middle of the mesonotum, a spot enclosing the ocelli, and the tips of the claws, which are black. Wings hyaline, the stigma and subcostal vein yellowish, the costal and other veins black.

Type--No. 8ıog, U. S. N. M.
Manila (Father Stanton).
This species mimics a species of Xanthopimpla in colour and in the structure of the abdomen, and I first took it for a species in that genus. It has, however, no areolet in the front wings, and agrees structurally, in venation and in the structure of the legs, with genuine Colpomeric.

Family LXVIII,--Braconide. Ischiogonus, Wesmael.
Ischiogonus Philippinensis, new species.- $\uparrow$. Length, 2 mm .; ovipositor as long as the abdomen. Reddish brown, the head paler, more, yellowish, the first and second segments of the abdomen more or less fuscous above, the eyes black, the flagellum fuscous; wings hyaline, the stigma and veins light brown.

The quadrate head is smooth, impunctate ; the mesonotal furrows converge and meet posteriorly just in front of the scutellum; the metanotum has a median carina that unites with a transverse carina bounding the upper margin of the posterior face, the latter uniting with the pleural carinæ, the metanotum, therefore, biareolated. The abdomen is elongate oval, as long as the head and thorax united, with the first and second segments longitudinally striated.

Type.-No. 8 irio, U. S. N. M.

ENTOMOLOGICAL SOCIETY OF ONTARIO.

The library and collections of the Society have been removed from the Y. M. C. A. building on Wellington street, London, to the Public Library building on the corner of Queen's Avenue and the same street. The new room is much larger and more convenient in many respects than the one occupied by the Society during the last eight years, and affords much needed space for bookcases, etc. It is hoped that the change of quarters will produce an increased interest in the Society, and cause its valuable library and collections to be made more use of by the public, to whom they will be open on every alternate afternoon.

The annual meeting is to be held in the Public Library building on Wednesday and Thursday, October 26 th and 27 th, when many subjects of interest and importance will be discussed.
