☾ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Newport, Windsor, Truro, &c.

Let parents labour to give their children a good education. Let the absurd notion, that a farmer needs no education, be banished from every dwelling. There is no pursuit, where intelligence, and a well-cultivated, and a well-disciplined mind is more necessary, than in the proper management of the farm. Let the young farmer enrich his mind by general reading. Let him thoroughly understand our political institutions; and be able to judge of his political rights and duties, without the aid of demagogues, who would rather devote his time to watching over the public interests, than to the pursuit of honest industry. Let no farmer's wife think her children too good to labour; but on the contrary, let her strive early to fix habits of industry. Let every mother teach her sons, that while labour on the farm is honorable, idleness, ignorance, and vice alone bring reproach. And when the lesson is thoroughly impressed on the mind of her son, and corresponding habits are formed, that son will be likely to make an efficient man, and a useful citizen.
