COALS FROM A FORGE.

The joy of life is living.
If you've got a "thinker" work it.
Love can only find a home among lovers.

Truth cannot be afraid of being questioned.
Smiling is the best possible system of massage.

When dignity is not larger than the purse it is all right.
At last character never rises above its plane of thought.

Maintain as good an opinion of yourself as the facts in the case will allow.

We ourselves are to be measured by the distance we have gone into other destinies.

Don't quit the field when slander is rife. In the final shift you will be the victor.

Our "ups and downs" are only the hills and valleys; we cross in our eternal quest for happiness.

Some folks have such a dread of society that their religion is no more than a system of restrained doubts.

That love is sweet that sweetly loves when skies are cloudless; that love is great that greatly loves when storms are raging.

Don't condemn in others what you might easily find in yourself. Who the fox and the hounds run in a circle, it is mighty hard to tell which is the pursued and the pursuer.

Your dearest friend may utterly destroy your aim if perchance he touches your bow-string when the arrow is on the feather. It is a crucial moment. And there are definite moments when every man must act solitary and alone.

GEORGE KIRKPATRICK DROWNED.

(Hants Journal.)

A dispatch from Margareville, N.
S., states that a sad drowning accident occurred about two miles off Morden on Saturday last. George Kirkpatrick, an aged and respected resident of the place, accompanied by his son Fred and another man, were going fishing, when a sudden gust of wind capsized the boat, and all three were precipitated into the water.

They succeeded, however, in getting on the bottom of the overturned boat after some time, and before assistance could reach them the eldest of the three had to let go his hold and was drowned. The other two were rescued by a boat putting out from Morden.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was the father of Dr. Kirkpatrick, of Halifax, and leaves a widow and another son, Fred, who was with him in the ill-fated boat.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY.

The government has taken steps to test the feasibility of a railway from Saskatchewan to Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay. An exploration has been made of the entire route, and information secured showing that such a railway would not be a very expensive undertaking, and that a small cort Harbor of Churchill can be kept open all the year. The government has already expressed the opinion the congested condition of traffic in the Northwest, and has also favorably received the suggestions of North-western members to assist such an undertaking.

THE EYES OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The idea of this paper will be merely to mention the diseases and briefly to touch on the signs and symptoms which children manifest, so that they may not pass over the things which seem trifling, but which may eventually lead to some serious condition.

It seems pitiable the way children's eyes are neglected, and how they are allowed to suffer and often lose useful sight for want of a little care and thought.

Squint-How often is this unsightly deformity neglected by the parents simply because they have a dread of an operation, when very often such is quite unnecessary, as a careful fitting of glasses under a mydriatic would correct this deformity, and if not taken too late, save useful vision in the squinting eye which otherwise would become almost useless from non-use. If an operation is found to be necessary, not only the cosmetic effects, but also the vision will be found to be greatly improved in time. Besides glasses, the microscope may be utilized to strengthen the muscles of the eye.

Hyperopia and Astigmatism, separatly found, or in combination, are frequently found. The teacher may consider these children stupid, simply because they will not study. The reason in the vast majority of cases being that near work is rendered fatiguing and causes severe headache. These children are often peevish and irritable. A proper correction of these refractive errors under a mydriatic (it is useless otherwise) will relieve the pain and make them different children.
They often suffer from blepharitis, hordeolum and blepharospasm.

Myopia-This most serious eye disease should be carefully watched.
It is due to the elongation of the globe, and may sometimes be detected by prominence of the eye. If a person complains of specks in front of the eyes, screws up the eyelids and is troubled with conjunctivitis, which resists treatment, myopia should be suspected.

Children who suffer with this affliction should have their eyes examined and refracted at least once a year. They should be given their full glass correction where possible, and made wear their glasses continuously, so as to do away with all eye-strain.
It thus help prevent the myopia increasing. They should be given front desks in school with the best light, their studying, of which myopes are usually very fond, should be restricted, and they should be made to take regular out-door exercise, the general health looked after, and all extra reading prohibited. Reading in bed is a very bad habit that some of these children have.
