

CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The following from the March 31st issue of the "Town Crier," Newton Centre, Mass., will be read with interest by friends of Mr. Eagles:

A most interesting social event occurred last Monday at Newton Centre, when Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wilbur Eagles celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home 120 Clark St.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagles have been residents of Newton Centre for many years, it being the birthplace of Mrs. Eagles, who was born in a house on Clark St. in 1845, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stearns, who were of the oldest families in Newton.

Mr. Eagles in a native of Wolfville, N. S. The couple were married in Newton Centre on March 27, 1872, by the late Rev. Daniel L. Furber, at that time pastor of the First Church.

Four children were born to them, all of whom were present at the anniversary. They are, Mrs. Grace Daniels, who makes her home with them; Miss Eva Eagles, a teacher in the Everett Schools; Miss Nettie Eagles, who teaches in Tewksbury, and Howard A. Eagles, of Boylston St. There are six grandchildren five of whom were present on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagles received over 300 guests during the afternoon and evening and were recipients of many beautiful gifts. They were presented with about three hundred dollars in gold, besides gifts of dishes, glassware, flowers and potted plants.

A very pleasant feature of the reception was the reading of a poem by Rev. George C. Phipps, of Newton Highlands, who composed the poem in honor of this occasion.

Mrs. Eagles is one of the charter members of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and many members of this church were among the guests.

Some of those present were: Attorney General and Mrs. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Woodrow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wood of Newton Highlands, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Russell of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Cutler of Newton Centre, and members of the Monday Club of which Mrs. Eagles is a member. Mr. Eagles' sister came from Nova Scotia to be present on the anniversary, and other relatives were present from Cambridge, Lynn, Medway and New Hampshire.

Mr. Eunice Giles of 151 Parker St. was an honored guest on Monday, and was also a guest at the wedding 50 years ago.

The writer was greatly impressed by the youthful appearance of the couple who showed no indication of fatigue the next day, after receiving on Monday from two o'clock in the afternoon until late in the evening. They expressed their enjoyment at having received the congratulations of hosts of friends on one of the happiest days of their lives.

SAFETY FIRST

A preacher was driving home from a ministers' meeting on a very dark night. "How are we getting along, Charlie?" the preacher asked his chauffeur. "I am drunk, but I trust in the Lord." "Well if that's the case," said the preacher, "then I want to get out and walk."

"GREEN FEED FOR EVERY FARM"

(Experimental Farms Note).

Perhaps no other plot on the farm will give such large returns for the amount of time and labour expended, as a small area of feed grown for soiling purposes. Green feed is relished during the summer months by cattle, hogs, and poultry (if they are in inclosed yards) but without doubt proves the most profitable when fed to milch cows. Soiling crops are found to assist very materially in maintaining the milk during the hot summer months when pastures are short and dry.

Corn; oats, peas and vetches; oats; rape; and sunflowers in the order named, are all valuable for this work.

Corn is one of the best crops for this purpose, and gives large yield of succulent feed, much relished by both cattle and hogs. Planted before June 10th, it should be ready for cutting about August 10-15 and has reached a height of from 5 to 8 feet with an average yield of 18 tons per acre. "Longfellow" has been used with some degree of success over a period of years. Unless pastures are extremely bare, one-half acre with fair crop should be sufficient for ten or twelve cows.

Oats, peas and vetches mixed, oats five parts, peas four parts, vetches one part by weight, and sown at the rate of three and one-half bushels per acre, will give large amounts of excellent feed. This should be cut and fed while the oats is in the milk soft dough stage. This will necessitate two or three seedings, if soiling crop is to be fed over any great length of time. Two seedings, or at the most three, ten days apart, should be sufficient, and one acre should supply plenty of feed for fifteen cows.

Oats sown thickly also provides good succulent feed, and should equal oats, peas and vetches in yield per acre.

Rape is generally used as a pasture crop. It is particularly desirable for hogs, and when used for such must be seeded in several plots with about ten days intervening between each seeding. If allowed to make good growth before stock is turned in on it, and then pastured, say, for an hour per day, plants will throw up new shoots, and continue to grow even after being partly eaten. Rape may be sown at the rate of three to six pounds per acre; in drills, or on the flat. It has been grown with fair success broadcast, but this plan is not recommended, as it is generally found necessary to hoe this crop in order to allow it to make its best growth. With successive seedings and careful handling, an acre should supply sufficient feed for at least fifteen cattle.

The Experimental Station at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, reports that sunflowers were used as a soiling crop during the latter part of the season of 1921, and were eaten with apparent relish by beef steers. They were refused by hogs, and eaten but sparingly by dairy cows. These sunflowers (Mammoth Russian), were sown on the flat in rows thirty inches apart, and gave a yield of about twenty tons per acre.

A seeding of oats, or oats peas and vetches, for early cutting, with corn for use as a soiling crop during the later season is to be recommended. A small area of rape used as pasture during late autumn will be found very valuable.

TEAS STEADILY ADVANCING

"Teas—Advances from primary markets continue to indicate a strong situation with upward tendencies. Locally there are no changes but as stocks are not large there is a strong possibility for some advances as importers state spot prices are still far below cost of replacement."

The above statement in the "Canadian Grocer" of March 10th is authoritative. Those who understand the tea situation say that unless the price becomes easier on the primary market very soon the consumer may expect to pay 10 or 15 cents more a pound for tea.

NOT PATS OF APPROVAL

Wife—Joe, your mother got talking this afternoon about what kind of a boy you were. She said your school teacher used to pat you on the back nearly every day.

Hub—That's true, my dear, but they were mostly too low down for comfort.
