districts in the New York city and Long Island gave his opponents a plurality averaging more than two to one. The Taft leaders said today that they had no fear of a possible new primary, which Governor Dix will be asked to order in New York city on account of a mix-up n the delivery of ballots that deprived many electors of every party of a chance ion cost the Taft delegates as many votes as it did the Roosevelt candidates. At the same time both sides joined in promises to ask for a second primary
