CHEAP KANSAS LANDS

WE own and control the Railway lands of the Province of New Brunswick, and are selling at an average of $3.25 per acre on easy terms of payment. Alternate sections of Government lands can be taken as homesteads by actual settlers.

These lands lie in the GREAT LIMESTONE BELT of Central Canada, the best wheat producing district of the United States, yielding from 30 to 35 bushels per acre.

The average yearly rainfall in this country is nearly 35 inches per annum, third greater than in the much-extolled Arkansas Valley, which has a yearly rainfall of less than 25 inches per annum in the same latitude.

Stock-Raising and Wool-Growing are very remunerative. The winters are short and mild. Stock will live all the year on grass. Living Streams and Springs are numerous. Pure water is found in wells from 20 to 60 feet deep. The healthiest climate in the world! No fever and ague there. No muddy or impassable roads. Plenty of fine building stone, lime and sand. These lands are being rapidly settled by the best class of Northern and Eastern people, and will so appreciate in value by the improvements now being made as to make their purchase at present prices one of the very best investments that can be made, aside from the profits to be derived from their cultivation. Members of our firm reside in W. KENNEY, and will show lands at any time. A pamphlet, giving full information in regard to soil, climate, water supply, &c., will be sent free on request. Address such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs,

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the cures effected, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried, acknowledge its superiority, and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates to use it as medicine to relieve the distress and suffering incident to pulmonary affections. It is, therefore, always at hand, to afford relief, and perform rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchitis, as well as of the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, and the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable, for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health. This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it constantly produces are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

As soon as the shot was fired, Stiles started to go upstairs. His son followed him, for the purpose of saving his sister, but when he entered the room, he found the revolver at his head and threatened to shoot him if he did not retire. The boy returned to the door in time to see his father draw from his pocket a large dirk knife, which he drew it across his throat. Then he drew the knife across his own throat.

The boy ran down stairs, followed by his father, who reached the front step, where he fell bleeding, and expired before any further aid could be rendered. The little girl died at 10 o'clock this morning.

A RUSSIAN COLONEL, lately appointed chief police master of one of the most populous towns of the Baltic provinces, has hit upon a very novel plan of subduing his wives. "You must be locked up in the same cell till you kiss each other." This is the sentence of the magistrate in every case of female brothel which has come before him. He knew very well that, though kissing is a habit with Russian men, it is not much in use with the women of Moscow, least of all with the soldiers. The excited women now rallied for a time louder than ever, protested that they would sooner die than give this humiliating sign of reconciliation, and then, after a few hours confinement, called the jailer, and informed him that they had kissed.

Canada's Extraordinary Belle.

From New York World.

MONTREAL, June 20.-The Novonov Monde announces that the young woman of the name of this city has become possessed of an extraordinary relic, the statue of Notre Dame de Liesse. Its history as set out by the Sacred Congregation of Rites in a citation of the 18th July, 1858, is as follows:-Three young French noblemen of the house of Egge joined the order of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, and were taken captive by the Saracens near Ascalon. The Mahometan Governor offered to spare their lives if they would renounce their faith and yield allegiance to the prophet, but this they refused. He then sent his daughter Ismerie to them, hoping that her influence would prevail over them. But, on the contrary, they resolved to remain faithful to their God, and while the nobles were praying the Blessed Virgin to take the Saracens maiden under her protection a statue of the Mother of God fell from heaven. The four young people at once set out for home, and Ismerie's father sent his soldiers after them, and they would surely have been recaptured had they not been miraculously transported to Laon, where the young nobles had a castle. Their return was hailed with joy by the people, and a church was built in honor of the Virgin. The statue was honored for centuries under the name of Notre Dame de Liesse, Our Lady of Gladness. In 1793 images and churches were burned in the fires of the revolution, but the ashes of the statue were preserved, and the head was discovered in 1837 in a vault where it had been screened by the parish priest who had saved it from the flames. That year Pius IX. crowned the image and called it Mere de Grace, and it was placed in charge of the fathers of St. Vincent.

In 1870, during the Franco-Prussian war, Laon was threatened by the invaders, and the image was sent to Paris by the fathers of St. Vincent to give the image to Canada. The fathers were thinking of sending it to China to a band of missionaries of their order, but they consented to give it to the Canadian priests, and on Friday last it was placed by the Bishop of Montreal on the altar of the Virgin in the Church of the Gesù.

The funeral of the late ex-King of Hanover-by the way, his heir, it is said, will make his peace with Germany, receive back again his patrimonial dukedom, and the Prince of Battenberg of England-was only the third royal funeral seen at Paris in two centuries, singular as the fact may seem. Louis XIV. and Louis XV. both died at Versailles, and were buried with maiden rights at St. Denis, the one at night.
