DASTARDLY DYNAMITERS

A PRIEST GOING FROM AMERICA TO ENGLAND IN DISGUISE.

derly Frenchmen and Indignant Dutchmen—Egyptian Affairs.

LONDON, Aug. 5 .- Three packages of dynamite wrapped in the Irishman, were found in a letter box at Nottingham postoffice Sunday night. The packages contained a pound of dynamite and were furnished with fuse and cap. It is supposed they were intended to explode by fall or when they were stamped. The quantity of dynamite was sufficient to wreck the uilding. The police have received information that a catholic priest is coming to England from America in disguise, as the emissary of the Irish vigilance committee.

Daly, the convicted dynamiter, says he was one of the four conspirators whose movements were directed from America, The bombs found at the time of his arrest were handed him on the street in Liverpool by a fellow conspirator, who hastened away. The bombs were not for use in Birmingham, but in London, where Daly would hand them to another conspirators would hand them to another conspirator. Daly suspects that one of the conspirators turned informer. Members of the society who have arrived from America have their eyes on the man and will "interview" him.

night. John Bright said the tory majority in the house of lords was actuated by the same bitter hatred of the liberals as in 1832. Who were the peers, he asked. They were the spawn of the blunders, wars and corruption of the dark ages of our history. They had entered the temple of honor not through the temple of merit, but through the sepulchres of their ancestors. They were no better than their fathers, some of them were worse, for their privileges had produced ignorance and arrogancy. The reform of the house of lords was urgent and inevitable. The creation of new peers to pass the franchise bill would only get rid of the present difficulty. The limitation of the veto power of the lords was wanted. Should the people submit or should they curb the nobles as their fathers had curbed the kings of England?"

RETURN OF THE DEPUTATION TO THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT. The Real Cause of Suspension of Work— An Important Question That Should Beccive Prompt Attention From The

John Small, M.P., and Ald. Blevins and Lobb returned from Ottawa yesterday morning, where they had been to interview Sir Hector Langevin about the Toronto harbor improvements, work on which was stopped last Friday per instructions from the public works department, because the parliamentary appropriation had been exhausted. The following special from Ottawa was printed in the Globe yester-ottawa was printed in the Globe yesterday merning:

The statement that work on the Toronto harbor improvement has ceased because the appropriation has been exhausted is erroneous. A further grant of $67,000 was voted by parliament last session to sarry on the work, and very little if any of this sum has been exhausted is erroneous. A further grant of $67,000 was voted by parliament last session to sarry on the work, and very little if any of this sum has been used. The contractors stopped work to await instructions from the department of public works, when it was found the stone placed outside the saving wall was sinking in the quicksand, and the work was going to cost far more than had been estimated. This matter the minister is now considering. The contractor is paid according to a scale of quantities so that he will not suffer in any event. There seems also to be some difficulty about the arrangements entered into with the Toronto corporation in 1882.

A World reporter saw Mr. Small and the other members of the deputation yes-day afternoon. Mr. Small said the Globe despatch was wholly incorrect. The real cause of the suspension of work was, as stated in The World of Friday last, owing to the appropriation running out. The mission of the deputation to Ottawa was to see if the government could not proceed with this most important work, and if fail-

The adjourned inquest on Laurence Scully, killed on the Northern railway

Scully had been on duty twenty-three hours, when he was sent by witness to be a handsome one. hours, when he was sent by witness to flag the regular train, No. 73. He (Martin) says that Soully was absent fifty minutes when Gafney, driver of a regular train, came and told him that he was dead. From the evidence of other witnesses it appears that the regular train was going at eight miles an hour and that Scully was not run over by the engine but squeezed by the cowcateher against the rails. Dr. Spencer, who made the post mortem, gave it as his opinion that death ensued from being squeezed by some heavy body, such as the pilot. He said the injuries received were sufficient to cause death. The jury, who are all employes of the Northern and Northwestern railway, brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a mere accident and that no blame is attached to any person. Twenty-three hours is a long time to be without sleep and it is probable Scully sat down on the track and fell asleep and did not hear the whistle of the train until too late.
