REVIEWS WORK
OF THE SESSION

Hon. Richard McBride Sums Up the Work Done By the Legislature

WAS SHARP AND DECISIVE

Different Acts Passed Dealing With Various Departments of Government

(From Sunday's Daily)
"It is a little late, is it not?" queried Premier McBride, as the representative of the Colonist asked him for a result of the work of the late session of the legislature.
"Better late than never," was the response, "besides, good things are always in season."
"I have no objection, if you have none," said the Premier, "to your remark; but, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "if the Colonist is accused of publishing belated news, the responsibility is on you, not on me."
"We cheerfully accept the responsibility," remarked the Colonist representative, and, with this prologue, the interview proceeded with.
There were two things about the late session that especially pleased me," began Mr. McBride. "The first was, it was short, sharp and decisive, and to use a familiar phrase, the second was that the average standard of debate was higher than it ever has been in my experience of the House, and, what is still more gratifying, the amenities of debate were, with a very few exceptions, well observed."
"I suppose it might be well in dealing with a general review of the work of the session, which was of a most important character throughout, to consider it under the different departments under which the various measures might fall—such as finance, agriculture, mining, education, land, timber, and so on."

The Treasury.
"To begin with finance, the minister in charge of that department, Captain Tatlow, presented a highly gratifying budget, introduced one or two measures that have met with much favor, and made announcements of other good things in prospect. The careful guardianship of the treasury, the cooperation with the opening up of new sources of revenue, have been the credit of the province, and placed it higher than it ever was before, and have also not increased the public debt, and afforded substantial surpluses, but have led to an extraordinary reduction of our debt, and short time. These results have, very gratifyingly, led the government to reduce the tax on the land, and well, it has been a very successful session, to reduce taxation in several directions, and to increase the appropriations for our most needed public works. The province is now in a position in which it never was before to prepare for the future. The budget has called 'New British Columbia,' to undertake surveys on a considerable and systematic scale, to meet the further responsibilities that the advance of new lines of transcontinental railways will impose, the nature of which need not discuss, and to increase the provision on many previous occasions, the success of our financial policy, the putting out of unsettled conditions, and the general trend of our legislation and administration, has had a direct effect upon the activities of the country in restoring confidence and creating prosperity. We do not claim all the credit for that, but the Premier had, and the unexampled progress of the past few years, but I do say the management of the province, in the ways I have indicated, has largely contributed to those ends."

Agriculture.
"Before leaving the work of Captain Tatlow, it would be well to refer to his other department, namely, that of agriculture. The high honors obtained by repeated exhibitions in the middle west, and in Great Britain, have greatly stimulated the industry.
We know now that we have a commercial future in the fruit-growing of our own in Canada, and I look to this country becoming one of the very best and greatest producers in the Empire.
A special feature of the policy of the department has been to carefully guard the fruit of the province from pests and diseases of all kinds, and to encourage the best methods of the cultivation, packing and shipping.
These efforts have placed British Columbia in a very favored position in the markets. Agriculture generally has advanced with rapid strides, and immense amount of information has been furnished through the Bureau of fruit growing, and the Department of Agriculture, in the form of bulletins and otherwise in response to enquiries, which are constantly on the increase."

"Notwithstanding the criticism directed against the Government in connection with its endeavors to supply the pressing demands for farm labor through the agency of the Salvation Army, these have been productive of excellent results. The recent arrival of immigrants, brought out by that organization, have all been located, and so far as we know are giving good satisfaction. The demand is still more, showing that we are supplying a real need of the country. The mistake made by the critics of the government was in supposing that the government was displacing existing labor, and aiding in the process, the competition of newcomers. We were very careful in guarding the interests of the laboring classes, and in the Department of Agriculture, in the form of bulletins and otherwise in response
the increase."

Railway Legislation
"I presume, in the present circumstances, you would say that our legislation with respect to railways was amongst the most important of the session, and I agree with you. The great feature of the government's policy in the Dominion government with the Grand Trunk Pacific with reference to the settling of terminals at Prince Rupert, the recognition of the rights of the province to the Indian reserve in that vicinity, the excellent bargain made whereby the province secured participation in the values of real estate, and at the same time guaranteed the immediate construction of the railway from this end, with purchase of all supplies from our own people, are all considerations of great importance, and mean millions of money to British Columbia in the end, without, too, cost to the Government. It is gratifying that we give the Grand Trunk Pacific exemption from taxation for ten years in their main and branch lines, and the aggregate that will amount to but a small proportion of the revenues to be derived from real estate at Prince Rupert. In a word, the provincial government was able to, and did, secure to the province what the Dominion government should and did not. The federal authorities juggled with the question in such a way as to make the people on the coast believe that they were going to have a railway immediately, whereas four years have elapsed without a word being turned.

Railway Assessment
"Another measure was the railway assessment act, whereby the government is enabled to enter into negotiations with railway companies for the immediate construction of railways in the province without having to wait for the meeting of the legislature, on the basis of exemption from taxation for ten years. By entering into an arrangement with the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway the government was able to insure the commencement of the extension of the line to Alberni.
As the government has to lay all the papers connected with any such agreement before the legislature, it is not before its opening, they are in a way of opportunity of the power vested in the executive being abused, even if that body were inclined to take advantage of such opportunity. The government could also have departed from the well-understood policy of the legislature, and on the other hand it is sometimes possible, as in the instance referred to, to greatly facilitate railway construction as a consequence of this power. It would be to state here that the fair wage clause inserted in the act fully protects the workmen of the railway, and the extension of the line to Alberni.

University Bill
"Important bills were also introduced by Hon. Dr. Yule, and refer to the university bill and the bill reorganizing the civil service. The preparatory action and presentation of the details of these won many encomiums from both sides of the house and from the country. This university bill of last session was well thought out in every detail, and guarantees that when the university of the institution are opened it will be found modern in every respect. It will be sufficiently endowed to make a comparison with any of the leading schools of the Dominion, and worthy of the great province of which it is the honor to be a part.
It is the intention, as explained by the minister of education, to make practical as well as academic in its curriculum, so as to render the training received applicable to the export department of our rich and varied resources, particularly those concerned in mining and agriculture.
The bill also provides for the establishment of a position to supplement and complete the steps already taken for which the authority of the legislature was obtained.
Civil Service Measure
"In reference to the civil service bill, it gives effect to a policy which the government has had in view ever since it came into office. In making appointments, either new or to fill vacancies, we have steadily kept in mind the principle of promotion, and almost invariably acted upon it, but the bill now before the house contains provisions that will ensure that the principle should be properly classified, and that the system in which merit and priority of service should be the chief and the only standard.
Great satisfaction resulted from the announcement in the house by the minister of education that the government has decided in the direction of supplying free school books. This, it must be remembered, is limited to text books, and other text books will be supplied at cost. The government has not adopted this as a final policy but is making an experiment which is likely to become a permanent feature of the educational system. Mr. Wilson, one of the inspectors, will have charge of the distribution of these books which will begin with the ending of the present fiscal year.

The Natal Act
"As you know, the discussion of the Natal Act, including the question of the question of exclusion of Oriental labor, were prominently before the house, and were productive of the best and the most stirring debates, and the greater part of the session was taken up with the discussion of this question. It is a question of connection with these matters, the constitutional issues which arose out of the action of the lieutenant-governor, and the competency of the legislature to deal with such matters at all, were given in the Natal Act, as passed by the legislature, is to remain effective, is a question for the court to decide, and it is not for the government to assume a political aspect, and to be forced into the political arena as one of the issues between the province and the Dominion which must be fought out at the polls.
OPIUM FROM VICTORIA
SEIZED ON UMATILLA
Contraband Drug to Amount of 250 Pounds Discovered and Confiscated by Customs

On the arrival of the steamer Umatilla at San Francisco from this port last week, the engine room of the Victoria were confiscated by customs officials who were advised from this city that the steamer had on board the customs officials searched for some hours before discovering the opium, which was hidden in a box under the engine. The smugglers were not apprehended, nor could the officers learn their identity.
A few weeks ago, acting on advice from the local office, the customs men at San Francisco made an exhaustive search of the engine room of the City of Puebla, and after tearing up woodwork and other furniture found several hundred pounds in a dark nook of the ship, where it had been placed by one of the crew. No arrests were possible, but the men whom the officers have spotted are being watched, and the business have since been closely watched.

Whinnip, Man, May 1.—To-day the historic town of St. Boniface passed from the former status of a town and incorporated as a city.
The suggestions conveyed through him were quite impossible of acceptance, and the only course open to the government was to assert its rights by assuming control and allowing the issues to be fought out in the courts.
The attorney-general is a powerful, most energetic, careful and competent, in dealing with the immense amount of work which has devolved upon him by reason of the many important questions coming before his department.
The policy of the government with regard to mining has been to leave that industry severely alone so far as amendments in order to satisfy factory acts are concerned. This attitude on the part of the mines department has been to give increased confidence to investors that their investments and interests will not be interfered with or rendered unstable by legislation, which was in former years changed from year to year, which, as a consequence, frequently left the mine owner in a very uncertain state as to his rights. The mining industry is in a very prosperous condition, and the output of this year remains much larger than before.
There was only one act of special comment, which may be regarded as affecting mining interests, and that was the loan authorized by the legislature to assist in establishing an experimental plant for the recovery and purpose of treating zinc-lead ores. This was heartily approved of by both the government and the industry, and in view of the possibilities of treating this class of ore, in case the experiment proves successful, it will be many times worth what it will cost the government, although we do not expect to take much risk in that respect.
Coal Tax Act
There is another measure which, though it affects the mining industry, is really more a matter of finance. I refer to the bill abolishing all royalties on coal and placing a straight tax of 10 cents per ton on coal and 15 cents per ton on coke. This will substantially increase the royalty on coal, and curbing any hardships on the coal operators, and will fairly apportion the incidence of taxation, the royalty which is imposed on the miner, and the royalty which is imposed on the consumer.
The Crown's Nest Pass mines could not be imposed on the old Vancouver Island mines, which were levied before the royalty came in force. Now all mines are on the same basis.
I must not forget to refer to the change in the constitution of the water-department of lands and works. This important office is to be divided, and the duties which it has heretofore performed are to be divided into two branches, and another of public works.
This has been found necessary owing to the tremendous amount of work under both these branches of the service, particulars of which I gave when the bill was under discussion.
Timber Industry
"With reference to the legislation in regard to questions connected with the lands and works department, the course in placing the timber management in the hands of the province, the decision to investigate carefully the conditions which affect the timber industry for the purpose of framing sound, permanent policy, the cautious but wise amendments introduced by Mr. Fulton, and the move in the direction of effective legislation with respect to importation of timber, and the water rights, were all decidedly in the public interests.
"The discussion of labor resolutions and legislation connected with the large amount of time, as before remarked. Incidentally, a number of the measures which were introduced involved labor interests, and in each case care was taken to conserve them as far as possible, and to give effect to the public interest.

RESIGNATION OF THE

F. Mr. Logan Has Left Service of Provincial Government —His Plans

(From Sunday's Daily)
The resignation of F. Mr. Logan, as commissioner of dairy and livestock, has been received by the provincial government, and it is understood that the minister of agriculture, E. G. Tatlow, yesterday morning, and acknowledged by a note in which Mr. Logan's plans and services are referred to in flattering terms and best wishes extended for his future success.
In an interview Mr. Logan announced that he had decided to leave the civil service for the purpose of engaging in the dairy business, and of the new hydraulic dairy it was proposed to establish near Matsqui, primarily, to take care of the dairy industry for the purpose of framing

Mr. Fulton, and the move in the direction of effec-

SUGGESTS LOCATION
FOR GAME RESERVE

Territory North of Cowichan Lake is Said to Be Ideal Situation

Where is the best location for a provincial game reserve? This is one of the "big questions" that is at present agitating the public mind, and one which is being discussed in the most earnest manner. The provincial government will in the short time that make some announcement, as from all quarters the preservation of the game of the province is looked upon as a matter of almost vital importance and of the greatest importance that takes precedence over all others.
Several locations have been suggested, all of which have their own advantages and disadvantages, and probably one of the most suitable and probably the best has been suggested, that made by Mr. Julius Brothour of Sidney, who was in the city yesterday and who strongly reasons why the site that he suggests should be the one that is chosen by the provincial authorities.
The location chosen by Mr. Brothour is the most suitable and appropriate for a provincial park, principally because of its natural adaptability and incidentally because of equal accessibility to the main centres of population in the province, in the strip of land lying directly to the north of Cowichan Lake. Mr.
Brothour emphasizes the fact that this location would be ideal because of the natural boundaries of mountains on all sides, but the south where Cowichan Lake is situated.
The country suggested contains in the neighborhood of 200 square miles and would extend about eight miles back from the lake at either end to the edge of the water, and would be about 25 miles long or the approximate length of the lake. Only about 100 acres of this land is in habitat, while there is in the vicinity of 100,000 acres of timber, and Three fresh water creeks run through the territory into the lake at about equal distances from each other, these being Sluice, Wardrover and Ottonwood creeks.
The game and water boundaries of this proposed game reserve also help to make the enclosure a natural one, and the land at present is the property of the Crown. Mr. Brothour stated that it could be acquired for such a purpose as proposed.

CHAMPIONS CHALLENGE

"New Westminster, May 1.—It is now up to the Shamrocks to say whether they are willing to meet the Westminster team for the Minto cup for to-day the challenge of the local club will be sent through the mails, in obedience to the desires of the Westminster club as expressed in a resolution passed by the executive last evening. While it is for the team of the cup to say when and where the game shall be played, the regulation asks that the game be in the city, and that it be played at the end of June.
The reason for this is that the schedule of games in the coast league will not be greatly interfered with.
Two games are scheduled for June for the local club, both with Victoria, and they expect to be able to put a second team in the field to cover these matches. So far, there has been no invitation received from Calgary to play at the Dominion fair, so no arrangements have been discussed. A committee of three, Messrs. Henderson, Peake and Bell, was appointed to confer with Mayor Keary, and arrange all the details for the eastern trip, responding back to the executive at a meeting next Thursday evening.
