

.....

they are politicians as well as jurists, let them recollect how far it has been political in this mighty struggle of one state against many, that a republican administration, at the head of a federation of seventeen republics, should take the part of the many governed, by a single despot, and should have made her commercial regulations and commercial treaties subservient to the subjugation of the LAST state in Europe, which remains possessed of SELF GOVERNMENT.

FINIS.