A Few Specials in Ordered Clothing TO LAST THIRTY DAYS

We have two very important reasons for this Ordered Clothing Sale. The first is, that we have a very heavy stock of Cloths and Tweeds, and we wish to reduce this stock. The second is we wish to keep our large staff in this department at work and busy during the usually slack season. To make this sale worth while, we are quoting prices which mean a big discount on the ordinary. A glance at the list below will emphasize this more fully. We do not ask you to simply take our word for it. Come and investigate.

Our Blanket Extra

A Blanket sale at this season of the year is most appropriate. We have purchased all the samples of a certain mill at a price away below the ordinary cost of manufacture. Some of these blankets are in singles, others in pairs; part of them are grey with colored borders, others are white with fancy borders. The regular wholesale prices of these Blankets range from 32c to 37½c per pound. The retail prices anywhere from 40c to 50c per pound. We are going to put the whole lot—about 300 pounds, or 60 pairs at the exceedingly small price of... 25c lb.

This means that you can secure a 5 lb. Blanket for $1.25. Is this not worth considering?

SHOT, BUT NOT AT THE KING

Attempt to Assassinate Grand Chamberlain of Spain.

A Man Named Feito Fired at the Second
Carriage of Royal Procession in Madrid
The King Curious to See What Caused the Shot, But the Queen Mother Pulled Him Back Into His Seat—No One
Hurt—Would-Be Assassin Arrested.

Madrid, Jan. 12.—As King Alfonso and Queen Christina and the court were returning from church Saturday afternoon, a man, who afterwards gave his name as Feito, fired a pistol at one of the carriages in the royal procession. The bullet went wild, and no one was injured. The King, heard the shot, and put his head out of the carriage window but he was immediately dragged back into his seat by the Queen mother, who was seated beside him in the carriage. The escort of civil guards immediately threw themselves upon the would-be assassin and overpowered him.

Not After the King.

Feito was taken to the police station, where he said he did not desire to kill the King, but the Grand Chamberlain, the Duke of Sotomayor, at whose carriage he had aimed. He was searched, and in his pockets were found unmailed letters marked "registered," and addressed to President Roosevelt, King Edward, the Emperor of Germany and the president of the High Court of Justice at Mexico, and also receipts for a number of registered letters and a visiting card of the Mayor of Madrid.

Not an Anarchist.

Feito was later put under examination by a magistrate, to whom he repeated his statement as to the object of his shooting. He insisted that he was not an Anarchist, and said that his wife, a French woman, had confined him in a lunatic asylum. The prisoner, in making this statement, did not appear excited, but there are indications that he is insane. The Minister of the Interior has telegraphed to the prefect in the provinces that the attempt was directed against the Grand Chamberlain and not against the King.

Policeman's Statement.

A police sergeant, who was the first to seize Feito, makes the following statement:
"After the King's carriage had passed, Feito, who was standing in front of me, raised a pistol and fired at the second carriage in the procession. Before he could fire a second time, I struck him with my sword. He cried 'You wish to kill me, but I seek the life of the Duke of Sotomayor, who is the cause of all my troubles.' The Duke of Sotomayor, however, was not in the second carriage, it being occupied by the Marquis de La Mina, the court grand equerry, and two palace officials."

Ovation to the King.

After the shooting the people gathered along the route from the church to the palace, giving the King an ovation as the royal carriage proceeded slowly towards the royal residence. The Prefect of Madrid, who was in the last carriage left the procession and gave orders for Feito to be taken to the police station. Feito is 34 years of age, and was born at Pesadillas, in the Province of Oviedo. He returned to Spain from Mexico last June. He was slightly out in the head by the police sergeant's sword.

Would-be Assassin's Reasons.

Questioned as to what reasons he had for wishing to kill the Grand Chamberlain, the prisoner said the Duke of Sotomayor had offered him a position at the palace, but had failed to fulfill his promise.

Perhaps Rubino Knows.

Paris, Jan. 12.—The correspondent at Brussels of The Matin telegraphs that the police of Madrid have wired to the authorities in Brussels a request that Rubino, the man who fired three shots at the King of Belgium in Brussels on Nov. 15, and who is now waiting trial, be interrogated, with a view to obtaining further light regarding Feito's attempt.

Sent Back the Passes.

Helena, Mon., Jan. 12.—Sixty-one of the 72 members of the House decided to return the passes furnished to them on Thursday by the Northern Pacific Railway Company through its local counsel. The principal reason for this unprecedented move was because the passes were limited to 60 days instead of one year, as heretofore.

Senator Thomas Coffee.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—The Globe's announcement of Thomas Coffee's selection for the Senatorship made vacant by the late Hon. John O'Donohue's death, means that James Sutherland is master of the Administration as much as ever Mr. Tarte was. Mr. Sutherland insisted upon Mr. Coffee's appointment, and F. R. Latchford worked up the appearance of a Catholic political demand for Coffee on the outside.

Malt Breakfast Food

Is a Food for Health
Not for Thought.

A breakfast grain food preparation that requires thought, consideration or deliberation before it can be used is not a safe article of diet for health seekers. Life is too short, health too precious and time too valuable to make any article of diet a food for thought.

Malt Breakfast Food, has passed the stage of infancy; it does not demand hours of thought before it can be used; the ablest medical men and the most noted food experts place it at the head of all grain foods because of its health-giving and energy-producing qualities. It is the food for the weak and strong, the athlete and the invalid. All over this continent the fame of Malt Breakfast Food has been established as a health food. All grocers.

Lost Their Way in the Great Storm on Saturday.

Alexander MacMaster, Also of Nova Scotia
Found Frozen to Death on the Roadside—Pitiful Stories of Exposure and Exhaustion—The Storm 'in the West
Just as Bad, and Much Suffering Is the Result of Cold and Lack of Fuel.

Queensport, N. S., Jan. 13.—Two children named King of Port Felix were caught in a sudden storm and died of exposure. They were brother and sister, about 10 years old, and had been visiting friends near Queensport. On Saturday morning they started to walk home in company with Melborne Jamieson of Cole Harbor. On the high barren they were overtaken by the storm.

Jamieson tried to get the children to go with him to Cole Harbor, but they would not go, and took a short cut through the barrens of Port Felix. Jamieson, finding the children obdurate, followed, and overtook them and tried to reach Port Felix. In a blinding snow storm they lost their way. Jamieson put his overcoat and mitts on the children, and carried first one and then the other, and traveled through the deep snow till all three were exhausted.

At one point he kindled a fire and tried to persuade the children to stay by it till he secured help, but the children would not stay. A second attempt was made to kindle a fire, but without success. The boy finally got to the Port Felix road and gave the alarm. A searching party went back and found the girl dead, and Jamieson unable to speak. The boy died of exposure and exhaustion the same evening.

TRAIN FROZEN IN RIVER.

Novel Experience of Wabash Passengers in Detroit River.

Detroit, Jan. 13.—The passengers of the Wabash Railroad's east-bound "Continental Limited" had the unique experience Sunday night and yesterday of being icebound for fifteen hours in the Detroit River on board the transfer steamer Great Western. The train was backed on the ferry here about midnight Sunday night, four hours late, most of the passengers being asleep at the time. When they woke up in the morning they were out in the river in the midst of a great field of ice. It was 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the Great Western finally forced a passage into a landing slip on the Canadian side of the river and the "limited" was pulled off the boat.

About 1 o'clock yesterday, however, the ferry had been near enough to the dock so that some of the male passengers crawled across a ladder from the ferry to the dock. There was no dining car or buffet on the train, and the passengers were a very hungry lot. Lunch was sent aboard for the women and children, and the men passengers who had crawled shore scurried for something to eat. The train left for the east at 3:40 o'clock.

Last night the Wabash was using the Grand Trunk transfer slips, which are further up the river and free of ice, and are thereby making much better time.

Grand Jurors Stalled.

London, Jan. 13.—A somewhat unusual incident marked the opening of the Winter Assizes, before Chief Justice Wm. Meredith yesterday afternoon. The snowstorm had so blocked the roads that no less than four of the grand jurors were unable to reach the city in time, and His Lordship was thus unable to proceed to charge them. He allowed the jurors to go for the day, ordering them to be present at the opening of court this morning.

Suffer From Lack of Fuel.

Kansas City, Jan. 13.—There was no prospect of moderation yesterday in the zero weather prevailing, and suffering because of lack of fuel will prove severe. Similar conditions exist throughout this section.

Fonda, N. Y., Jan. 12.—A terrific blizzard raged in the Mohawk Valley Sunday night. The New York and Central Railway is badly handicapped. The section crews were working all night. Michael Smith of Fonda, foreman of the section gang at Johnsville, was killed yesterday. In getting out of the way of an east-bound train, he stepped in front of the Pacific express, west-bound.
