

COMPETITION.

Among the many modes of inducing the public to appreciate the merit of a competitor, there is probably none more practical than that of the issue of

A CHALLENGE.

Mr. DUPRENE, the Photographer, of King Street West, Toronto, therefore offers a reward of

$1,000

To any individual who can produce, as the result of his own work, photographs conveying an equally artistic pose, the same brilliancy of tone, and a finish of equal excellence to those produced by Mr. D—, at 31 King Street West.

Arrangements, satisfactory to both parties, will be concluded, if anyone venture to accept the above challenge.

FLUID BEEF.

Fluid beef
Brings relief
When 'tis least expected,
If you're ill,
Take no pill
Though stomach be affected ;
But take the beef
Which gives relief,
When other food's rejected
'Tis pounded fine—
"Of meat the wine"—
And therefore yields nutrition ;
To tender child,
Or athlete wild.
It brings alike fruition.
Dyspeptics thrive,
And oft outlive
The men who erst were stronger ;
And men of brain,
Who overstrain,
Find life worth holding longer,
For Johnston's beef
Has brought relief,
And settled the vexed question
Of giving strength
To all at length
Spite of their indigestion.

Egyptian Embalming Company.

Two recipients of this Company's Diploma in Toronto.

A Company bearing the above designation, whose headquarters are at Rochester, N.Y., presides over a School of Embalming; it grants its diplomas in the accustomed form of such documents "TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, GREETING," and it "grooms" the citizens of Toronto and the world at large with the announcement that "Whereas HENRY STONE has attended the full and regular course of the Rochester School of Embalming, and has also, upon examination by the faculty of said School, given abundant proof of his proficiency in the science of Embalming and Preservation of Bodies: therefore, and in virtue of the above, we consider HENRY STONE, of Toronto, Ontario, as a thoroughly educated Practical Embalmer, fully competent to practise successfully the art of preserving and embalming the dead."

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we hereby grant this DIPLOMA, signed by our Secretary and Demonstrator, this Twenty-Fourth day of February, Eighteen Hundred and Eighty Three DIPSIBOICUM.

I've tasted of the "Dipsi"
Without becoming tipsy,
Nor has it rendered me as yet 'gigantic';
Its virtues of prevention
I need, of course, not mention
As they're echoed from Pacific to Atlantic.
Though clothed in garb of fiction
And commended with such diction,
As to render many critics unbelieving,
Its herbal combination
Is not merely a creation
Of the fancy—neither can it be deceiving ;
For the men who taste and try it,
Are the men who wish to buy it—
To buy that they may live a little longer,
And purchase it they do,
And repeat their orders too,
For they find that they are daily growing stronger.
They've found the "certain tonic"
Which dispels their ailments chronic,
Though they have not seen the "natives"
yet "extracting";
As they care not to be prying,
Or with Dingman to be rising,
Of the recipe, they will not be exacting.
