The Third Quarterly Meeting of the Annapolis District of the Methodist Church will be held at Lawrenceton on March 7th and 8th. The first session begins at 2:45 Wednesday. A public meeting will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock, addressed by Revs. J. W. O'Brien and A. R. Reynolds.

Miss Ethel Clarke, of Annapolis, N. S., for Havana, which put into St. Thomas January 1st, partially dismantled and leaking badly, after discharging her cargo, was condemned by surveyors appointed by the British Consul. She was sold at public auction February 3rd and bought by her captain, D. Morrissey, for $3,550.

Rev. (Dr.) S. Spidle, of the Faculty of Acadia University, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist Church last Sunday morning and evening. His sermons were most helpful and inspiring. He will supply the same pulpit again next Sunday, preaching at Bridgetown morning and evening and at Centretown in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A second instalment of winter made its appearance on Monday of this week. The last few days of February and the first four days of March were quite spring-like, and we were almost led to believe that Spring had arrived, but a falling temperature on Sunday night was followed on Monday with the worst north-east snow storm of the season.

The war pictures, "Britain Prepared," were shown at the Primrose Theatre yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the school children, who filled the hall and again in the evening for the general public. The views were interesting and quite realistic. Another war film, "The Battle of the Somme," will be shown at the Primrose Theatre on Tuesday evening, March 20th.

A telegram received here yesterday morning by Dr. M. E. Armstrong announced the death of Mrs. Armstrong's father, Capt. Samuel E. Day, which occurred at his home in Yarmouth, Monday night at 12:45. Although Capt. Day had been in failing health for some time past, the news of his death came as a shock to his relatives here. Mrs. Armstrong received the telegram in time to take yesterday's train to Yarmouth.

Stephen Labrador, an Indian of the Micmac tribe, left his home near Paradise on Monday morning to walk to Bridgetown on business. On his arrival here he was taken suddenly ill and went into the home of Mrs. James Thompson, near the school house. His condition was such that a physician was at once summoned, who responded, but the sick man was beyond medical aid, and he passed away at 10 o'clock last night. The remains will be interred in the Indian Reservation at Paradise today.

Three reels of "Good Roads" pictures were thrown on the screen at the close of the regular program at the Primrose Theatre last Thursday evening. Unfortunately for the Good Roads project, the pictures were small and consequently not very distinct. Then, too, the affair was not properly or thoroughly advertised, so that there was not a large audience present of those interested in Good Roads. We hope that in the near future these pictures will again be shown in Bridgetown on a larger scale, and that the event will be more generally advertised.

The Halifax and Southwest train in charge of Conductor Chipman, on its regular trip from Port Wade to Bridgewater last Wednesday night, met with a bad smash-up just after leaving the Bridgewater station. While on a curve east of the station, a box car next to the engine, loaded with pressed hay, left the rails. A wrecking train came out from Bridgewater Thursday morning, and the regular proceeded east. The car was got on the rails before night but on backing into the station the car went off again, two hours later the five cars and triple trailer for Bridgewater.

FUNERAL OF GRACIE EGAN The funeral of little Gracie Egan, whose death took place on Sunday morning, February 27th, after an illness of meningitis of only a week, was held in the Methodist Church on Wednesday afternoon and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. A. R. Reynolds, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. E. Underwood. The choir of the church was present, and four of the little schoolmates, Eileen Fay, Edna Miller, Florence Ruggles and Maude Goldsmid, sang very sweetly the hymn, "Little Jewels." The members of the school attended the funeral in a body, and the members of Miss Palfrey's department led the procession to Riverside Cemetery, where the little body was laid to rest. Four members of the high school acted as pall bearers, Noble Crowe, Jordan Miller, Britton Hall and Walter Lickerton. Our funds have been kept up in a wonderful way by these donations from neighboring villages and the kindness of our friends in town. We thank all who have thus made it possible for us to carry on our work, and we know we can depend on you for further help.

OBITUARY

FLORENCE W. TROOP On Friday last the community of Granville was shocked and saddened by the tidings, which came from Halifax, of the death in that city of Florence W., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Troop of Granville Centre. While not having been in good health for nearly a year, her condition was not considered serious until about three weeks ago. Given it was thought advisable to consult a specialist. Shortly after reaching Halifax, she became suddenly worse, acute inflammation developing, and Friday morning she fell asleep.

She left behind her father and mother, a sister, Susie, and two brothers, Rupert and Ivan, to mourn the loss of a dearly loved sister.

The funeral services, which were largely attended, were held at the home of her father, and were conducted by Revs. Groat and Nelson. A large number of the members of Seymour Division, S. of T., led the way to the Wadswold Cemetery, where Rev. J. Brindley, Chaplain of the Division, gave a heartfelt prayer, followed by the usual service of the Anglican Church, and she was laid away in a casket of green to await the reunion with her loved ones.

"Floss," though young in years, was loved by all who knew her—young and old—and the bereaved parents and sister and brothers have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss. The casket was covered with flowers, consisting of:—

Wreath—Father and Mother.

Cross—Sue, Rupert, Ivan and Aunt Willie.

Pillow—Uncle Vode and Aunt Emma.

Anchor—George and Clara.

Rosebud Wreath—Her Nurses, Cut Flowers—Mrs. Herbert Bent.

MRS. E. J. MORSE It was only a few days ago that E. J. Morse, husband of Winifred, passed away and was buried at Pine Grove, Middleton. And on Monday, February 26, 1917, the death of Mrs. Morse occurred.

Mrs. Morse had been ill since her husband's death and was to undergo an operation and the infirmity in Halifax. She was on the operating table and choleraform was being administered when the patient suddenly passed away.

It is believed that death was due to a clot of blood formed on the brain as the operation had not been started. The body was brought to Middleton on Tuesday and laid beside that of her husband in Pine Grove Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Hutchins conducting the service.

A daughter living in Vermont, a son in England in the military service, and a son, an engineer in Winnipeg, survive. The deceased was a sister of W. G. Parsons, K. C., and Mrs. Carrie Ross of Middleton, and Col. N. H. Parsons of the 24th Battalion.

ANCHOR—George and Clara.

Bell Pianos PRIMROSE THEATRE E

ONE NIGHT ONLY Tuesday, March 20 "THE Battle of the Somme" The Greatest Moving Picture in the World

The Primrose Theatre, by authority and sanction of the British Government and the endorsement of The Gracious Majesties, presents to the citizens of Bridgetown and environs as a living supplement to the cable news despatches, the official front line moving pictures as produced at the direction of the War Office under military supervision by special operators selected from the staff of the topical committee.

SOME BRITISH COMMENTS "The public should see these pictures that they may have some idea of what the army is doing and what war means."—The King.

"If the exhibition of this picture all over the world does not end war, God help civilization. See that this picture, which is itself an epic of self-sacrifice and gallantry, reaches everyone. Mothers, wives, sisters and affianced ones, your hearts will hear, your voices speak in honor and glory of the living and the dead."—Mr. Lloyd George.

"The Battle of the Somme," which was shown to a distinguished gathering at the Scala Theatre yesterday, is the greatest moving picture in the world, the greatest that has ever been produced."—London Evening News.

"So vivid are the pictures that you almost hear the word of command that sends the men scrambling over the parapets of the trench."—The London Courier.
