

WHISKARD'S Three Busy Stores

228, 230, 232 Dundas Street

MORE BARGAIN-GIVING

The magnificent response to our uncommonly low prices and the broad inducement of 10 per cent off, encourage us to more bargain-giving. And so we continue to offer all kinds of desirable merchandise at reductions no thrifty buyer can afford to overlook.

COME TO THE GREAT CLEARANCE SALE.

DRESS GOODS.

We haven't told the whole story when we say these lines are superior and the prices just. There's the ten per cent off.

Black Serge, in heavy twill, special at 25c yard—10 per cent off.

Heavy Serge, for suitings, at 39c and 50c yard—10 per cent off.

Costume Cloth, in gray, brown, navy, black; special at 25c yard—10 per cent off. Plaid, in bright colors, regularly sold at 25c, now 19c yard—10 per cent off.

CORSETS.

Three prominent features—true merit, a low price and 10 per cent off.

B & C Up-to-Date Corset, straight front, in white and drab, only $1 a pair—10 per cent off.

Ladies' Corsets, straight front, regularly sold at 50c and 75c, sale price 39c pair—10 per cent off.

HOSIERY.

By all odds the best offerings we've had in many a long day.

Boys' All-Wool Hose, regular 25c, sale price 19c—10 per cent off.

Children's All-Wool Hose, sizes 5 to 7½, worth 25c, now 15c pair—10 per cent off.

Ladies' Ribbed Cashmere Hose, fine quality, worth 25c, for 19c pair—10 per cent off.

Children's All-Wool Hose, special line, small sizes only, at 10c pair.

Ladies' Ribbed Cashmere Hose, extra value, 35c, or 3 pairs $1—10 per cent off.

MILLINERY.

We speak of prettiness, style and economy, in telling of our millinery. Remember the straight 10 per cent off.

Just received a lot of Fine Large Ostrich Feathers, at all prices—10 per cent off.

Children's Pleated-rim Hats, in cardinal, brown, navy and white, special at $1—10 per cent off.

Ladies' Camelhair Ready-to-Wear Hats, worth $1.25, sale price 59c each—10 per cent off.

See Our Trimmed Millinery for style and price.

FOUR SPECIALS.

Each one characterized by close buying, careful selection and a low price.

Black Chiffon Veiling with colored spots, worth 40c, sale price 25c yard—10 per cent off.

Children's Plain Hemstitch Silk Ties, in all colors, usually sold at 25c, sale price 20c each—10 per cent off.

Large assortment of Ladies' Fine Embroidered Handkerchiefs, worth 15c, now 7c each—10 per cent off.

Ladies' Fine Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, and also with valance edge, special 6 for 25c—10 per cent off.

NOTIONS.

The same old story—an added advantage of 10 per cent off.

Hair Brushes, regularly sold for 15c, now 10c each—10 per cent off.

Black Rubber Combs, worth 15c, now 8c each—10 per cent off.

Smoked Pearl Buttons, dozen on card, sale price 5c card—10 per cent off.

DARING BALLOON TRIP

London Aeronaut Attempts to Cross English Channel.

London, Nov. 11. — Rev. J. M. Bacon, the aeronaut, accompanied by official representatives of the naval and military authorities, ascended in a balloon from Douglas, Isle of Man, yesterday, with the object of crossing the channel.

The balloon is fitted with a sail and a trail-rope, for purposes of steering. The gunboat Renard is following so as to be of assistance in case of mishap. The balloon started in a northeasterly direction.

WAGES ARE HIGH

in Northern Ontario and the Demand for Labor is Great.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Robert McCallum, provincial engineer, who has just returned from Northern Ontario, says that men are being paid $25 a day, with jobs begging workmen. He says, "Shantymen, he says, are getting $40 a month as a maximum, and ordinary rates run around $30. Time was recently when $25 was a big wage for a shantymen, and lots of them got only $16. At Fort William laborers on elevators are getting 22 cents an hour and carpenters $3 a day, with jobs begging workmen. Mr. McCallum inspected works on Manitoulin and in the Mississauga River. At the Soo he inspected the system of sewage which is being installed in the provincial buildings. The street railway is ready to begin operations. He reports, in brief, that the town now excels its American competitor in many respects. The streets are paved and a complete new sewerage system installed.

Baby keep you awake? It won't if you try Norman's Teething Necklace, 50 cents by mail. A. STOTT & JURY, BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

CANCERS AND TUMORS

Permanently Cured by the New Constitutional Medication.

The new system of treating cancers, tumors, lupus, and all malignant growths, has done away with the need of the Surgeon's Knife and the painful plaster. Besides this, it is effectual, when these and all other forms of treatment fail.

It is a simple vegetable compound, which, when taken into the system, neutralizes and destroys the cancer germs and poisons and expels them from the system.

Complete details of this pleasant home method of treating malignant growths will be sent to anyone on receipt of two stamps. Address: A. STOTT & JURY, BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

A Red Hot Season

During the hot summer season the blood gets overheated, the drain on the system is severe and the appetite is often lost. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies and invigorates the blood, tones up the system and restores lost appetite.

BOSTON MURDER INQUIRY

Alan G. Mason, the Boston Clubman, Released.

The Negro, G. L. O. Perry, Held for the Crime.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11.—The discharge of Alan G. Mason, the Boston clubman, accused of the murder of Clara A. Morton, at Waverley, a week ago last Saturday night, was ordered by Judge Charles Almy.

The Government lawyer announced that investigation did not disclose evidence sufficient to hold the accused man, and the court at once ordered the discharge of Mason.

Almost immediately after, in the same court, George L. O. Perry, the young negro who was charged with the murder of Miss Morton, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded without bail for a hearing Nov. 18.

After his release, Mason held an informal reception, and was then driven to his home in Boston.

Before Perry was taken back to jail a number of persons were permitted to have a look at him. One of the witnesses in the Mason case, Miss Albert, who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton, identified him as a Waverley restaurant, identified him as the negro woman who saw in Waverley on the night of the assault upon Miss Morton.

Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

Then he threatened the police. Finally he was taken back to the Cambridge jail. Although Perry was released, he was not free. He was held in the police station at Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemes, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who had been charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

LABOR UNIONS SCORED

President Elliot, of Harvard, Says the "Scab" Is a Hero.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 11.—It was to the great surprise of the members of the Economic Club of Boston at their banquet last night that President Elliot, of Harvard, denounced the labor unions of the country as opposed to the education of young men, and what he termed "the fight against the development of manly instincts."

In closing he characterized the strike breaker, or "scab," as he called him, as "a good type of an American hero."

The speakers included John A. Hobson, the English political economist; Frank K. Porter, of the American Federation of Labor; and Prof. Frank Parsons, president of the National Public Ownership League.

The principal objection to the labor unions from the educators' point of view, he said, was their objection to young men becoming competent mechanics. That they do prevent this is evident from the fact that all unions attempt to limit the number of apprentices employed in any industry.

The right to labor is considered the most sacred right of the American citizen. President Elliot's objection to the American labor union was, he said, that the prime object of the labor union seemed to be to work as few hours as possible, produce as little as possible during that time, and to receive as much money as possible for the service given.

The returned Doukhobors arrived here at noon yesterday. The men from the Yorkton villages were immediately unloaded and placed in the aerometer and stables, where they were made comfortable. On the train were Mr. Frank Pedley, superintendent of immigration, and Mr. W. Speers, traveling immigration agent, besides a detachment of over twenty of the Northwest Mounted Police.

The men pre-arranged to be met by the immigration officials at the station. They were in better condition, generally speaking, besides being better and more warmly clothed, Carson's hall has been turned into a barracks room for the detachment of mounted police.

The last chapter of the Doukhobors' pilgrimage began when the Government officials started the Swan River contingent on their way home. Early this morning Mr. Pedley, Mr. Speers and an interpreter went through the cars and told them that they would be taken out. Wagons were provided for them, and they were told that if they wished to avail themselves of the chance they might ride, but if not they would be compelled to walk.

About 8:30 a.m. a number of Northwest Mounted Police were lined up in front of the cars, and the people were given the choice of coming willingly. Mr. Speers started off with one of the leaders, and the others reluctantly followed. Everything went fairly well for about a quarter of a mile, when they halted, and were found necessary to load several of the leaders, very much against their will, into wagons, where they were kept. Again the procession started, this time slowly, as though they were anxious to turn back.

Later reports say the men are getting along easily toward their villages. THE EXPENSE INCURRED.

Ontario, Nov. 13.—The expense incurred by the Government in providing for the Doukhobors who started out on a pilgrimage, but returned to Yorkton, has been estimated at $1,000.

Smart, deputy minister of the interior, borne by the Doukhobors themselves. NOT ALL TO BLAME.

"It is utterly absurd," said Mr. Smart, "to condemn the whole Doukhobor population of the west for the attitude of even those who were led into the pilgrimages, as they do not form one-fifth of the Doukhobors who have settled in the Northwest Territories. From the reports in the department, as well as from personal observation, I am of opinion that these people have prospered beyond their own expectations or the expectations of others."

A TEACHER'S HEROISM She Stopped Runaway, Saved Two Young Women, and Won't Talk.

Hammond, N. J., Nov. 12.—Miss Naomi Caldwell, a teacher in the public schools of Woodbury, and who is visiting friends here, with rare presence of mind and at the risk of injury or loss of her own life, stopped a runaway horse drawing a carriage, in which were seated Miss Annie Lyngner and Miss Anna Condy yesterday.

The young women were out carriage riding when their horse took fright at the noise of escaping steam and started off at a gallop. Miss Caldwell saw the team coming and tried to stop the horse by standing in the road and waving her arms.

Of course she failed, but she promptly grabbed its bridle and held fast while the animal dragged her across the road, over a ditch and into the woods, where it stopped.

In crossing the ditch the carriage was upset, and the young women were thrown out, but they were more frightened than injured. Miss Caldwell's arms are badly scratched and her clothing was torn, but she didn't mind that. She is a tall, athletic young woman, and refused to talk on the subject.

Death of Former G. T. R. Conductor. Windsor, Nov. 12.—Wm. Hafford, aged 75, a former G. T. R. conductor, is dead here. Mr. Hafford owned considerable real estate in Windsor and an orange plantation in Florida.

Barrie, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Eber Graham, a bride and groom, of Guilford, were charivari by a group of young men last night, and the consequences were such that the date will prove to be a memorable one for many of those who participated.

The party was composed of a group of horse fiddlers, with musical instruments, played such an important part in the charivari that the din was heard for many a mile around, and attracted many of the neighbors to the scene.

Among the latter was Mr. John Harper, of Stroud, just as he arrived at a point on the road opposite Graham's house, he was shot down by George Hattenly, one of the wedding guests, who was trying to disperse the crowd, which had gathered about the premises.

The charge took effect in Harper's legs, and as blood poisoning is feared he has been refused for Mattenly, who was arrested by High Constable Beardsley, and lodged in the Simcoe County jail at Barrie.

The charge laid against him is "shooting with intent to murder." The prisoner has acknowledged firing the shot which did the damage, but claims that he did not see the victim, and only fired the gun to clear the crowd.

Fifteen of the young men who participated in the charivari were brought before Magistrate Ryan, but the charge against them was withdrawn on payment of the costs, amounting to about $100. Mattenly has been remanded to the 17th, until the case of the injured man has an opportunity of developing.

Cock-Fighting in Cuba. Havana, Cuba, Nov. 12.—A public demonstration was held here on Monday in the heart of legal cock-fighting in Cuba and rescinding the military order prohibiting it. There were five bands of music in the procession and 500 countrymen on foot and on horseback turned out for the occasion.

The demonstrators were refused an audience by President Palma, but presented their petition to the Senate.

DEADLY FUN Participant in a Charivari Shot in the Leg—Charge of "Intent to Kill."

Barrie, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Eber Graham, a bride and groom, of Guilford, were charivari by a group of young men last night, and the consequences were such that the date will prove to be a memorable one for many of those who participated.

The party was composed of a group of horse fiddlers, with musical instruments, played such an important part in the charivari that the din was heard for many a mile around, and attracted many of the neighbors to the scene.

Among the latter was Mr. John Harper, of Stroud, just as he arrived at a point on the road opposite Graham's house, he was shot down by George Hattenly, one of the wedding guests, who was trying to disperse the crowd, which had gathered about the premises.

The charge took effect in Harper's legs, and as blood poisoning is feared he has been refused for Mattenly, who was arrested by High Constable Beardsley, and lodged in the Simcoe County jail at Barrie.

The charge laid against him is "shooting with intent to murder." The prisoner has acknowledged firing the shot which did the damage, but claims that he did not see the victim, and only fired the gun to clear the crowd.

Fifteen of the young men who participated in the charivari were brought before Magistrate Ryan, but the charge against them was withdrawn on payment of the costs, amounting to about $100. Mattenly has been remanded to the 17th, until the case of the injured man has an opportunity of developing.

Cock-Fighting in Cuba. Havana, Cuba, Nov. 12.—A public demonstration was held here on Monday in the heart of legal cock-fighting in Cuba and rescinding the military order prohibiting it. There were five bands of music in the procession and 500 countrymen on foot and on horseback turned out for the occasion.

The demonstrators were refused an audience by President Palma, but presented their petition to the Senate.

DEADLY FUN Participant in a Charivari Shot in the Leg—Charge of "Intent to Kill."

Barrie, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Eber Graham, a bride and groom, of Guilford, were charivari by a group of young men last night, and the consequences were such that the date will prove to be a memorable one for many of those who participated.

The party was composed of a group of horse fiddlers, with musical instruments, played such an important part in the charivari that the din was heard for many a mile around, and attracted many of the neighbors to the scene.

Among the latter was Mr. John Harper, of Stroud, just as he arrived at a point on the road opposite Graham's house, he was shot down by George Hattenly, one of the wedding guests, who was trying to disperse the crowd, which had gathered about the premises.

The charge took effect in Harper's legs, and as blood poisoning is feared he has been refused for Mattenly, who was arrested by High Constable Beardsley, and lodged in the Simcoe County jail at Barrie.

The charge laid against him is "shooting with intent to murder." The prisoner has acknowledged firing the shot which did the damage, but claims that he did not see the victim, and only fired the gun to clear the crowd.

Fifteen of the young men who participated in the charivari were brought before Magistrate Ryan, but the charge against them was withdrawn on payment of the costs, amounting to about $100. Mattenly has been remanded to the 17th, until the case of the injured man has an opportunity of developing.

Cock-Fighting in Cuba. Havana, Cuba, Nov. 12.—A public demonstration was held here on Monday in the heart of legal cock-fighting in Cuba and rescinding the military order prohibiting it. There were five bands of music in the procession and 500 countrymen on foot and on horseback turned out for the occasion.

The demonstrators were refused an audience by President Palma, but presented their petition to the Senate.

DEADLY FUN Participant in a Charivari Shot in the Leg—Charge of "Intent to Kill."

Barrie, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Eber Graham,