The big wind and rain storm seriously interfered with the attendance yesterday. President LeMessurier and the Committee hopes that everybody that wants to see the show will see the same to-day or come to the C.L.B. Armoury, top of Long's Hill at 8 o'clock to-night. At nine o'clock the prizes will be distributed by Lady Harris when the party from Government House attends. Judge Griffen left for home by yesterday's express. Roller Rink

Sports To-Night.

A series of interesting races on roller skates will be held in the Prince's Rink this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. A feature of this novel event will be an obstacle race in which 8 competitors will take part.

A hockey match between two teams—Rangers and Caledonians—is expected to prove exciting. A quarter mile ladies' race for which there are some eight entries, promises to be the race of the evening, and the sporting community will have another chance to see our local runner John Bell featuring in a three mile exhibition race on foot at this meet.

Our two well known wrestling gladiators Hammond and Marshall will give an exhibition of their mat work for fifteen minutes, while other events on the programme are quarter, half, one and three mile races. During the sports the C.C.C. full band will be in attendance. The judges for the evening will be Messrs. A. MacNamara, J. I. Vincombe, E. Churchill, E. J. Brophy, J. Tobin and N. J. Vincombe.

After the completion of the program an informal dance will be held until 11.30. The C.C.C. band furnishing the music. (No charge will be made for the dancers). The competitors who have entered in the various races are asked to be on time as the first race starts promptly at 8 o'clock. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock, so that there may be no confusion in gaining admittance. The galleries are not reserved. The line-up for the hockey match follows:

Mr. E. Churchill will referee the game.

Getting Ready for Hockey.

Preparations are already being made for the coming hockey season and several clubs will be holding meetings next week, when officers will be elected and other business attended to. During the week Secretary Tobin of the Hockey League received the following letter (which will explain itself) from Mr. R. J. Fisher, who brought the Halifax team here last season:—

Dear Mr. Tobin.—As the hockey season is near at hand and as we are going to have a rink here this winter, I may as well drop you a few lines to find out if there is a chance of being honored with a trip to your city this year. It is needless to say that if you favor me (or my team) with the said trip, I will endeavour to get together an "All-Star Team" from the different teams performing here this winter, and I will go so far as to promise you that they will not be the class I mean one or two) but as the team last year. Of course you can understand my position last year; there were two of us after the trip, and one was afraid the other would get it. In that case there was not the interest taken there would have been, had one man had the whole thing in hand. By letting me know as soon as possible, I will be able to see the different men, and arrange for them to get off from their different positions. Trusting this finds you in the best of health I am, Yours sincerely,

R. J. FISHER.

Last Night's Fire.

The Central and West End Fire Companies were called at 9.20 last night to the Cold Storage Plant, near the railway station, where a fire was found in the basement. The firemen soon had a stream of water turned on the blaze and within five minutes of their arrival on the scene, the fire was caused by heat from the furnace igniting the woodwork in the boiler room, did very little damage, thanks to the prompt arrival of the firemen.

Llewellyn Club.

DR. JONES AND MR. C. E. HUNT DELIVER ADDRESSES ON IRISH QUESTION.

There was a very large gathering at the Canon Wood Hall last evening when the monthly meeting of the Llewellyn Club was held, the hall being filled. Mr. L. Colley occupied the chair, and in opening the meeting stated that the feature of the evening would be an address by Rev. Dr. Jones in reply to some of the arguments of Mr. Lindsay Crawford, but that before introducing Dr. Jones he would call on Mr. C. E. Hunt to give his views on the subject from the standpoint of an English colonial.

Mr. Hunt felt that in a self-governing colony like ours, where we were so remote from the seat of the trouble and where very few gave the questions involved any careful study, sentiment was certain to govern our views, and he was convinced that a continuation of the discussion for years would alter the views of exceedingly few people and was for that reason futile and far more likely to create ill-feeling than to help in even the smallest measure in coming to any settlement. We had, however, to admit that the matter was being discussed from different viewpoints and, that being so, a frank expression of views was certainly preferable to secrecy, which invariably bred suspicion and distrust.

He then dealt with the question from the standpoint of one who was English, in sentiment and descent and under the following headings:—

(1) that the people of Newfoundland, enjoying the fullest liberty under the British flag should, respect it and the form of government that it represents; (2) that firm in the belief that our security rests upon the preservation of the Empire, of which England is the corner-stone, the security of England must be our first consideration; (3) that Ireland is entitled to a full measure of Home Rule within the Empire consistent with the security of England.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hunt's address the chairman introduced Rev. Dr. Jones, who in opening said that he thought Mr. Hunt had expressed the views of the great majority of those present. He intended to deal with some arguments that had been advanced by Mr. Lindsay Crawford in his recent address. He had not been present at the meeting, but gathered the views of the lecturer from the newspaper reports and from reliable parties who had attended the meeting. He had taken care to obtain a fair and accurate report as he had no desire to misquote him in any way. He understood that Mr. Crawford had devoted much time in answering a former address that he had given and he wished to reply to his arguments.

Mr. Crawford had said that he (Dr. Jones) had spent about a day in Belfast, but as a matter of fact he had spent about ten days and was present at a convention, at which many Irishmen were present, and he had the opportunity of meeting many leading men from different parts of the country and of learning their views. Furthermore, Mr. Crawford had quoted some views as being the personal views of Dr. Jones, when as he had expressly stated, they were the views of Ulster and had been given as such.

To the assertion of Mr. Crawford that the question was neither a racial nor a religious one, Dr. Jones replied that it was undoubtedly a religious question to Protestant people and to at least some Roman Catholics. Mr. Crawford himself admitted this at a later period in his address, when he stated that for the past one hundred years Ireland had been throwing off stage by stage all the badges of England and the Protestant ascendancy.

MILLIONS KILLED IN ACTION

Wonderful news! Millions and millions of germs killed in action and thousands and thousands of victims relieved of bronchitis, asthma, coughs, and colds. There is great rejoicing in the fact that science has at last invented the world's surest death trap for germs—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. With the first dose this remedy gets right down to business, and never ceases in its destructive work until every trace of the disease is completely removed and the victim restored to normal health. Letters from all parts of Canada praising this wonderful mixture are literally pouring into headquarters. Read this letter:—"Years of suffering from that terrible affliction, bronchial asthma, ordered by all medical men to close my business in Montreal and go south to a warmer climate, but I noticed your ad. in the 'Montreal Standard' for the above mixture and I said I would give one more trial to health before I leave my native town, and thank the good maker I did. My bronchial tubes are clear, the hacking cough has disappeared, the wheezing cough has ceased as if by magic, and all discomforts have gone since taking your wonderful mixture."—Herbert Corri, 417 McKay Street, Montreal. There is no reason whatever why you cannot be completely and speedily restored to health if you take this remedy. You are satisfied or your money is refunded, according to our guarantee. Don't delay. In reply to Mr. Crawford's statement that statistics showed that Leinster was the wealthiest province in Ireland, the doctor read statistics to show that Ulster was the wealthiest province. Mr. Crawford had stated that Ireland could not be economically free as she was not politically free, but he showed that Ireland's imports at the time of the union were four million pounds and these had increased in 1916 to over a hundred million pounds, and in 1917 the Irish people had over one hundred million pounds on deposit in their banks. He argued that these figures refuted Mr. Crawford's statement.

He denied that England had shown any tyranny in Ireland as alleged by Mr. Crawford and that such statements were unfair.

He said that Mr. Crawford had quoted him as saying that the Irish were an inferior race. He had not done so, for in his opinion the Irish were a superior race in very many respects and Ireland had produced some of the finest statesmen, soldiers, and men in every walk of life. He denied Mr. Crawford's statement that the conditions in Ulster were appalling and read extracts to prove such was far from being the case. If as Mr. Crawford had stated, the right of a people to mould its own destiny and determine its own form of government—was not debatable, Ulster certainly had such rights as well as the rest of Ireland.

He could not hold with Mr. Crawford that the present bloodshed in Ireland was merely incidental to revolution or accidental. He agreed with Mr. Crawford that there was no hatred in the hearts of many Irishmen towards England, but many leaders of the Sinn Féin movement had hatred towards her and openly expressed it. He denied that the old established church had gone in favour of Sinn Féin and maintained that it was the English church that had given England the Magna Charta.

Dealing with the local Self-Determination League, Dr. Jones stated that if they came out openly for Dominion Home Rule within the Empire they would win thousands of supporters from Protestants.

but as long as the opinion existed that they wanted only to have Ireland a Republic outside the Empire, all who were Imperial in their sentiments would strongly and openly oppose it.

Dr. Jones in closing made a strong appeal for a United Empire and the abandoning of any movement that tended to bring in this colony discord and hatred.

At the conclusion of the speech of Dr. Jones, which was very warmly applauded, the chairman expressed the thanks of the meeting to the two speakers and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very interesting meeting to a close.

A Tale in Store for Many

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—As an outport merchant or rather what Mr. Coaker would designate a peddler, I want to say in your popular paper that I am compelled to give up business after this year, owing to Coaker's Fish Regulations. I have always done business with St. John's merchants, whom I always found ever ready to assist the fishermen, but this year, owing to ruinous fish regulations those same men couldn't help me at all. Now after many years of hard work, I am obliged to give up a business in which I have spent the best years of my life.

I have spent the best years of my life shut out owing to regulations, resulting in thousands of dollars' loss to us. I have seen the Italian market lost to us, result, more thousands of dollars lost. I have invested all my earnings in the fishery business and lost it through Coaker's ruinous regulations. Oh, men, if you are indeed men, hurl this autocrat from power before he ruins everything that is near and dear to you.

Yours truly,
SMALL MERCHANT.
