Cincinnati . . . 100020003—3 11 1
Batteries: Tesreau, Demaree and McCarty; Toney and Wingo.

At St. Louis—Ames pitched, St. Louis to a 2 to 1 victory over Boston, holding the visitors to four hits. With the score tied in the sixth, Berra singled, went to second on Hornsby's sacrifice and scored on Cruise's hit. The score: St. Louis . . . 100000000—2 6 1
Boston . . . 010001003—2 6 1
Batteries: Ragon, Camavan and Wilson; Ames and Snyder.
At Pittsburgh—Brooklyn was defeated by Pittsburgh yesterday in the second game of the series, 4 to 3.
