MARKETS AND FINANCE

Saturday, Feb. 6.—The sloppy condi-ion of the roads after last night's rain sept a large number of the farmers at home, and as a consequence the supply on Central market was small this mornng. The general rise in pork all over the country has halted, and there was a light downward tendency in the local narket this morning, though prices did not change.

A fair trade was done on the grain market, and prices were higher, wheat advancing about 3 cents, barley 3 cents, and oats 11-2 cents. The prices generally were steady, and very few changes Standard prices at 8 a. m. were:
