talent nationalize the taxpayers' money with their socialistic legislation.

What progress has been made up to now? Under the present system, nobody will have to try very hard to provide for his old age. There will be no need to figure out how to spend our money. The government will see to everything in our stead. Citizens will only have to work, that is all. The government will keep their pay and spend it for them. The government will look after us and see to it that our children are educated. In the future, the ministers will replace fathers and mothers in every respect. It will be the planning state, the wage, inheritance and freedom stealing state.

To maintain the present system will lead us shortly to the conscription of salaries by insurance, clans of all kinds, union contributions, arbitration boards and income tax.

Conscription of inheritance by death duties; conscription of savings by the pension plan; conscription of the sick by hospitals; and in the future, conscription of churches by taxes on vestry-boards.

Let the government mind its own business and first of all, let it remove the financial obstacle put by the banking system between goods and families, between shop-windows and kitchens.

Let the government set up a financial system—

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Rinfret): I am sorry to interrupt the hon. member, but I wonder what connection he is trying to establish between the banking and the financial systems which come under the government, when we are considering the reorganization of the government and the various responsibilities to devolve upon each department.

Mr. Latulippe: Mr. Speaker, the reorganization of the government is effected through various departments. The economy of banks, the whole country is controlled by the various departments. Since I am dealing with the Department of Finance, I am speaking about finance. It seems to me I am in order, because the Department of Finance is the major culprit. From it proceeds everything we can do in this respect, everything we can finance and operate. The Minister of Finance is the person responsible. There are many other measures which cannot be applied without the consent of the Minister of Finance. What I am trying to show is the influence which the Minister of Finance should have on the other government departments and the say he should have in the creation of the proposed new departments.

Let the government institute for each citizen a dividend, a discount compensated on prices, instead of the taxes which are bleeding us to pay Caesar.

And all the socialist plans and projects can go to a museum, from where they should never have been taken out.

Everybody will be better off. As for those with diplomas who are looking for a way to do nothing, they will always be able to live on their social dividend, which is precisely free money for those who do nothing, with the difference that each and everyone would receive this free social dividend.

● (3:40 p.m.)

The state's intervention in the economy must regularize and moralize the action of the economic forces without going to the extremes of economic planning by striving to associate professional organizations to that intervention. A good deal of our organic laws have to be redrafted in that respect. A new viewpoint, a new ideal is necessary if we really are to reorganize our economic system. If we really want our various departments to function well, all the responsible heads have to assume their responsibilities, each responsible person must find means to finance a country, its production, its development, its investments, in short the whole Canadian economy, as long as there are workers, builders, physical potentials—

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Rinfret): Order.

Mr. Latulippe: There is no reason why we should accept as barbaric a system as the one we have now.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Rinfret): I thank the hon. member for his argument on economy but I should just like to remind him that we are now considering the sections of the bill which deal with the responsibilities of various departments.

Mr. Latulippe: I had concluded my remarks, Mr. Speaker.

Hon. Théogène Ricard (Saint-Hyacinthe-Bagot): Mr. Speaker, Bill No. C-178 now before us provides an opportunity to make a few remarks on the reorganization of the government of Canada.

I have only a few remarks to make. This legislation provides for the establishment of a department of the registrar general, the duties
