

THE DEVILS OF CALGARY

Where Would They go if Turned Out of Calgary People

MR. HUNTER AND THE APOSTOLIC BISHOP

Evangelist Announces that he Will Take no Second Place

A large congregation assembled at the Central Methodist church last night to hear Messrs. Crossley and Hunter continue their revival meetings. The evangelists were supported by Rev. Messrs. Kerby, Bishop, and others.

Mr. Hunter took his text from the 8th chapter of Luke, the 41st and following verses. It is the story of our Lord raising the daughter of Jairus from the dead and healing the sick woman.

This woman touched Jesus and felt that she was cured; so shall we feel better when we meet Jesus through faith.

"When they came to the house, behold the majesty of the Lord, no one can remain dead in His presence. "And the spirit came back to the maid again," not up the table leg, as people are led to believe at these spiritualistic seances, but straight into the maid again.

Some in Calgary would neglect the Lord if one were raised from the dead. If our Lord were to say to one of the ministers on the platform, go to the cemetery and by singing the doxology raise one from the dead, take him down to the church on the platform that the people of Calgary may be converted; even then some would neglect Him, while others would receive him.

For men in Calgary care more about lots and dollars than about the souls that are still unsaved. I would rather see 100 souls saved than 100,000 new men brought into the city; intine you may grow to a big city, say of 50,000.

We read of our Lord casting devils out of a man and sending them into the swine. I don't know where all the devils would go if turned out of the people of Calgary.

We are told that a woman can hold seven devils; in the same ratio I should think a man could accommodate 770.

I believe Jesus has the power to heal the sick if they have faith. Take Jesus into your politics, your business, your amusements, your reading.

If Jesus came to Calgary he would not be allowed to preach in some places because he wasn't properly ordained.

I'll take second place to no apostolic bishop in God's universe. What I am after is apostolic success, not apostolic succession; and I believe none have had greater apostolic success than Bro. Crossley and myself.

But I will take second place to General Booth. If you are not a Christian, said Mr. Crossley, I can tell you the month, week, day, hour and second when you will be converted. It is explained in my text, Jeremiah 29: 18: "Ye shall seek me and find me when ye shall search for me with all your heart."

Defending The Governor

Editor Albertan: With all due deference to Professor John Westlake's opinion, as reported in your issue today, allow me to respectfully point out that Governor Swettenham's action in ordering the United States armed troops off the island of Jamaica was justifiable and, under the circumstances, absolutely inevitable.

The American admiral's action in landing armed troops on his own initiative without first obtaining the sanction of the British governor is totally opposed to and a direct breach of international law.

Had the governor permitted this he would have created a most dangerous precedent with indefinite possibilities of imitation and expansion.

GEORGE W. MASON, Lieut. Royal Navy (Retired)

Editor Albertan: In your issue of Thursday, in an editorial under the heading "India's Operations," you say that there is an unparadiseable contrast between the treatment of Indians in Portuguese East Africa, and in the Transvaal.

You appear to be ignorant of the fact that the only Indians in Portuguese East Africa who are accorded the rights you speak of are natives of Portuguese.

These Goanese cannot fairly be compared to the Trading Indian coolies of the Transvaal, though in outward appearance they resemble them.

The Goanese are the descendants of white Portuguese, whose language they speak, and they are Roman Catholics and have high sounding Portuguese names.

The only attributes of the Indian Coolie which they share is their ability to live and thrive and get rich where a white man would starve.

In all Portuguese East Africa, half castes of Negro blood rank by Portuguese royal edict as white men, and are socially treated as such.

The Goanese nationality claim and obtain the same rights.

In British south and central Africa any one with native blood is classed and rightly so, as a native.

To this same altruistic treatment of half-castes is due most of the trouble, rebellions and lack of progression, which have caused the stagnation of a nationally wealthy country.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the "brighter day" you speak of is not far off when, British colonies will accord to the colored races the rights of white men.

The melancholy results of any such quixotic policy may be seen in Turban Natal, where the colonists have at last been forced to adopt stringent immigration laws.

If the Portuguese colonists had similar political power, they would use it as British South Africa has and will continue in a still greater degree to use hers.

Trusting that you will be able to spare me some of your valuable space, as the question involved is of enormous importance, and resolves itself into the question whether a country is to be a white man's or not.

British Columbia is now at the parting of the ways, it is to be hoped she will take warning in time.
