

season! With pork at thirty dollars per barrel—a higher price than has been known in this city for the last twenty years—four or five dollars a barrel, with every prospect, notwithstanding the importation of foreign grain, of being ten or twenty—and other articles of living nearly in proportion, the extreme poor will not be the only sufferers. With not enough provisions to buy, if money was plenty, and no money to purchase them though in abundance, little but a starvation must be the fate of many. The richer classes too, will have to lament as well a state of things principally produced by the political perversity and stupidity of politicians, the reckless gambling of unprincipled speculators, and the adroit manœuvres of selfish and invidious monopolists.
