The Best Exhibition of FALL and WINTER GOODS for 1873. IS NOW SHOWN AT T. BABB'S.

A grand display of plain and fancy dress goods, lusters, merinos, clan tartans, &c., cheap Piles of fancy, checked, scarlet and white flannels, the cheapest lot in the county. A splendid show of ladies and gents' furs, clouds, shawls, mufflers, hosiery, gloves, silk scarfs, real laces and collars, cloakings, blankets, wincies, cottons, trimmings, &c., all offered at prices that cannot be beat. Also a mammoth stock of English cloths, Canada tweeds, black, blue and brown overcoating sold by the yard or made to order on the premises. A glove fitting suit warranted. Groceries, fresh and cheap; magnificent teas. Hardware, paints, oils, varnishes, Japans, putty, turpentine, &c., fresh and warranted pure. Shelf and heavy hardware in abundance. To arrive, a prime lot of buffalo robes.

Two good tailoresses wanted immediately.

STRATFORD. Mr. Huston is already doing a nice bus

ness in his new store on the market. The meeting of Parliament on the 23rd is looked to with interest by all parties, and a few small bets have been made on the result of the first division, the Grits claiming that the Government will not have ten of a majority. Your correspondent would like to get a few takers at these figures.

As an artist, Mr. John Owen takes the lead in Stratford His photographs can scarcely be excelled by even Notman. The beautiful display of portraits in crayons which he made at the Provincial and North Perth Exhibitions were justly admired for their harmony of coloring and artistic handling of subjects. His studio is a few doors east of the Beacon office, which is well worth a visit. All are cordially invited to see his roots.

The awards of the judges at our late show have not, in all cases, given satisfaction. The same carriages that competed here, were shown, it appears, at the Fullarton show, and the carriage that got the first prize in Stratford only got a second in Fullarton. Again, Mr. Valontine Kertcher, Fullarton. Again, Mr. Valentine Kortcher, of Milverton, showed his Provincial prize flour, and although practical men were not slew in declaring it by far the best on the tground, it received no prize, the reason being that two of the judges were dealers in the flour which was awarded first and second prizes. Such unfairness will retaliate to the disadvantage of the society another year. WINGHAM.

At the Turnberry fall show Mr. H. Davis was awarded the 1st prize for two horse carriage; and 1st and 2nd for one horse do. His first prize double carriage was quite a novelty in this part of the country. on Wednesday las; as a young man named Benjamin McCause, of this village, in company with another young man named Tremble, were going out to Turnberry for a lead of hay, they were way-laid on the road near Gregory's mill by a men named Thomas Richardson, who forcibly stopped the horses, and on account of some old dispute, knocked him senseless. He then got in the waggon and beat him with a stick, and then made his escape. McCause was conveyed home in the waggon, and attended to by Dr. McDonald, but he is yet in a very precarious condition.
