Saturday Night's Meeting.

There is some virtue left in that old-fashioned institution, the public meeting. It is not considered so potent in public affairs as it used to be, but there are occasions when nothing else can take its place. Saturday night's meeting in the City Hall was a well-timed protest against the attitude of the City Council on two important questions. It fairly reflected the general indignation provoked by the council and will appeal to some of the aldermen with more force than the sense of public duty has done. One of the offenders announced his conversion on the spot. He had voted for the tearing up of the Rectory street line, but said he had since looked over the ground and had discovered for the first time that this would leave a gap between the southeastern and eastern portions of the city. If this alderman keeps his eyes open he will find some day that Dundas flows towards Springfield. However, a poor excuse is better than none. It is lucky the meeting at which the council voted to abandon Rectory street, proved illegal or the disgraced ratapatties would have had to fight the street railway company in the courts. There is not the slightest doubt that the mayor and council will now back down.

There was no mistaking the temper of the meeting on the electric power question. The council was scathingly denounced for its attempt to deprive local industries of the benefit of competition. As Mr. Gibbons pointed out, cheap power is absolutely necessary if London is to hold its own as a manufacturing center. The city of Detroit has a score of electric light and power plants, many of them operating within an area of two or three blocks. In Buffalo, Cleveland and other American cities, there are also power companies innumerable, the highest degree of competition being encouraged.

One of the aldermen at the meeting had the effrontery to argue that his sole idea in opposing the Sifton company's application was to compel it to grant competition in the outlying portions of the city. In other words, a new electrical concern is to be prevented from doing business and selling power to its neighbors unless it has capital enough to string wires over the whole city. The proposition is outrageous and the aldermen who have advanced it ought to be kicked out of the council in January if they offer for re-election. The utmost freedom of competition must be allowed and is bound to come. Power from Niagara Falls will be transmitted to London in the near future without a doubt.

Ontario's New Settlement.

In watching the movement of population to the Canadian Northwest, we should not overlook a similar movement, on a smaller scale, in our own Province. Settlers are pouring into the Temiscaming district, 40,000 acres of crown lands having been disposed of in May of the present year. Nearly half a million acres, or 24 townships, have been taken up, and ten new townships are now being surveyed for settlement. It has also been decided by the Government to build forty miles of new roads this season. There are millions of acres of good farming land in the Temiscaming country yet unsurveyed, and there is every reason to believe that many thousands will find good homes there. The great drawback of the district is its isolation. It is about 65 miles from the head of Lake Temiscaming, where the nearest railway settlement lies, to the nearest railway station, Keopawa, Que. In summer a line of excellent steamers gives direct communication with points on the Ottawa River, of which the lake is an expansion, but during the winter months the settlers can only reach the outside world by making the journey on foot. This will be remedied by the railway to be built and operated by the Ontario Government, from North Bay to Thornloe. At present the trade of the Temiscaming is largely diverted to the Province of Quebec, but the new railway should throw it directly into the lap of Ontario. The market there is already considerable, and is growing rapidly, so that the producers of this Province should make the most of the advantage which the enterprise of the Government will shortly give to them.

Costly Letters.

Twenty-three letters by Charles Lamb sold separately brought $2,048 in London recently and 11 letters by Shelley sold in one lot brought $505. The original manuscripts of Keats's "Unlabeled Unseen" and the "Hymn to Apollo" sold for $345 and that of parts of "Cap and Bells," £725. Lamb's "The King and Queen of Hearts" fetched $1,200, a first edition of Keats's "Lamia, etc.," $355, and of his "Endymion," $345. Pope's autograph manuscript of "The Pastorals" brought $355 and D. G. Rossetti's manuscript of "Henry the Leper" $250. A first edition of Pope's "The Rape of the Lock" was sold for $305, one of Waverley Novels $425 and one of Charles Lever's works $505. Gavin Douglas' "The Palms of Honor," 1552, brought $175, and "The Famous Victories of Henry the Fifth," 1617, $355.

The Preston Bill.

[Brantford Examiner.]
Mr. Robert Glocking, the secretary of the Ontario Bureau of Labor, has made an amicable settlement of the dispute between the Adams Bros. Harness Company, of Toronto, and its employees. The settlement has been made under the powers conferred by the Ontario Conciliation Bill, which Mr. Whitney declared at the time of its introduction to be not worth the paper it was written on.

Religious Restraint.

[Montreal Star.]
Dr. Parker, who always has a few words ready to fit the occasion, stated yesterday that "some might call Kruger the most snivelling old hypocrite on the face of the earth, but as a Christian minister he was bound not to use such language." And if one of the conversation between two Scots, "If it were na' the Sawbath, Mac, I should be asking ye how much ye'd let for that hair?" "And if it were na' the Sawbath, Thammie, I should be saying two poun'." "And if it were na' the Sawbath, I should say ye wad send it round to-morrow." They got that hay in.

Preachers Becoming Scarce.

[Hartford (Ct.) Times.]
Leaders in several religious bodies are starting an active campaign for an increase of students in theological seminaries. It is found that not enough are graduating to fill the vacancies, not to mention any available men for growth. Leaders who want to improve matters are pointing out that never before were salaries higher, gifts larger or opportunities greater. The number to go into the seminaries this fall is exceedingly small and in the colleges who have announced their intention is even smaller, showing that the dearth of ministers has not yet touched its lowest point. The condition is unprecedented and unexpected.

NEURALGIA

THIS DISTRESSING COMPLAINT IS DUE TO IMPOVERISHED BLOOD.

When the blood becomes thin and watery, as a matter of course you become weak, vitality gets down low, and there is but little power in the system to ward off disease and pain.

Neuralgia hunts out a weak spot, and makes a home there, so secure that it is hard to drive out. But by using the proper remedial it can be driven from the system, never to return. To obtain immediate relief, first apply to the painful parts a good quantity of Polong's Liniment, and then bind on a hot flannel cloth.

This local treatment will be found very efficacious, but must be followed by a course of Ferrigno's treatment. Ferrigno is a blood food, and a blood purifier, and quickly strengthens the system so that further attacks may never be feared. It increases the rich red kind of blood that gives strength and vigor to weak constitutions and puts them in good shape to resist neuralgia attacks.

This combined treatment of Nerviline and Ferrigno in Neuralgia, Sciatica, and Rheumatism, is marvelously effective, and cures after all else has failed. Because of the unique success of these remedies we have no hesitancy in endorsing their use to our readers. All druggists sell them.

Poems the World Has Read.

Patriotism.

[Sir Walter Scott.]

Sir Walter Scott was born at Edinburgh in 1771. He first began his writings by translating Burger and Goethe, but he left this work to take up the Border minstrelsy of his own country. In 1814 he published the first of the well-known "Waverley" novels. He sold his copyrights to the firm of Constable, and as the house failed a few years later, Scott was heavily involved. As he had also recently bought and repaired the estate of Abbotsford, he was in debt for the purchase money, and he wrote incessantly in order to meet his bills, and gave to the world the novels and poems with which all are so familiar. He died in 1832.

Breathes there the man with soul so bold,
Who never to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my native land!"
Whose heart hath beat within him
burn'd,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well!
Well he deserves your aid and zeal!

For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Round his own walls, and sound his fame,
Down to his bosom he will climb,
And his dear country's worth and toil
Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And doubly dying shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung.

LIFE OR DEATH OF THE UNION!

President Mitchell Urges the Miners to Stand Firm.

IS CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Men Who Ignored the Strike Order Will Regret It—Order Re Soft Coal Canceled.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 7.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, delivered an address before the striking firemen, who held a meeting here Saturday. If Mr. Mitchell's remarks are to be taken as the sentiment at strike headquarters, then there is little probability that the miners are yet willing to give up the fight. Mr. Mitchell said:

"I am well pleased with the showing made by the steam men in obeying the strike order, and the firmness displayed by them ever since. This is the battle of our lives, as it means the success or downfall of our union in the anthracite region."

"Of all the strikes my recollection or of any that I have ever participated in, there never was one I was so confident of winning as this one. And let me tell you that the day is not far away when my words will come true. "Those fellow-workers among your craft who refused to accept the strike order and those few who deserted you since will have reasons to regret their action, as they will suffer greatly when this strike is won or lost. I have no doubt that the men who are traitors to a good, upright, honest man, and those men who are now getting patted on the back by the officials of the coal strike, will, at the close of our strike, be treated with scorn by their employers, and one thing that I wish to impress upon you people is, this great strike will never be settled with any consent on our part, and every man that left his place with us in our battle shall be returned to his former position."

Mr. Mitchell also advised the firemen to remain firm and determined, as success was sure to crown their efforts ere long if they did.

Clearfield, Pa., July 7.—An order was issued here Saturday by the United Mine Workers of District No. 2, rescinding the order of June 5, which curtailed the soft coal output of the region by reducing the hours of labor each week. This last order states that the purpose of curtailing the output was to prevent the filling of anthracite orders. This has been achieved and the rescinding order takes effect at once.

Three Boys Drowned.

Detroit, July 7.—That treacherous middle channel at the St. Clair Plats, deserted by vessels as a navigable waterway, claimed three boys and their victims yesterday morning. The unfortunate boys are Tony Henkel, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Henkel, 363 Birch street; Oscar Rosenberg, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rosenberg, 121 East Columbia street, and J. Conrad Brede, the 13-year-old son of J. Conrad Brede, 17 Alfred street.

The accident occurred 15 or 20 feet from Nick Savage's hotel, in 40 feet of water. The boys were in a small dinghy, which had been rigged with a sail. The boat capsized and the three little fellows were plunged into the deep, fast flowing waters, drowning before help could reach them.

His Last Sleep.

Oneida, N. Y., July 7.—George Moorman, of Syracuse, died instantly today on the New York Central here early today, and Norman Hill, of Titusville, Pa., was probably fatally injured. They were riding on an eastbound freight, and went to sleep on a pile of ties. When it began raining Moorman suggested their going to sleep under a box car standing on a siding. Hill went to the car, and Moorman and Hill were run over and carried some distance. Moorman was about 35 years old, and carried a cobbler's kit of repair tools.

AN END TO BILIOUS HEADACHE.—Biliousness, which is caused by excessive bile in the stomach, has a marked effect upon the nerves, and often manifests itself in severe headache. This is the most distressing headache one can have. There are headaches from cold, from fever, from other causes, but the most excruciating of all is the bilious headache. Parment's Vegal cure will cure it almost immediately. It will disappear as soon as the pills operate. There is nothing but a cure in the treatment of bilious headache.

There are now but twelve survivors of the Maryland Society of the California Pioneers. In 1857, when the society was organized, it had 33 members. The society held a reunion in Baltimore recently.

THE NINTH WEEK OF COAL STRIKE

own men in an effort to effect a compromise, but they refused to recognize the officers of the union. The dissatisfaction to the men, as recognition of the union was one of the principal demands made in the proposition submitted to the railroad. Chetty, a P. W. Job, of the state board of arbitration, has been using his best efforts to prevent a strike, but the men claim that they will not get their old jobs, and the railroad to take some action, and the decision at tonight's meeting was the result.

The strike, in all probability, will involve the teamsters, as the latter have declared that they will not deliver freight to the railroads if it is to be handled by non-union men.

RUNNING OF CARS STOPPED.
Pawtucket, R. I., July 7.—Two cars of the United Traction Co. were stalled by a mob of 500 men in Salesville on Monday night, waiting for the rioters cut the curtains to pieces with knives, broke the ventilator windows and battered the woodwork of the cars and this was attacked, but the cars were gotten away. Two cars were attacked in Central Falls, one each at Lonsdale and in this city, despite the efforts of the police to give the employers protection. Finally the running of cars was suspended.

A STRIKE CALLED OFF.
Providence, R. I., July 6.—The strike of motormen and conductors on the United Traction Company's lines in Providence was declared off last night after having been in force since June 3rd.

Business Agent Vetter, of the union, after the Providence meeting, said that the strike was declared off because there had been so many breaks in the ranks of the strikers that it is necessary to stop the strike to allow the operators to make new concessions and the company officials who were seen were of the opinion that the price of coal during the remainder of this year not so high as present figures, but may go higher.

Baltimore, July 7.—One hundred and fifty delegates, representing 17,000 members of the Brotherhood of Boiler-makers and Iron Shipbuilders, met in a convention here today. After the appointment of a committee on credentials the convention adjourned until tomorrow.
