

News of the World Condensed For the Busy Reader

Septuagesimian Clergyman Dead.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Rev. David Stark, formerly pastor of the United Brethren church of Berlin, died here tonight, aged 72 years.

Papal Delegate Will Precede

QUEBEC, Sept. 17.—Mgr. Sirovetti, the papal delegate who will precede over the first plenary council ever held in Canada, beginning here on Sunday, arrived in the city today.

Arrested for Fraud.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—John F. Mills of New York, broker and mining promoter, was arrested on night on a charge of defrauding M. W. and H. J. Dingham out of $10,000 on a mining deal.

Governor Johnson Better

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 17.—Governor Johnson's condition early this morning showed decided improvement, and his physicians are much encouraged over the outlook for his recovery.

Bridge Carried Away.

VALDEZ, Sept. 17.—Extreme high water carried out the first span on the southern end of the bridge across the Tazlina river on the government road between Valdez and Fairbanks, on the night of August 25.

Militiamen Again Homeless.

NORTH YAKIMA, Sept. 17.—Company E of the National Guard, homeless for the second time this summer. The company has been notified to vacate the building, which it secured with difficulty, after having been ordered to vacate Platoon hall some months ago.

Died While Picking Apples.

ABERDEEN, Sept. 17.—Going to his orchard at Aberdeen Gardens, which he planted many years ago, Jacob Hoover, aged 73 years, a pioneer and prominent rancher of Chehalis county, died suddenly early last night. Hoover went to pick apples and while in the act of doing so suddenly dropped to the ground and died.

Security List Extended.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Mortgage bonds and debentures of the railroads of the United States and Canada, Mexico and the Argentine, as well as the funds of all foreign governments, were today included in the list of securities in which the trustees of estates purchased from life tenants under the Irish land bill may hereafter invest this purchase money.

Cuts Off Toes in Fodder Cutter.

ISAAQUAH, Sept. 17.—Thomas Wilson, a farmer, had three toes and part of a fourth cut off yesterday by a fodder cutter. He was standing on the machine getting ready for work when his foot slipped too close to the swiftly-moving knives. He did not know his toes were cut off until he fell down to place his feet in a different position and saw the end of his boot gone.

Campaign For Votes.

ELLENBURG, Sept. 17.—Mrs. La Reine Baker, of Spokane, and Misses Kangley and Kangley, of Seattle, opened the campaign for women voters in central Washington by addressing street crowds on the corner of Fourth and Pearl streets yesterday. Suffragists were expounded and explained, and reasons why women should vote in Washington were told to the crowd which collected.

Assaults His Wife.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 17.—Walter J. Bracking, a mining engineer, was charged with assaulting his wife in a local hotel on the evening of September 4. He gave notice of appeal. Yet their Bracking nor his wife here, but she caught him unaware in the hotel on the evening of the assault. In the court room she bared her shoulder and showed the marks of violence, though it was more than a week later.

Power Project in Yakima.

NORTH YAKIMA, Sept. 17.—A crew of men and thirty teams have been set at work near the foot of Priest Rapids, on the Columbia river. It is believed that this is the beginning of Robert P. Strahorn's big project to develop the power, and then use the water for irrigating purposes. Engineer Marble, of the North Coast, has been making the preliminary survey of this section, although no definite announcement has been made.

Runaway Accident.

HOQUIAM, Sept. 17.—As the result of a runaway today, Miss Mabel Knudsen, a popular high school girl, was thrown from her horse and sustained injuries which may result fatally. The young girl in mounting caught her skirt in the back of the saddle and with one foot in the stirrup the horse started to run. She was thrown beneath the horse's feet, being trampled on and badly injured about the legs and body. The horse was stopped by a teamster.

Derailed by a Bull.

GRANITE FALLS, Sept. 17.—A train of nine flat cars was derailed by a bull on the ranch of Joe Enos this afternoon. The cars had been left by the train crew of the Sobeys Manufacturing company upon an incline, with the brakes set. The cars broke loose and ran wild down the track. When they reached Enos ranch they were running about sixty miles an hour. At this point, however, they hit a valuable bull, killing the animal. The train was derailed and six of the nine cars smashed to splinters.

Trouble Over Agency.

ABERDEEN, Sept. 17.—For the purpose of arresting C. E. Bean in connection with the bill of agency rights for kitchen cabinets and bringing him back to this state from Kansas to stand trial, Sheriff Ed. Payette left Mono last night. Houshian county yesterday subscribed a fund of $500 to bring the man to this state and also to defray the expenses of the fight which it is thought Bean will institute against extradition. Payette is in Olympia today to apply to Governor Hay for extradition papers, assuring him that the people interested in the matter have guaranteed the costs. Armed with this document Payette will place Bean under arrest and begin the fight to get him out of the state and back to Washington for trial.

Killed by Horse's Kick

KENORA, Ont., Sept. 17.—Albert Barker, aged 10, was killed by a horse kicking him yesterday, his skull being fractured.

Legislation Will Be Watched

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—At the annual meeting yesterday of the Canadian Fire Underwriters Association a committee was appointed to watch and oppose all legislation inimical to fire insurance companies.

Freight Train Wrecked.

MOUNT VERNON, Sept. 17.—At 8 o'clock yesterday freight train No. 712, drawn by two heavy engines, was wrecked one mile south of this city. Five freight cars were completely demolished. The accident was caused by a broken axle.

Carnival Called Off.

ELLENBURG, Sept. 17.—Ellensburg will have no business men's carnival this year. Announcement was made this afternoon by R. S. Palmer that the carnival was held because the Parker shows, which were to be the main attraction, will go into winter quarters after showing next week in Spokane.

Gov. Hay Commutes Sentence.

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 17.—Official notification from Gov. Hay that he had commuted the sentence of Charles Elipot, a Spokane murderer sentenced to be hanged Friday, to that of imprisonment, reached here this afternoon. "That is good news, but it might have been better if all Elipot said, 'Warren Reed has not yet decided how to employ the prisoner.'"

Falls Sixty Feet to Bay.

TACOMA, Sept. 17.—Falling sixty feet from the Eleventh street bridge into the waters of the bay yesterday morning, J. E. Nichols, a fireman of the steamer Indianapolis, received internal injuries from which he is probably dying. Nichols struck a 2x12-inch plank as he neared the water. The impact broke the timber, but did not break any of the man's bones.

Big Fire at Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17.—Fire yesterday destroyed the grinding mill and elevator of the Portland Flouring Mills and flour feed in the warehouse, which was damaged by fire. The total damage will be in the neighborhood of $400,000, with insurance of something over half that amount. Several firemen and volunteers were slightly burned during the conflagration.

Cavalry to Make Overland Trip.

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 17.—Instead of traveling by rail, the Fourteenth cavalry, stationed here, who have been ordered to participate in the parade at Prosser, Wash., will make the trip overland. They expect to leave here Saturday, and will probably arrive in Prosser in eight days. The also expect to return overland. The cavalry band will accompany the troops on their long march.

Saves Child by Grabbing Hair.

TACOMA, Sept. 17.—By grabbing the child by the hair of the head Edward Tobey saved the life of his little 8-year-old daughter Helen as she was sinking in the water from the Sound. The child fell into the water while walking up the gang plank of the steamer Indianapolis. As she was sinking the second time, her father, reaching the side of the steamer, grabbed her hair, which was floating on the surface.

Dawson Holding Its Home Population.

DAWSON, Sept. 17.—With the opening of the Dawson schools recently for the fall and winter term, practically all the children of the town were enrolled as were in attendance in June, thus indicating that Dawson is holding its population. The census of the children shows that the families represented nearly, if not all, the families of the town. It means that the exodus this fall will include very few families. Those intending to go, it is understood, already have gone into the hands of the going soon, and there cannot be much change in the enrollment.

Protection of Copyright.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—Mr. Justice Maage this afternoon dissolved the interim injunctions granted by the London Times and Commander Robert E. Peary restraining the Mail and Empire from publishing the personal narrative of the Arctic explorer with regard to his discovery of the North Pole. His Lordship said that the Globe and Toronto, which purchased the right to publish here, on every point in connection with the matter, stating plainly, after listening to a lengthy argument, that Commander Peary was entitled to the copyright of his narrative and should thereby be protected against all infringements. He decided that the injunction should stand until the trial of the case, costs to be at the discretion of the trial judge.

To Wage War Against Fake Sales.

TACOMA, Sept. 17.—The State Grocers' Association will ask the next legislature to pass a bill prohibiting misleading advertising of fake fire sales, closing out and bankrupt sales or any form of announcement intended to have the appearance of an advantageous offer which is untrue and calculated to mislead the public. The association will also ask the passage of a bill compelling honest weights and measures, and will also ask the legislature to pass a bill prohibiting compelling employers to pay wages at periods not longer than semi-monthly; also an amendment to the present pharmacy law restraining the execution of a state license for selling drugs to merchants handling drugs. A determined crusade is also being commenced at once against the parcel post bill by grocers all over the state who will circulate petitions against the bill among their patrons which will be forwarded to congress.

RUMOR IS CONTRADICTED

Church of St. Julien is Pauvre Not to Be Converted Into Public Museum.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—There is no truth in the statement that the French government has decided to convert the old and interesting Church of St. Julien le Pauvre into a museum. It is intended to clear the space around the church and to make a garden square there, in which will be shown the remains of the fortress of Philippe-Auguste, which exists still in the close. Those who know this most interesting quarter of Paris will rejoice at this announcement. The rumor now contradicted appears to have arisen from the fact that a number of statues found in the course of the demolition of the ancient Hotel Dieu, the hospital of Paris, on the bank of the Seine, were transferred to the Church of St. Julien le Pauvre. The church was formerly the chapel of the hospital, and one of the statues now placed there is that of Saint Landry, Bishop of Paris, who founded the hospital, and whose statue was found in the ruins of the fortress.

EXPLANATION IS NOT ACCEPTED

Indian Who Shoots Girl "In Mistake For a Horse" Charged With Murder.

KENORA, Ont., Sept. 17.—A supposed murder took place at Swan Lake, about five miles south of here, on Saturday afternoon last, when an Indian whose name cannot at present be ascertained, shot and killed a young girl belonging to the same tribe. The Indian said he mistook the girl for a horse, but this assertion is greatly discounted by the remainder of the tribe, who say that he was jealous of the girl. The authorities have sent out a constable and guide to apprehend the Indian.

VANCOUVER NEXT YEAR

Canadian Manufacturers' Association Convention to Close With a Series of Important Resolutions.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention was concluded here yesterday with a banquet at which Lord Strathcona and some cabinet ministers spoke, before adjournment today. Probably the most important resolution of the convention was that the association should send a cablegram to Sydney, N. S. W., asking the British government for the next congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire. The association also adopted a resolution asking for provincial uniform regulations in the manufacture of boilers.

Expressing satisfaction at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's intention to appoint a commission on technical education, at sea means life or death for the British Empire.

Asking for a revision of the tariff on lumber and shingles.

Asking for Government support to the ship-building interests.

Asking for an enquiry into the matter of the woolen industry in Canada and the formulation of some plan to revive it.

STICKS AND STONES FREELY DISTRIBUTED

Nationalist-Orange Riot at Lurgan Proves More Serious Affair Than at First Reported.

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—Details of the nationalist-Orange riot, which occurred on a recent Monday night at Lurgan, a manufacturing town six miles from Belfast, show it to have been a very serious affair, and the worst that has occurred between the two parties for a long time.

Twenty policemen and many civilians were severely injured, a score of houses were smashed, and in at least one case the rioters looted a shop.

The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers. The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists. At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

Remembered Taft's Birthday.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The birthday of President William H. Taft, September 15, was remembered by King Edward, who sent the Honorable Arthur Walsh, his master of ceremonies, to the United States embassy with the request that His Majesty's sincere congratulations be conveyed to the president. Mr. Taft's reply was received at the embassy today and forwarded to the king, who is shooting in Scotland.

The town looks as if it had undergone a siege, and it is estimated that the damage amounts to several thousand pounds.

Trade and Collections Good.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that trade in all sections of the country fully meets the requirements of the season, and collections are more uniformly prompt.

China's Minister Coming.

PEKIN, Sept. 17.—Chang Yin Ting, the newly appointed Chinese minister to the United States, is expected to arrive in Washington today.

Los Angeles Next Year.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 17.—Los Angeles, Cal., was today chosen for the 1910 convention of the American Bankers' association, San Antonio, Texas, withdrawing and putting in a bid for the convention of 1911.

The Protocol of Peace.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—Peru and Bolivia, which have been near sword's points over the boundary question between them, have come to an agreement on the vital issues involved and are about to sign a protocol for a settlement of the dispute.

Lord Charles in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Admiral Lord Charles Bessborough was the guest of honor today at a luncheon given by the Pilgrims of the United States. In a brief address Lord Bessborough, at the request of the Pilgrims, declared that as far as Great Britain was concerned the situation looked somewhat "red-headed." He added that in view of this situation there was nothing else to do but for the nation to stand by its principles.

Expressing satisfaction at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's intention to appoint a commission on technical education, at sea means life or death for the British Empire.

Asking for a revision of the tariff on lumber and shingles.

Asking for Government support to the ship-building interests.

Asking for an enquiry into the matter of the woolen industry in Canada and the formulation of some plan to revive it.

STICKS AND STONES FREELY DISTRIBUTED

Nationalist-Orange Riot at Lurgan Proves More Serious Affair Than at First Reported.

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—Details of the nationalist-Orange riot, which occurred on a recent Monday night at Lurgan, a manufacturing town six miles from Belfast, show it to have been a very serious affair, and the worst that has occurred between the two parties for a long time.

Twenty policemen and many civilians were severely injured, a score of houses were smashed, and in at least one case the rioters looted a shop.

The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers. The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

The riot was not until the Riot Act had been read and reinforcements of police armed with batons arrived that order was restored.

The disorder started at eight o'clock, when a nationalist band of about 100 men, armed with sticks and stones, entered the streets and stoned by Nationalists.

At first the police were able to keep the rioters in check, but as the nationalist band increased in number, the police were unable to maintain their position.

A raiding party shattered the windows of a Protestant church, and in a moment the Orange district was in flames. The rioters were armed with sticks and stones, and in some cases with revolvers.

CERTIFICATE OF THE REGISTRATION OF AN EXTRA-PROVINCIAL COMPANY.

"Companies Act, 1897."

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the "Smith Cannery Machines Company," has this day been registered as an Extra-Provincial Company under the "Companies Act, 1897," to carry out or effect all or any of the objects of the Company to which the legislative authority of the Legislature of British Columbia extends.

The head office of the Company is situated at the City of Seattle, County of King, State of Washington.

The amount of the capital of the Company is One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars, divided into One Hundred and Fifty Thousand shares of One Dollar each.

The head office of the Company in this Province is situated at Victoria, and George Henry Barnard and—Mr. Harold Bruce Robertson, Barrister-at-law, are the attorneys for the Company, not empowered to issue and transfer stock.

The time of the existence of the Company is Fifty years from the 1st day of January, D. 1903.