WITNESS WANTED TO GET FOREMAN'S JOB

Estimated Value of Work on Lancet's House at $1000, of which $400 for Men's Services.

OTTAWA, March 15.—(Special).—At the afternoon sitting of the committee on privileges and elections the enquiry into the charges against Alcega Lancet, Liberal member for Rideau, were continued.

Mr. Lafamme, counsel for the accused, proceeded with the cross-examination of Henri Proulx, who also gave evidence at the morning sitting. The witness said that in making charges against J. B. Page, the former who authorized the painting work on Lancet's house, he thought he had as good a chance as anyone to succeed in the event of Page being dismissed.

Witness said he had spoken to one, Lameroux, because Lameroux claimed he knew the minister well, and that he would be able to get the interests of the party and the employees.

Proulx said that after he was discharged he had been called four or five times to have him reinstated. Lancet promised to do what he could, but he did not have much to say for himself.

Mr. Lafamme proceeded to examine the witness in reference to dismissals from the shipyard, when the chief painter was saying that the conduct of the yard had nothing to do with the charges. Mr. Lafamme said his object was to show the minister the witness towards Mr. Lancet.

Mr. McDougall, counsel for Mr. Blomfield, then examined Alfred Blomfield, a painter who acted as foreman over the workmen engaged in the painting of the house. He said that during the months of July, August, September and October he had worked for eight weeks at the painting and had been paid by the government at the rate of $2 a day. The witness was punched his time at the works, but after that date someone else must have punched it for him, because he got full pay.

The chairman: "Does the name of the witness appear in the account rendered by the department to Mr. Lancet?"

Mr. McDougall: "Not for the months of July and August."

Witness named eight other workmen engaged in painting Mr. Lancet's house, all of whom were paid by the government. Asked to give an estimate of the value of the work, the witness said it was doing it under contract he would estimate the value at $1000; of this the labor of men would amount to about $400.

At the morning session Proulx swore that in August last he had been sent by Foreman Page to do some painting at Lancet's house. His two companions were told by Page that they must not proceed to the Lancet house but to August and Convent-street, but to go by a roundabout way. The witness was apparently to escape being seen by Supt. Papineau. On Epiphany Day he was called by Lancet to his house and was told that he was to make a declaration in terms specified to the minister he would get his job back. Lancet told him that he made this offer to oblige the witness and his uncle, who "was one of the chiefs of the Liberal party."

MANY BRICKS FOR HOSPITAL

It's the Largest Job of the Kind Under Way in Canada.

The construction of the new Toronto General Hospital at the corner of College-street and University-avenue is the largest brick and masonry job in progress in Canada at the present time. In fact, it is the only other job of the kind that was of as great magnitude as this was the Macdonald College at St. Anne's near Montreal. This building took five years to complete, while the present work is to be completed in two years.

The work is being done under the supervision of Superintendent Richards, acting for the board of trustees. He also superintended the work on the Macdonald College.

Superintendent Richards says there may be other buildings in the Dominion that contain as many bricks, but there have not all been constructed at one time.
