SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

British Columbia Telegraph.

Editorial: British Columbia. The line is completed to this place and several messages have been sent and received to-day.

Weather fine. The river steamer Onward sailed Thursday for New Westminster.

Europe.

The Belgian Minister here is authorized to contradict positively the statement that the passage of wounded Prussians through Belgium territory has been either permitted or attempted.

A Rheims dispatch of the 23rd says it is supposed that the armies of McMahon and Bazaine had effected a junction and were supported by a quadrilateral composed of the fortresses of Montmedy, Verdun, Thionville and Metz. They will await attack. It is not expected that anything important will occur for two days.

New York, Aug 25—The Tribune's special from London to-day says the Bank of England has reduced the rate of discount to 4 per cent.

It is believed the Crown Prince will join Stenmetz in front of Metz. There are strong detachments at Metz and Brienne.

The garrison at Metz made a sortie yesterday. Seven hundred Prussians were killed and wounded in the action that followed.

London, Aug 25—Paris is utterly without aid from the seat of war. The entrenchment around Metz is complete.

It is believed that a deputation of the Corps Legislatif have gone to the Emperor to demand his abdication.

La Liberté, referring to information received from private sources, says a siege of Paris is altogether impossible now.

La Patrie reports formally that the Prussians were defeated in a battle on Sunday. Strasburg was again bombarded without result on the 23rd.

It is believed here that the Prussians will not hurry their attack on Paris, but will first attend to Bazaine, leaving the Crown Prince to watch McMahon.

Paris, Aug 25—The Figaro this evening contains the following: A person who arrived from the vicinity of Epernay this afternoon says he was informed there that the Prussians were defeated to-day between Verdun and Chalons.

London, Aug 25—There is great excitement this afternoon at the Stock Exchange over the rumor that the Crown Prince had been defeated by the French under McMahon. The rumored repulse of the Prussians, although creating the wildest excitement, can be traced to no credible source.

New York, Aug 25—The German banks to-day received telegrams from Hamburg stating that the French fleet was preparing for attack. Stirring news from the North Sea and the Baltic may be received any moment.

Berlin, Aug 26—4 p.m.—The army under the Crown Prince of Saxony is forming to co-operate with the movement on Paris.

Kobl was nearly rased to the ground by the French shells.

Paris, Aug 25—La République says important information was received to-day by the Government concerning the numbers and position of the enemy. Prince Frederick Charles' corps and portions of the King's army, under Guine, are marching on Paris, while Stenmetz is left to hold Bazaine.

The Prussians may reach Paris in six days.

London, Aug 25—Berlin dispatches say moving with the greater part of his army to relieve William and join the Crown Prince.

Paris advices report eight departments in possession of the enemy, viz: Upper and Lower Rhine, Moselle, Meurthe, the Meuse, Vosges, Marne, and Haute Marne. They contain over three million inhabitants. Great suffering prevails in consequence of the Prussian requisitions.

Letters from Rheims, and one received via Belgium, from the French Camps, reports Bazaine gained great advantage in the battle of the 23rd, having captured many guns and prisoners.

Pfalzburg still continues in a state of defence. A suburb and twenty one houses have been destroyed by the enemy's shells, and the garrison has repulsed two assaults, in which the Prussians lost 1500. The town is well supplied with provisions and munitions of war. It has been summoned to capitulate, but the commander replies that he will blow the place up first.

Paris, Aug 26—The Journal Official publishes the declaration of the blockade of the Baltic coast of Germany.

London, Aug 26—10 p.m.—The Prussian cavalry is reported at Dammeritz, St Remy, Brienne, San Drea and Chateau Thierry. The latter is fifty miles from Paris.

Frederick Charles is marching on Paris direct.

New York, Aug 25—The Herald's special from London to-day says the Bank of England has reduced the rate of discount to 4 per cent.

It is believed the Crown Prince will join Stenmetz in front of Metz. There are strong detachments at Metz and Brienne.

London, Aug 26—10 p.m.—The Prussian cavalry is reported at Dammeritz, St Remy, Brienne, San Drea and Chateau Thierry. The latter is fifty miles from Paris.

The Herald's cable special correspondent at Bar le Duc says, Bazaine is surrounded in Metz by the Prussians, and it is expected he will be compelled to capitulate, his troops being short of provisions.

The Tribune's cable special has the best information about Bazaine, and says that the German official telegrams now prove that he is shut up in Metz. He estimates Bazaine's strength at about 60,000. McMahon's army can't exceed 100,000. The Prussian force left at Metz, or within supporting distance, is computed at 250,000 or 300,000, after 100,000 which were sent to reinforce the Crown Prince.

There are now 20,000 French prisoners in Germany.

San Francisco, Aug 27—A New York special says advices from Berlin say that after four days hesitation and delay, caused by the movement of McMahon, the Crown Prince has been ordered to push forward to Paris without delay. It is believed that the city will not be invested. Communications will be cut off and Paris entered by a storming column of 190,000. When Paris is captured, together with the French Government, no matter what French armies are in the field, it is believed in Berlin there would be an end to the war. The French army under Bazaine and McMahon, according to private advices received from Paris, are at Montmedy and Metz, whether they have returned, so that the Crown Prince may have actually a field to march to Paris, and when once in the clutches of Trochu, who is perfectly able to take care of the capital, McMahon will sweep down on his rear and gain them fier than powder.

Up to Wednesday, says a dispatch from Berlin, the armies of King William and Prince Charles have been reinforced by over 130,000 men, and by next Sunday 200,000 will be at the front. King William telegraphed to the Queen and Van Wert that the war would be over in 20 days. Sixty thousand of these reserves, under the Duke of Saxony, will form the reserve of the Crown Prince's army and have already united with him, making a total force of two hundred thousand.

It is reported that a battle began at 11 o'clock this morning ten miles from Montmedy, between the French under Bazaine and the Prussians under Stenmetz. Nothing known of the result.

According to French reports Lunéville is so filled with wounded that 30,000 are left in the streets unburied.

Paris, Aug 26—Midnight—The following news has been made public at the office of the Minister of the Interior: The Prussians are pushing through Nancy and going towards Chalons. The siege of Toul has been abandoned, owing to the vigorous resistance by the garrison.

The Prussians count on the railway at La Manly, between Montmedy and Metz. They were repulsed by the French sharpshooters and the railroad repaired.

London, Aug 27—The ratification of the treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium has been interchanged here by representatives of various European powers.

The junction of Bazaine with McMahon is not yet effected.

It is predicted that the terms of peace between France and Prussia embrace the following points—The Vosges to be the future boundary, Bar le Duc to remain French territory, Province of Alsace to be partitioned between Bavaria and Baden, Wurtemberg being anti-Prussian to get nothing.

Paris, Aug 27—It is reported that the Government are preparing a note to be addressed to representatives abroad, announcing that France will prosecute war to the last extremity. No proposals looking to peace will be entertained as long as the enemy are on French soil.

London, Aug 27—Austria has concurred in the declaration of neutrality, as is proposed by England and already accepted by Italy.

Berlin, Aug 26—The Prussian General headquarters are temporarily at St Dizier. At 8 o'clock this morning Metz was completely invested. Bazaine, who is in command there, makes no effort for a passage.

London, Aug 27—A letter from a correspondent at Rheims, dated Aug 24, says it is reported that Bazaine with a portion of his army, is between Montmedy and Longwy on the Belgian frontier where he is awaiting the arrival of McMahon. The report is considered doubtful.

The Paris correspondent of the Telegraph writes that the Emperor is actually suspended. His Cabinet remains in power only because its chief was thought to possess administrative ability. The new government of Paris—Trochu and the committee of defence—now rules France absolutely.

Paris, Aug 27—Yesterday detachments of Uhlans attacked the railroad at Epernay. Some of them entered the town and were repulsed with loss.

A strong force of Prussian artillery has entered Chalons.

The Strasburg garrison made a successful sortie yesterday.

Detachments of Prussians are reported to-day at Rheims, Varennes, Verdun, Barle-Duc and Stenay and on the railroad between Soissons and Rheims.

Paris, Aug 27—Midnight—The following official intelligence was made public on the 25th at 9 a.m.: Verdun was attacked by the Prussians 100,000 strong, commanded by the Crown Prince of Saxony. After three hours' fighting, during which 300 shells were thrown into the city, the Prussians were repulsed with considerable loss. Movement of the Prussians along the Aube seem to have been arrested, they are falling back on St Dizier. Large bodies of infantry are passing through Lunéville.

Paris, Aug 28—McMahon's main army is at St. Etienne. The Emperor is at Rezonville and the Prince Imperial is at Bethel. The Prussians are pushing their scouts as far as Meulency.

London, Aug 28—Private telegrams from Baden say the Prussians have 300,000 troops along the line of the railroad ready to move across the Rhine to reinforce either German army in case of defeat. No tidings of Bazaine at Metz. There will be heavy fighting soon.

London, Aug 28—The following official dispatch is dated Bar-le-Duc, Saturday night: The garrison of Vitry surrendered on Thursday morning. The Prussians captured 16 guns, 17 French officers and 850 soldiers. Two battalions of the French guard mobile were annihilated by Prussian cavalry.

A special to the World says it is reported that a battle occurred yesterday near Rheims. Heavy cannonading was heard, but nothing has been received. The engagement was probably between McMahon's army and that of Prince Frederick Charles.

The army of the Crown Prince at Bar-le-Duc has been joined by part of King William's army. The united army is moving rapidly and will probably be before Paris on Tuesday or Wednesday.

A revolution at Munich is threatened.

Bussels, Aug 17—A special to the New York Sun says the Prussians summoned Longwy to surrender, but the commanding officer refused.

Paris, via Brussels, Aug 28—The sieges of Strasburg, Toul, Thionville and Metz have made no progress.

The capitulation of Bazaine for want of supplies is expected.

Bussels, Aug 28—Prussian scouting parties are at Metz, one hour from Paris.

Paris, Aug 28—The Herald's special says there are flying rumors of a battle, but they are not confirmed.

London, Aug 29—The Russian and French Ambassadors at neutral Courts have asked the interposition of the Great Powers to guarantee the French dynasty.

A French frigate is cruising in St. George's Channel.

Geo Trochu has issued a proclamation ordering all strangers and natives of countries now at war with France, who are not naturalized citizens, to leave Paris and the Department of the Seine within three days.

Paris, Aug 29—The Montevideo of the 27th says the attack by McMahon and Bazaine on the Prussians near Metz may be delayed for a day or two. Meanwhile the road to Paris is open and the arrival here of the Prussians must be looked for according to daily marches, in about six days. Perhaps they may arrive sooner. It would serve no purpose to conceal this.

Paris, Aug 29—The following is official: The Prussians under Prince Royal have been going toward Snipps (?) The German forces in the department of the Aube, having abandoned their encampment, are marching on Soissons. Twenty-five thousand Prussians have recently passed Jerville, going in the direction of Nancy and Montmedy. Twenty-five thousand Prussian cavalry have passed through Chalons, going toward Epernay. Strasburg and Strasburg still hold out.

London, Aug 29—Prussian Landwehr are investing Thionville, the Prussians hold all southern Atac.

11 a.m.—It is reported that McMahon was defeated in a great battle with the Crown Prince which began on the evening of Sunday. The latest dispatches report the conflict as not yet decided and the fighting is now going on between Charleville and Ardennes. A republican conspiracy has been discovered in south Germany. A coup d'etat at Madrid is looked for. It was Bismarck who ordered the immediate advance on Paris. The King acquiesced though his generals strongly opposed it until McMahon had been disposed of.

Luxembourg, Aug 28, Eve—There has been fighting all day at the villages of Dunbawen, Sterway and Verdun. The firing was steady from morning till night. No particulars received.

Bussels, Aug 29—Bazaine continues under the walls of Metz. The Prussians report typhus fever to be raging dreadfully among the troops at Metz, rendering a long resistance impossible.

London, Aug 29—A French war steamer has anchored here. Her officers have been requested to act on an official note to leave.

The Emperor is at Best Theunville, about 25 miles north of Chalons.

McMahon is near Stenay.

The Uhlans occupy Montmedy.

It was reported that General Stenmetz had been displaced, and that in consequence of the great losses incurred, his force has been incorporated with those of the Crown Prince. It now seems the report is false.

The Prussians have appeared at Dieppe, 14 miles north of Chalons. They are also in the valley of Aube and are concentrating at Forney.

Sixty thousand troops have left Paris to join McMahon.

Americans are rapidly leaving Paris.

Another heart sickening outrage was perpetrated here yesterday on a girl 13 years old, a daughter of an excellent family in Brooklyn, Alameda County, who was taken from her home, as is supposed, by a railroad contractor, who brought her to this city, drugged and violated her. She found her way to the Occidental Hotel in an almost insensible condition. She was taken home by her father who was in search of her, where she died last night. Our officers are working up the case. The excitement in Alameda Co. in regard to the beastly outrage is intense, and if the wretch who committed the act is caught he will run a little risk of being lynched. Some who have examined the case think the took poison voluntarily to hide her shame after the outrage had been perpetrated upon her.

The Jury in the Brotherton Forgery case, defendants being charged with forging checks of Treadwell & Co., was discharged last night as was anticipated; they stood 9 for and 3 against conviction.

Business is generally very dull.

The war news surprises even the warmest German patriots and entirely confounds the French who can give no satisfactory explanation of the unanticipated advance of the Prussians on Paris.

Mr. Seward having expressed a desire to avoid all public demonstrations as far as possible, no formal reception will be given him in San Francisco. To-morrow his party will visit the Cliff House in the morning and returning go to Belmont to spend Sunday with Ralston. On Monday he will visit the British Frigate Zealous.

It is rumored that the Grand Jury will be called upon to inquire into the management of the Brotherton case, bribery being suspected.
