The above troupe played "The Dairy Farm" to an appreciative audience at the Casino Theatre last night. This well known drama has a plot, which is not a complicated one, dealing with farm life in Ulster County, New York, and has sparkling veins of comedy running through it. The characters in the cast were well interpreted. Marie Fontaine had a heavy role and impersonated the character of Sarah Newkirk, the house keeper of Squire Hurley, a character delineated by Harden Klark, whose ability is well known. Mr. Frank Urban, as Joel Whitehead, gave a faithful portrayal. Maistee Cecil, as Lucy, took her part with that gracefulness and tact for which she is noted. P. G. Field, played a double character, as old Joe and Bob, the nigger, and showed up well. Chas. B. Archer, as Simon Krum, an old miser, was formidable. Extra Hunt, as Ennie Jane Perkins; W. H. Pen-dexter, as Silas Plough; Dot Karroll, as Minny; Billy Webb, as Sparrow; Fred Schreiber, as Nathan Newkirk; Al Canton, as Hiram Cole and Alden Irving as Amos Shears performed their parts well. The specialties were well worth witnessing. The violin selections of Mr. F. Schreiber certainly deserves mention as they were a treat to the audience. The play will be reproduced to-night, and none should miss seeing it. This afternoon "Raffles" is booked for the matinee.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Queen's Road, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Nellie Bowden, daughter of the late Capt. Bowden, was united in matrimony to Mr. Lewis Hue. The bride looked charming in a white Chateau gown, veil and orange tulle train, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Ina Warren, who wore a rose silk, black beaver hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Edward Moore. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold bracelet, and the bridesmaid gold locket and chain. After the ceremony a reception was held. The wedding party then left in autos for Waterford Bridge, where the happy couple joined the train for Holyrood, where the honeymoon will be spent.

There has just come to hand a new lot of Christy's Perfumed Bath-Crystals, highly esteemed by many people as an important and delightful adjunct to the bath and toilet. We think there is nothing so refreshing as ablutions performed with water in which a bottle of these has been dissolved. You have to use it to appreciate it. Price 60c. a bottle.

Bulls are still in season, but some kinds are beginning to get low. We would advise all our friends, therefore, to send us their orders as soon as they can. Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils, Narcissus, Orocucos and Jonquills. Finest selections.

More Broken Promises.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir:—Your correspondent Publius did well in referring to the nepotism which is evident in the public service where promotion is rampant and persecution rife. The former applies to those who are hand and glove with the Tory clique now unfortunately ruling the country and the latter to those who are manly enough to disagree with them. Previous to the last election Premier Morris and his political satellites throughout the country loudly proclaimed that by their election an era of justice and fair play was to be ushered in and that any abuses existing in the civil service would be corrected. Particular emphasis was laid on the declaration that the sons and widows would be given preference in appointments to the public offices and every opportunity would be given them to secure promotions and hold their places with the sons of more favored personages. But has this very philanthropic idea been adhered to. I think not. Positions are secured by pull and pull only. Stand in well with Morris and the pickers following him and you may aspire to any position. Fitness is no requisite and the names of Gibbs' "brother Tom" and others which your correspondent has amply verified this. The young men who have graduated from our colleges, academies and schools can easily see for themselves how Morris redeemed this promise and will notice that not alone are public offices filled with political parasites but that new positions carrying big salaries have been created for such people. But the injustice evident in most of the appointments made is simply disgusting. Walter Kenny, a cooper by trade, and a man of means, was given the position in the Poor Office vacated by the late P. Jordan. Should not a widow's son have received this job? Could not a widow's son be given the sub-collectorship of Bell Island. Many a smart young man endeavouring to support a widowed mother and orphan children would be glad to get this job and quite a number are there of this class who would be eligible for it. Why not give the job in the Customs conferred on C. Carter, Morison's brother-in-law to a widow's son. And so one could go on indefinitely almost quoting such cases. False promises, bluffing and coddling may bloom for a while with the electorate, but I think the end is in sight and that Morris will realize this when the people go to the polls in 1913.

Cold In The Chest

RUB WELL WITH ZAM-BUK!
For bad colds on the chest, rub the chest and between the shoulders well with Zam-Buk at night. If you suffer from catarrh or cold in the head, just rub the ZAM-BUK at the base of the nostril, and as the balm becomes warm, inhale the healing essences which vaporize. Sores in the nostril, which are sometimes set up by catarrh, will yield to Zam-Buk treatment. Mrs. N. S. Babcock, of Matawatschan, Ont., says: "I had a cold in the head, very disagreeable sore on the inside of the nostrils, which gave me great pain and caused much annoyance. I feared it would never clear up, and all I tried proved unavailing. I was ordered to try Zam-Buk, and I defied all other remedies. It has overcome by one box of Zam-Buk and is now quite healed."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, eczema, blood-poison, piles, cuts, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores, 50c. a box, or Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld.

Feat in Motoring

Mr. Fred. Canning with Mr. G. M. Barr's chauffeur, Horwood, performed a feat in motoring recently, and only returned to the city yesterday. In a "Vulcan" car they went from St. John's all over the north shore of Conception Bay to Great Cove, then went down the south side of Trinity Bay to Green's Hr., back to Heart's Content and in their itinerary motored over the extensive barrens at Old Perlican through which there is no road and which is as rugged as the South Side Hill. They did not even puncture a tire on this rough journey and their car was a wonder to many as it was the first ever seen in this particular section.

Lecture.

W. W. Blackall, Esq., delivered a very interesting lecture last night before the young men of St. Mary's parish, South Side, in the Association Hall. He took his subject from Tennyson's "Locksly Hall" and interestingly dealt with Darwin's theory of the "Evolution of the species." Rev. H. Uphill presided and at the close of the discourse a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the lecturer. During the rest of the fall others will lecture before the Association.

NOTE OF THANKS.
We sincerely thank the Reid Nfd. Co. for the kindness in supplying guides and men to search for our dear son; also for wreaths from the officials and despatching department. Rev. A. C. Bayley for calling all the way from Bonavista to officiate at the burial and all kind friends at St. John's and Port Blandford for wreaths, telegrams, letters of sympathy, and all who assisted in the search or helped us in our time of trouble. Cable News.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
News from the seat of war tells of continued successes of the allies. The Servians have captured Novipazar and are virtual masters of Kumanova. The victories however have been purchased at heavy sacrifices. The situation in Thrace is becoming clearer and a fight is going on over a wide circular front before Adrianople, upon which town the Bulgarians are gradually closing in on the east. They have occupied Vasilika and Timovo, and are continuing their advance southward. On the west the Bulgarians, according to official Sofia accounts, have reached the Arda River, close to Adrianople which is being vigorously bombarded. Already two outer forts have fallen. Some positions of the north of Adrianople are also said to have been taken, after fighting of the severest character. Of the army in the center, operating in the direction Kirk Kishore there was no news and evidently that fortress is still holding out. It is significant that last night's Constantinople dispatch which say that decisive results are expected to-morrow have a less confident tone than previous dispatches from that capital, while they admit heavy struggles. Both sides are showing the utmost bravery. Information concerning Montenegrin progress is meagre, but the Turkish authorities say that Scutari has been reinforced and is safe. A Salonika dispatch asserts that Malsori tribes are offended because Montenegrins commanders are proclaiming the sovereignty of King Nicholas in captured Albanian towns. They demand that King Nicholas give guarantee that he will evacuate Albanian territory and secure autonomy for Albania. So far they have received no satisfactory reply, and it is reported they are refusing to fight further for Montenegrins, whose advance has been thereby checked.

Fierce Remedies.

The doc has been poking my ribs till they're barked. "You'll have to quit smoking," he sternly remarked. "Your heart is a-thumping like surf in a storm; and it will quit pumping if you don't reform. You must, on my honor, cut out the cheroot, or you'll be a goner, you dippy galoot. The learned doctors orders I follow one day, and over the borders of madness I stray. I'm filled with a yearning for spinach on fire; to keep a pipe burning is all I desire. My nerves is a jangle, I can't write a rhyme; I just tune and wrangle and cuss all the time. I shy at my labor, my mind's in a fog; I serap with my neighbor and poison his dog. For fragrant Havana I sigh and pant; I bust the piano and browbeat my aunt. So bring me my briar that gives me delight! The doc can go higher than Gilderoy's kite! So long as I'm smoking his threats are a joke; I'd rather be croaking enshrouded with smoke than be an old fogey of two hundred years, deprived of the stogie that comforts and cheers! That doc is a treasure no one will deny; but sometimes the pleasure of living's too high.
