The Chairman: That being the case, thank you, Mr. Fulton. We will undertake to seek some clarification.

Mr. Oberle: A further point of order, Mr. Chairman.

The Chairman: Another point of order, Mr. Oberle.

Mr. Oberle: What is now the plan for Thursday since we do not have a witness? I wonder whether the Chairman has had the opportunity to follow up on the recommendations that were made at yesterday's luncheon meeting?

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Oberle: And is there an opportunity maybe to bring in another witness to fill in the Thursday slot?

The Chairman: I take it that the particular witness that you are making reference to from British Columbia—we have the name, the phone number and that channel, but the contract has not been completed at this time and I would expect that we are probably pushing that a little fast.

My own view, unless the Committee feels otherwise, is that with this cancellation we are now probably offering a fairly short time frame for someone other than local people here in Ottawa to be here Thursday.

The Chairman: I know that that does not leave members of Parliament with nothing to do on Thursday.

This meeting is adjourned then to the call of the Chair.
