Childhood and Education of Moses-Exod. 2: 1-15.

Commentary .--- I. Moses' birth and in-hood formed, God chose a religious fam-ily out of which the lawgiver and the high priest were both to spring." 2. A son-There were two children older than Moses, Miriam (15, 20) who was probably from eight to ten years was probably from eight to ten years older, and Aaron (7, 2) who was three years older (7, 7). Goodly child—"The text simply says that he was good, which signifies that he was not only a perfect, well-formed child, but that he was very beautiful. This very circumstance was wisely ordained by the kind providence of God to be one means of his preservaof God to be one means of his preservation. Scarcely anything interests the heart more than the sight of a lovely babe in distress. His beauty would in-duce even his parents to double their exertions to save him, and was probably the sole motive which led the Egyptian princess to take such particular care of him, and to educate him as her son, which in all likelihood she would not have done had he been only an ordin-ary child." Hid him—That is, kept him within the house. 3. Ark—A small covered box or basket. She prepared it for purpose. Of bulrushes—The papyrus plant, a thick, strong and tough reed, which sometimes reaches a height of from ten to fifteen feet. "The Egyptian paper was made from its pith; our word paper' is derived from the word 'papy-rus.' The rush itself was used for varirus. ous purposes, among others for boat building, as it appears from the monu-ments. It would be a very good material to use for the purpose to which Joch-ebed applied it."—Pulpit Com. Slime— The mud of hte Nile, which, when hardened, is very tenacious. Pitch—"Mineral tar. Boats o fthis description are seen daily floating on the surface of the river, with no other calking than Nile mud (Isa. 18, 2), and they are perfectly watertight unless the coating is forced off by stormy weather." Flags-"A general term for sea or river weed. The spot is traditionally said to be the Isle of Rhoda, near Old Cairo."

4. His sister-Miriam. It appears that Moses had only one sister (Num. 26, 59). Afar off—So as not to show her anxiety. To wit—"To know."—R. V. It was her duty to see whether Pharoah's daughter found him, and whether he was in dan-ger from any cause. "No tale of rom-ance ever described a plot more skilfully laid or more full of interest in the de-velopment. The expedient of the ark, the slime and pitch, the choice of the time and place, the appeal to the sensibilities of the female breast, the stationing of the sister as a watch of the proceedings, her timely suggestion of a nurse, and the engagement of the mother herself, all bespeak a more than ordinary measure o fingenuity as well as intense solicitude on the part of the parents. But the origin of the scheme was most probably owing to a divine suggestion, as its success was due to an over-ruling providence."—J., F. & B. 5. Daughter of Pharaoh—It has been estimated that nhe was about sixteeen estimated that the was about sixteeen years of age at this time, and that Moses was born in the sixth year of the roign of Ramoses II. LESSON VIII.—MAY 26, 1907. LESSON VIII.—MAY 26, 1907. But Moses had not only a moral and an intellectual training, but, according to Josephus, he had also a practical preparation for the great work that was be-fore him. Called his name-What name he had from his parents we know not; but whatever it might have been it was ever after lost in the name given to him by the Princess of Egypt. III. Moses slays the Egyptian (vs. 11-15). When Moses was about forty years old there came a great crisis in his life, about which we learn in Heb. 11: 24127. We are not told what was the occasion of his decision to abandon the Egyptian court at this time; but it is clear that God was leading him to forsake the idolatrous and immoral influences with which he was surrounded. Because of his rash act Moses was obliged to flee for his life, and he went to the borders of the Midianites, in the southeastern part of Arabia, where there was a well for the watering of flocks. While Moses was sitting by the well the seven daugh-ters of Reuel (also called Jethro) came to water their father's flocks. They had filled the troughs with water when some rude shepherds came and drove them away. At this Moses came to the rescue and made the shepherds stand aside while he watered the flocks. The result of this action was that he entered the service of Jethro, and married his daugh-ter Zipporah.

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

I. Moses' mother. 1. Faith-filled . "By faith Moses, when he was come to years refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter" (Heb. 11, 24). Was it not because this godly mother (v. 1), during those months while her baby lay so close to ber heart (v. 2), and during those three months while he was "hid" in her home (v. 3), sent constantly up to the throne a prayer for her little one? When Bishop Simpson was a young man he went to his mother and said with reluc-tance and difficure. "Wother I feel tance and diffidence, "Mother, I feel impressed that I ought to preach the gospel." She threw her arms about his for that before you were born." "By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents...and they were not afraid of the King's command-ment" (Heb. 11, 23). Jochebed was not netwously anxious at the approach of a strange footstep, or at the sound of an unwonted voice. Fear is not faith. She unwonted voice. Fear is not faith. She took every precaution, she told no one of the advent of the baby boy, she never exposed him to the public gaze, she hushed the infant's cry before it left his lips, but she was "not afraid." And when the time came she "brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter" (v. 10), and left him there in the palace of the prin-cess and came away believing God that the seed sown in his tender heart in the seed sown in his tender heart in those early years would spring up and bear abundant fruit. No loving instruction of a faith-filled mother is ever wastch, "and yet by some it is considered a trifling thing to teach little ones."

2. Faithful. "The maid went and called the child's mother...and the woman took the child and nursed it" (vs. 8, 9) Here is a hint that God means that the baby's mother shall be the baby's nurse There is not a spot on earth nearer to heaven than a child's cradle. There is no mission on earth more sacred than the care of a little child. No duties that are in the country. God-given ever lead a mother to neglect her child. Above all others, to the little ones home should be the place of careful training, love, praver and blessing 3. Rewarded. Her baby was laid back in her mother arms. money was provid-ed for the household necessities, the

APPEAL TO CARNEGIE. TORONTO UNIVERSITY WANTS RE

TIRING ALLOWANCES.

London. April 29.—Passers-by were astonished this morning to see the word "lehabod" (the glory is departed from Israel), in glaring letters, 18 inches high, over the portico of the City Temple. It had evidently been written by a skilled hand, as the letters were perfectly form-ed and spaced. Persons not aware of Toronto, April 29 .- Dr. Maurice Hutton acting president of Toronto University, has submitted a memorandum to the trustees of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, asking for an appreciation of the utter inade quacy of the provisions for retirement in the university in Toronto, and in view of this inadequacy, expressing the hope that the trustees will include this uni-
