A Federal Parliament.

While parliamentarians, the press and people at home, are discussing the place, powers and make-up of the House of Lords, we notice that Capt. Malcolm Kinaird Smith considers it a seasonable time to consider the establishment of a Federal Parliament of the Empire on the basis of the population of the white inhabitants In the Empire Review for the current month he gives publicity to his views on this subject. The grounds on which he considers the time opportune are the following: -

1. That it is impossible for Great Britain alone, without substantial and permanent help from the self-governing over-sea Dominions to maintain the two power standard in naval armaments laid down as essential to the safety of the Empire.

2. That it is unreasonable to expect from these oversea Dominions any large voluntary contributions, either in ships or money, unless they receive representation in the councils of the Empire and participate in the control of the whole Imperial navy.

3. That a policy of Dominion navies under local control will not give the most effective help in proportion to their cost, even though placed in time of war at the disposal of the Imperial authorities. (This argument does not apply to land forces.)

4. That the time has now come when the self-governing oversea Dominions, thanks to their rapid growth ticipate in the management and control of Imperial affairs. 5. That some reform in the constitution of the House of Lords is enevitable.

increasing for the separation of imperial from domestic questions in Great Britain, where acute antagontoo often prejudices sound national judgement on imperial matters.

7. That with the creation of a Federal parliament it may be possible to find a final solution of the problem of Ireland and her government.

8. That with South Africa union an accomplished fact, it is now possible to include her in any scheme of Imperial Federation.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,-I read with much inter est "John Cully's" letter regarding our doctor. It is unquestionably powerful one. It is a frank and open exposition of the doctor's position regarding us, and ours regarding him, and is written in a most just and honorable cause in defence of twentythree hundred living souls. I have heard several people speaking of it, and it has made a most favorable imletter, full of logic, common sense and solid incontrovertible facts. The writer sets forth his arguments so clearly and so forcibly, and sustains the position he has taken by so many solid facts and with such perfervid eloquence, that one is drawn irresistibly to the fact that it is written in an honourable cause. I congratulate "John Cully," and hope if occasion calls for it that his pen will again be wielded in defence of our interests in this most just cause, and that the powers that be will pass a favorable sentence on his letters and will treat us as generously as our neighbors have been treated.

Spared by the Enemy.

Dramatic Incident in the Career o General de Gallifet. was on that fatal day, Sept. 1870, that General de Gallifet distin guished himself by commanding the cavalry charges intended to clear the elevation at Illy, with the view of opening a passage toward Floing where it was hoped the army might give reduced rates on the train all retreat. The first charge overthrew the Eighty-third regiment of the Prussians and penetrated among the Ge man troops, but the latter formed in the project. No doubt the Board again rapidly after the retirement of French cavalry. General Ducrot when asked if they could renew the charge with what remained of the light cavalry and hussars, and then Gallifet answered in the words that have become historic, "As often as you wish, general, as long as a man remains!" The second charge was not so successful as Angus, Scotland, of a recent issue the first. Only a few men, with their general at their head, succeeded in penetrating the first ranks of the enemy. It is known that the King Prussia, who was watching the battle from the top of the hill of Marfee, exclaimed with admiration, "Oh, les braves gens!' Just at this moment an astonishing event occurred in the midst of the battle. As Gallifet was returning with a few survivors, their horses for the most part wounded or foundered, he passed before the Nassau regiment. The Prussian officers ordered their men to cease fire an deven stuck up some of their guns. The French saluted and shouted, "Vive l'empereur!" and the German officers acknowledged the salute, some of them applauding.-Westminster Gazette.

THE BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL

The importance of administering phosphorus in a form suitable for assimilation has long been recognised. "PLASMON, as is well known, is a preparation of the casein of milk containing rather over 80 per cent. of pure protein, but its considerable content of phosphorus in the form of combination in which this exists in milk is perhaps less generally recognised. "PLASMON COCOA which yields a beverage of MUCH GREATER NUTRITIVE VALUE THAN ORDINARY COCOA was found to contain phosphorus equal to 2.32 per cent."

Gets Beresford Estate.

Negro Woman Made Rich Through Compromise of Mexican Claim.

Galveston, Texas, April 2 .- Following the sale of part of the estate of the late Lord Delaval Beresford comes the report that the negro woman who said she was his common law wife has received $500,000 and about 100,000 acres of land in Durango in a settlement of her claim. About 20,000 acres are under cultivation.

She owns 1,000 head of cattle. Lord Delaval Beresford was killed in a railroad accident four years ago in Canada. Following a trip to England a year ago, when the woman attempted to make a settlement of the estate with the brother of the man she said was her husband, Lord Charles Beresford of the British Navy, the latter came to Mexico several menths ago and entered suit to oust the woman from the estate. She proved to the court that Lord Delaval Beresford had introduced her as Mrs. Beresford.

The part of the estate sold to Michigan men was the Ojitos ranch near Casa Grandes, and the price authoried by the court was $200,000 in American gold.
