ON LOWER CONSOLS MARKET FORCES ARE HELD IN CHECK - SOME BUSINESS IN SIXTEEN STOCKS - NEW YORK MORE ACTIVE BUT ALSO UNDECIDED - MONEY AT 6 AND 7

Montreal Nov. 3

It would be difficult to infer from this morning's market what force it was there which had preponderance, what class of stocks was most or least in favor or which one of each class had been the most active. Bears might be on the floor, but they depressed virtually no stock to-day the bulls might be present and willing, but they did not probably cause any advance. Every class of stock was represented and kept about yesterday's price, each being as active or rather as inactive as the other and no one thus could be called the leader. There was no effort to sell down the market, nor did external influences warrant much buying either. In fact though prices were as good as yesterday's volume of business was materially diminished. With a good bank statement tomorrow and with favorable news from Africa, large transactions on higher levels might not start up just immediately after, but they need not be looked for unless such news comes. The light trade in this morning's somewhat broad market evidently reflects the local trading spirit which sees reason perhaps for not receding, but does not see cause for strong movement either way. While Toronto Ry advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ and War Eagle receded $\frac{1}{2}$, while Virtue gained $\frac{1}{2}$ and while Royal Electric recovered 2 points these were gained on unimportant and isolated transactions and are scarcely noteworthy. The sales below appear to be equally distributed over the list
